Cox Asks Root to Retract False Utterance on League

CELEBRATION PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY MADE BY COMMITTEE

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM WITH A BASKET PICNIC OUTLINED BY COMMERCIAL CLUB
COMMITTEE.

Armistice Day will be celebrated in Cameron and all Milam county is invited to participate.

Plans for the celebration of the day have been completed as far as possible at this time. It will be the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which concluded the war between the Allies and the Central Powers and marks the triumph in which American arms played so gallant a part.

All soldiers of the world war and their families will be asked to attend the celebration and to take a part in the exercises that are to honor those who made victory possible.

Dr. James Watson has been selected as general chairman of the committees serving in completing the plans for the celebration.

It is planned to hold the exercises and serve lunch in the city park in Cameron. Patriotic addresses will be made and a general good program with music arranged.

The committees are: Dr. James Watson, chairman; Jim Baskin, T. S. Henderson, Jr., B. P. Atkinson, Dr. Tom Denson, W. G. Gillis, W. F. Sharpe, Oxsheer Smith, J. C. Tucker, E. A. Wallace, Woman's Committee selected by Mrs. Sue Baskin; Mrs. Roy Jeter, Mrs. Pearl Clement, Mrs. T. S. Henderson, Sr., Mrs. Lula Gillis, Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Mrs. Robert McLane, Mrs. Lena Baskin, Mrs. U. S. Hearrell, Mrs. Sue Baskin, Miss Winnie Henderson, Miss Etna Smith.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 20.—Governor Cox tonight sent a telegram to Elihu Root, asking him to "correct" what the democratic candidate declared was a "false" statement in Mr. Root's address yesterday regarding the governor's position upon the League of Nations issue. The governor denied Mr. Root's statement that he demands the league "just as Mr. Wilson negotiated it" and called upon Mr. Root for a retraction.

In making public his telegram to Mr. Root, Governor Cox issued a statement declaring that Mr. Root and thirty other prominent republicans signing the recent statement in behalf of Senator Harding, were "attempting to deceive the voters because they are permitting their partisanship to rise above their patriotism and trusting perhaps that the last wobble of Senator Harding may be in their direction." The Governor's telegram follows:

Text of Telegram.

"Elihu Root, New York City.
"I have before me a quotation from your address on the League of Nations delivered in New York October 19 which reads: 'Mr. Cox declared that he will insist upon the treaty just as Mr. Wilson has negotiated it.' I am addressing you most respectfully with recognition of your integrity of purpose and the signal service which you have rendered as a public man, mindful of the fact that you may have fallen into error through ignorance of the situation, owing to your absence from the United States during a part of the presidential campaign. Your statement, however, is not in keeping with the facts which you are assumed to know by perusal of daily papers. I have invariably stated in my addresses and re-state here, my whole-hearted desire to make the United States a member of the League of Nations and that to secure that consummation of the purpose of America when she entered the war, I will accept reservations that will clarify; that will be helpful; that will reassure the American people; and that, as matter of good faith, will clearly state to our associates in the league that congress and congress alone, has the right to declare war, and that our constitution sets up limits to legislation or treaty-making beyond which we cannot go. I have stated further that I will accept reservations from any source which are offered in sincerity and with a desire to be helpful.

Reiterates Policy.

"I have also stated that if I am elected president, my election can be construed only as a mandate of the American people; and that to secure league, I would sit down with the members of the United States Senate; I would confer with Mr. Wilson and with you, Mr. Root, as well as with Judge Taft and all others who have a sincere purpose and whose service in the past equip them especially as advisers in this work. You know, and know full well that Senator Harding very recently said: 'I am not interested in clarifications; I am interested in rejection.' As I have stated at the beginning, I am placing a charitable construction upon your statement that perhaps your partisanship has prevented your reading my addresses and your prejudice has prevented you from realizing the destructionist attitude of your own candidate; but you have made a statement concerning me, which the records show is false and I firmly, but respectfully, call upon you to correct this statement at once. Mr. Root, you have arrived at honorable station in life. Many people trust you. You have no right to deceive them. They want the truth in this campaign. Your conscience will tell you that duty to it should be superior to duty to your party.

(Signed) James M. Cox."

McPHERSON-BROWN.

On last Monday evening at eight o'clock in Cameron Mr. J. T. McPherson and Mrs. Martha Brown were quietly married by Rev. Ira F. Key, pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. McPherson is a traveling salesman. Their many friends here will be glad to learn of their marriage and to wish for them a life of happiness and prosperity.

PLOT TO WRECK BRITAIN BARED

NEW MODERN COMPRESS TO SPRING UP IN PATH OF FLAME

A new modern compress plant will be erected in Cameron by the Cameron Compress Company of which A. J. Dossett of Waco is the head.

Announcement of the plans of the company is made today by R. D. Brown, manager of the compress. Engineers are here today in conference with Mr. Brown to work out the plans for the erection of the new plant.

Mr. Brown states that he expects construction to start within the next 60 days.

The plant of the Cameron Compress Company was destroyed by fire Sunday morning, October 10th, and with it 5,000 bales of cotton and valuable rolling stock belonging to the Santa Fe and Sap railroads. The loss was estimated to have been $1,000,000.

The new compress will be built along more modern lines and is to incorporate all of the improved facilities on the market for compressing cotton. The new plant will spring up in the path of flames which destroyed the old. It will be the greatest asset in years in handling cotton.

Cotton concentrated at Cameron now must be shipped to other points for compressing as no facilities are available for compressing the cotton here and the new plant is completed. The new plant will be completed in time for the next crop of cotton.

No estimate is yet available on the cost of the new plant but it will be the most modern in Central Texas.

There has been comparatively little interest shown in the coming election until the last few days when Democratic leaders in the county have inaugurated a speaking campaign and committees working to rouse the voters to the necessity of paying the new poll tax levy and casting a vote in November.

If you have not paid your poll tax do so today. Tomorrow will be too late.

Mrs. H. A. Terrell left Tuesday for her home in San Marcos after a visit with Mrs. W. A. Beal.

BOND DEBT LIFTED FROM COURT HOUSE AND JAIL

The financial condition of Milam county with respect to its bonded indebtedness and the retirement of bonds as shown in the statement of County Auditor Giles L. Avriett made to the commissioners court give fine evidence of an efficient and wise policy and is proof of valuable public service well rendered by the auditor as well as the county judge and commissioners.

By the aid of an economical policy during the period of war and inflated prices the court with the auditor were able to maintain the county and to keep up improvements on the general revenues without bonding the county.

In the payment of bonded indebtedness the county has been able to save money because it draws only 3 1/4 per cent on funds in the depositories and is forced to pay five per cent on the bonded indebtedness.

It is doubtful if any county in the state is able to show a better or even as good condition with respect to its bonded indebtedness at the present time. This measure of public service and scrupulous attention to the public business will not pass unnoticed by the citizenship.

*Following is the report in full:

On last Friday at a regular meeting of the commissioners court of Milam county, $8,000 of jail bonds and $15,000 court house bonds were redeemed and cancelled by the court. This $23,000 in jail and court house bonds were issued in 1895 and represent the last indebtedness against the Milam county jail and court house.

The following statement has been compiled by Giles L. Avriett, county auditor, showing the general county bonded indebtedness at the present time compared with the statement compiled by the Audit and Bonding Company, showing the bonded indebtedness of date January 6th, 1917.

TOTAL GENERAL COUNTY BONDS OUTSTANDING OF DATE OCTOBER 15, 1920, AMOUNTS TO $58,062.50, AS COMPARED TO $165,872.50 OF DATE JANUARY 6TH, 1917.

While the general county bonds outstanding amount to $58,062.50, yet there is a credit in the sinking funds of the above issues the sum of $14,450.76, and this deducted from $58,062.50 leaves a net general county bonded indebtedness of Milam county of date October 15th, 1920, the sum of $43,611.74.

Since January 6th, 1917, there has been issued by the court one bridge repair bond in the sum of $1,990, as above shown.

STOCK SHOW WILL BE HELD IN CITY LATE IN NOVEMBER

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL PROMOTE INTEREST IN STOCK RAISING IN MILAM COUNTY BY EXHIBITS.

Cameron's First Annual Fat Stock Show and Exhibit will be held late in November of this year.

This was decided at the meeting of the Commercial Club held Tuesday night. W. M. Cobb, chairman of the committee to arrange for the show, made a report to the meeting and gave the conclusions reached by the committee previously appointed to look into the feasibility of staging the show. After the report it was decided to hold the show late in November, the exact date and time to be settled later.

The show will be for one day only as this is the first show and facilities are not available at this time for taking care of the stock for two or three days.

A number of places are available for the show and the best and most handy will be selected by the committee.

This is perhaps the most beneficial movement undertaken in recent months by the Commercial Club and will result in great benefits among the stock raising farmers of Milam county. It will do much good to promote a better grade of livestock and will introduce to a greater extent the breeds of live stock best suited for the county and most profitable to raise and market.

Cash premiums for all classes of entries in the show will be paid. The committee is as follows: W. M. Cobb, chairman; George T. Graves, B. P. Atkinson, R. R. Tyson and George Banzhaf.

IRISH QUESTION IS ROCKING EMPIRE AND STRIKE IS AIDING UNREST

London, Oct. 20.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief Secretary for Ireland, this afternoon alleged that "a deliberate and highly paid conspiracy is in existence to smash the British Empire."

Sir Hamar Greenwood made this declaration in the House of Commons, when discussion was opened on the Irish question.

"I would rather see the railways of Ireland closed down for 100 years than yield to the demands of the men, so long as the men refuse to transport British soldiers," said the Irish Secretary.

LACK OF 25 CENTS

By NATALIE J. HOYT.

It was the latter part of a hot afternoon on one of the bare yet cluttered streets east of Third avenue. At a basement window stood a little old woman looking anxiously up the street toward the corner, straining her eyes to pierce the heavy yellow haze.

A fire escape jutted out in front of her and hung down the face of the building, partially obstructing her view, so that she did not see him as he shambled down the street, keeping as close as possible to the buildings for the scant protection they afforded from the sun.

He came up the rickety stairs, opened the battered door with a key from his pocket, and stepped into the room. Still she did not hear him, through the noise of elevated androlley and children in the streets.

"Mary!" She turned, half-startled, wholly relieved and came toward him. She may no longer have had hope, but she still had him!

He kissed her and went over to the rickety old couch and sat down—a very rickety old man. She seated herself beside him, laying her hand soothingly on his knee, observing with unarticulate misery the strained face and hopeless attitude.

"It's no use, Mary!"

She did not seek to question or deny—just sat close to him, gently patting his knee.

"Three months now I have been at it—day in and day out. But who'd have a poor old horse like me? How do they know it ain't drink or good-for-nothingness that's brought me where I am? And even sickness is just as bad. What d'they want with an old man who's been sick—and shows it?"

Silence, his big hand now laid over hers.

"Milly and Dan," he rambled on again. They've been keepin' us all this time—think of it, Mary!

"But what could we do, Tom?" she interrupted hopelessly. "Milly wouldn't hear to our goin' to the almshouse."

"God help us, no! I wa'n't thinkin' of that. Don't you know they'd separate us there! There's a better way than that. You see, Mary, as I look at it we ain't entitled to more'n one life apiece, and for three months now you an' me's been poachin' on somebody else's." He looked at her, half humorously, half pityingly. "Would you be afraid, Mary—with me?"

She began to comprehend and a shiver passed through her. "You mean—you mean—"

"Wouldn't it be better'n to live apart, you an' me—who ain't never been separated for over 60 years?"

"Yes—oh, yes!" she murmured. He turned her face up to his, looking into her eyes. "Tell me—you ain't afraid, my girl—with me?"

"No, Tom, I ain't afraid—to go anywhere with you!"

Meanwhile in the flat upstairs as though spreading their more youthful and sturdier wings protectively over the old people—lived the daughter and son-in-law. Here, some time later in the afternoon, the younger generation was likewise intent on discussing the great question of ways and means. But their faces were aglow with new hope and purpose.

"An' now, Milly, old girl," Dan exclaimed triumphantly, "you an' the little kid can go to the country an' take your blasted old fresh air cure!"

"Oh, Dan, ain't it grand!" she repeated for the hundredth time. "But just wait till I tell ma an' pa," she looked at him proudly, "that you been made a foreman! Didn't I always say 'twas comin' to you? They ain't talked much about it, Dan, but they been frettin' mighty bad to think you've had to take care of 'em. It's been eatin' the very heart out o' poor pa—with me an' little Kitty sick especially. I just can't wait to tell 'em you've got some real pay comin' to you now, an' that I need 'em—as bad as they ever did us—to look after you an' the other kids while me an' Kitty's away. Come on—let's go down now!"

In buoyant spirits the door below the rickety stairs to the door below and tried the knob, then rapped—waited, and rapped again. But there was neither sound nor stir within.

With the dawning of fear in her eyes, Milly looked at her husband. "Ma wouldn't 've gone out without callin' up to me!"

Dan's face was set and he began to pound the door, that soon gave before his kicks and blows. A burst of heavy, nauseous air assailed them.

With instant command of the situation Dan seized the panic-stricken Milly, looking her in the eye—and spoke sharply. "Don't lose your nerve now! Open the windows wide, quick! I'll get an ambulance."

The young surgeon set to work with a will, enlisting the services of Dan and Milly by his brief, sharp orders.

"Any hope?" whispered Dan. "It doesn't seem as if there could have been a full flow of gas here," replied the young doctor. "I guess the meter must have run out."

Milly looked from the intern's face into her husband's.

"Dan! Just to think! An' I suppose poor pa didn't have another quarter to put in it!"

The young surgeon smiled up at them both.

GOVERNOR COX'S RECORD OF LEGISLATION.

In his three terms as chief executive of Ohio, Governor Cox brought about the enactment of the following laws. It is a record undisputable and carries with it an unanswerable argument for the woman's vote.

Labor Reforms.

Extra provision for dependents of men killed in mines.

Elimination of sweat shop labor.

Minimum wage and a shorter work day for women.

Modification of child laws, with establishment of child welfare departments.

Compulsory provision for mothers' pensions.

Social Service.

Laws to provide against adulteration of foodstuffs and to prevent combination to fix prices.

Establishment of State tuberculosis hospital and district hospitals throughout the state by county action.

Adoption of health code, with special appropriation to combat epidemics and contagious diseases.

Formation of a state-wide social agency committee, bringing into mutual operation all recognized social agencies of the state (the only one of its kind in the Union) having complete co-operation with state departments. (Other states are accepting this as a model.)

Recommendation and passage of state legislation for woman suffrage. (Now pending under referendum.)

Educational.

Additional pay for teachers.

Consolidated schools in excess of 1,200, with full high school courses, have supplanted more than five times that number of one-room school houses.

To meet emergencies, provision has been made for State aid to weak school districts, so that the educational facilities of Ohio rural communities are equal to the best in the city.

Establishment of courts of domestic relations in larger counties of the state.

"CAVEMAN" STUFF ALL RIGHT

At Least, One Indiana Man Is Satisfied With the Way It Worked in His Particular Case.

Now, she is a very sarcastic young woman, and the man who wishes to marry her is often much tormented with her ability to say things which make him distinctly uncomfortable. One night one of his friends and he decided to go to a picture house and there they saw a play in which the caveman stuff was exceedingly strong. Evidently that gave the young man an inspiration, for the next cutting remark the young woman made he resented.

He had come to take her for a drive. After getting her safely settled in his car and having placed a large box of candy in her lap he settled down for a pleasant evening. But not long. The young woman could not stand his ease. She deliberately opened her box, took out a bonbon, nibbled at it a minute and then said in icy tones: "Why, this candy is stale."

At first the young man felt inclined to writhe, but the next minute the caveman stuff of the movie darted into his mind. He did what he thought was a real rough act. He seized that beautiful box of candy and threw it as far as he could.

For a long time there was silence. Then the girl began the conversation. And this time she spoke meekly and in "honeyed" tones. She is still speaking in the same way whenever she is with him.—Indianapolis News.

-MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, says a noted authority, day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the

MUSHROOMS OF ALL SORTS

Edible and Poisonous, While One Species, Grown in Africa, Is Worshipped as a God.

In or about the edges of woods one occasionally comes across an unpleasant-looking umbrella-shaped mushroom with a red or orange-colored top that is covered with a slimy exudation. Now and then, strange to say, people eat it. They die.

Its slime is very attractive to flies. They gather upon it, and they die. In Europe this species of mushroom is used as a substitute for fly-paper.

The horrible-smelling "clathrus" mushroom is believed in France to cause cancer. French people call it the "cancer mushroom." Another species, which grows on olive trees, is so luminous at night that one can see to read by it.

Other kinds of mushrooms are used for making ink, for stanching the flow of blood and (in Lapland) for killing bedbugs. A European species is employed to stupefy bees, and certain "puffballs" are said to have anesthetic properties. Tribes of semi-savages in northeastern Asia utilize a mushroom for snuff. But most curious of all is the Polyporus sacer, which in Africa is worshipped as a god.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

night. To cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

THE "OLD RELIABLE"
THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also assists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities.

Synopsis of Speech of SENATOR MCGREGOR at Waco

He began his speech presenting the necessity of a government. Then he showed the purpose of government, saying that it was to define and secure rights, not to confer them. To preserve and insure the liberty of man, not to enlarge it. He based his statement on the declaration that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, and that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

He stated that government was a science just as is architecture, and that a misapplication of its principles will weaken and destroy it just as a misapplication of the principles of architecture will weaken and destroy the building which the architect is constructing. Applying these principles he showed the character of the state government as being a republic, and the national government as being a republic of a republic.

Taking up the cost of government he said we buy our government just as we do the other necessities of life and that we ought to get our money's worth, and that we ought not to have to buy more than we need or something that the government ought not to do as government. He said that it was a democratic principle that there should be economy of the expenditure of the public money, that the burdens of government might fall lightly upon labor. But notwithstanding this fact, the democratic party of Texas has carried on a saturnalia of taxation and extortion and riot of waste and extravagance in this state that is unparalleled and showed that it had forgotten and abandoned the old democratic principles.

He declared the legislature had increased the salary, by indirection and in violation of the constitution, of every constitutional officer in the executive branch of the government, by adding traveling expenses to such salary; that to the constitutional officers they had added more than twenty-five boards, bureaus and commissions with numberless employees; that they had allowed these board traveling expenses in addition to their salary amounting to nearly a million dollars. He said that any of these boards could be abolished and if he was elected governor, he would abolish the pure food and drug department, and told how he would do it, thereby saving $109,900.00 to the state. He said he would abolish the marketing and warehouse department with its appropriation of $173,000; forty-eight thousand of which is available for traveling expenses. He said he would abolish the Reclamation Department with its $55,000 expenses; the Industrial Welfare Commission with its $27,000 appropriation; the Board of Water Engineers with its $103,000 appropriation, and several other boards, as well as the fourteen sub-experimental stations carrying an appropriation of $181,000.

He said these fourteen sub-experimental stations were fourteen little farms in high state of cultivation, fenced and cross fenced, provided with a nice house and other buildings, with tools, implements, stock and feed, and were allowed from $1700 to $2,200 for labor and some friends of the governor were given $1,800 to live on these little farms and teach the farmers of Texas how to farm. He said if he was elected he would bunch these 14 different institutions and put them out of business. His declarations on these lines undoubtedly, met with the unanimous and hearty approval of his audience.

Mr. McGregor went into the matter and reviewed to his audience how the state gets money to pay her bills by taxing the citizens. Then he showed this money was taken to Austin and drawn out of the treasury to pay traveling expenses, both in and out of the state. He declared that one employee had gone to California and had spent a month, and came back and the state paid the expenses of the trip, being $549.20. He said that this man spent $114 of the people's money for a place to sleep for eight nights, or $14.25 a night.

He declared other employees had taken trip after trip out of the state on so-called official business and had spent the people's money in the same way. He said if he was elected governor, and the employees left the state, that they would have to walk, and while gone would have to stay awake as he would veto any character of appropriation of such trip.

He declared that the Agricultural Department is allowed $310,944, of which $121,000 may be used for traveling expenses. He analyzed this last amount and said that a man could go around the world 161 times on it. He said if he was elected he would veto any appropriation for the Agricultural Department, and that the A. & M. College ought to function that department on the appropriation which it now has.

He then presented that the Comptroller's department was allowed $16,000, the Agricultural Department, $10,000 and other departments large sums, which might be used for stamps. He said this money could be drawn out of the Treasury for stamps and that was the last record as to what became of it. He said that the Agricultural department drew $400 in August, the Comptroller's department $300 and the Market and Warehouse Department $600, or $1,500 for these departments. At two cents each this was enough money to carry 75,000 letters. He then asked his audience if any of them received a letter from either of these departments during the month of August. He said if he was elected governor, he would ask the legislature to pass a bill requiring all mail in the capital to be mailed out of the Secretary of State's office, being stamped in that office and the record of the mail from each department being kept daily. This he declared would alone save this state thousands of dollars.

McGregor next took up the highway Department and presented that its office pay roll for the month of January was $11,866.66. This was for salaries only in the office, one man the highway engineer, being paid a salary of $10,000 a year. He said that the Highway Department has in operation thirty-one automobiles, being kept up and operated at the expense of the state. The commissioner in Austin drives a Hudson six that the state owns and the people pay for his gasoline and oil. The commissioner from San Antonio and the one from Bosque each drive a Buick six, belonging to the state. The other twenty-one cars are being run by different employees of the department, and the people are paying the gasoline bills. He said there were over a hundred cars being operated at the expense of the state and that he would ask the legislature to concentrate them and sell them and turn the money into the Treasury, and if they refused to do so, that he would veto the purchase of a pint of gasoline with which to run them as he was going to stop officials joy-riding in Texas.

He said he would veto any appropriation for the highway department and would have the Railroad Commission to function that department. He said that he favored an automobile tax as now levied, but that he wanted it all to go to the county in which the automobile was licensed.

Mr. McGregor said the University greatest institutions in the country of Texas could be made one of the on much less money than it is now getting, and that he would veto any appropriation therefor exceeding $500,000. He said the University received under Governor Campbell for four years $690,000. Under Colquitt for four years it received $1,300,000. Under Ferguson for two years it received $1,200,000 while under Hobby it received $3,415,151.00, or more than a tenth of the entire ad valorem revenue of this state.

He said by eliminating duplicated chairs in the University and the A. & M. College and by making the law and the medical department, and professional departments self-sustaining it could operate on $500,000 and have its available fund left intact for all building purposes.

Touching the eleemosynary institutions he said he wrote the two bills under which the Carlsbad Tuberculosis Sanitarium and the school for the blind were built, and that he would see that they were provided with adequate revenue to run them as he would for all such other institutions in the state. The other high educational institutions should receive appropriation consistent with the state's other obligations. He gave considerable attention to public schools questions of the state, and said he would quit feeding so many office holders we could educate more children. He wanted the 50,000 children who are not now going to school in Texas for the want of facilities to be immediately provided for and the 2,000 school houses which are now closed for the want of teachers to be immediately opened to the children of the state.

SPECIAL SESSIONS

The Constitution limits the right of the governor to call the legislature together in extra session to extraordinary occasions. This also will mean that when they are so called that there should only be submitted to them matters of impending public necessity. I will observe this Constitutional limitation.

"The too frequent convening and prolonged extra sessions of the legislature has become a prolific source of expense to the state which calls for an observance of the constitutional limitation dealing with extra sessions."

MR. NEFF.

A governor's conception of government should be in accord with the particular form of government which he is to administer. A Democrat and not a socialist should preside over a democracy. It is the way man thinks about government that makes him either a real democrat or a socialist. If he has democratic thoughts and ideas he is a democrat. If he has socialistic visions and dreams he is a socialist and taking away from him of a land plank and electing him governor on so-called democratic ticket will not make him a democrat. As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. When Mr. Neff announced for governor, he said he wanted somebody to have a home—that he wanted to bring together the landless man and the manless land. When I read that announcement I thought he is a philanthropist and must be reckoned with. Then I read further and saw how he proposed to get the landless man and the manless land together by confiscating one man's property and giving it to another and then I thought, "No, he is not a philanthropist, he is a socialist." Then Senator Bailey took that land plank and made a paddle of it and spanked Mr. Neff all over Texas with it.

But still Mr. Neff beat Mr. Bailey, thousands of people voting for him because of that land plank and because they believed in it. But no sooner was he nominated than he abandoned his land plank and forgot and deserted those who had voted for him on account of it. And then I said, "No, he is not a socialist, he is just plain quitter. He never presented his land plank to the committee on resolutions nor to the convention, but deserted and abandoned it. When he did that, when he forsook his only plank of a platform on which he had been nominated and surrendered to that convention he released from the pledge every man who had taken part in primary election whether they voted for or against him. He having broken faith with the people by a complete surrender of the victory they had won they are not now bound morally or legally to vote for him and will not do so in November."

Prior to the first primary Mr. Neff charged the Hobby administration with high crimes and misdemeanors and yet when the Fort Worth convention endorsed the Hobby administration blue ridge and all Mr. Neff blandly smiled and said "it is a beautiful platform" and took his position on it. But this was too much for the Dallas News and it petulently said editorially to Mr. Neff: "No, it is not a beautiful platform and even if it is pretty you did not contribute to its beauty."

Poor Pat he has had a hard time in life which may account, in a measure, for his bad memory as to this first of the three important dates in a man's life. You know Dr. Brooks said of him he was not like other boys.

He never baited a fishing hook,
Nor spit upon a worm,
Nor loitered by a brook,
And caught the liar's germ.

He never got up with the sun
To greet a waking world,
He never fired a single gun,
And never hugged a girl.
He never swore an oath they say,
Nor did a single sin,
He has a heart as cold as clay,
He's out of touch with men.

If what he said about himself right after the election when he said that he owed it to his friends to tell them the truth about his age is true, then he was not even like other girls. He never had any paper dolls, nor pretty pictures nor play houses—he never even had a birthday cake with candles on it so he could tell how old he was.

No card carrying labor man can afford to vote for Mr. Neff because he has declared that he favors the establishment of an Industrial Court which means compulsory arbitration, if there can be such a thing. He favors the Kansas Industrial Court law which denies to labor the right to contract as to the hours, conditions and wages of labor.

No employer of labor can afford to vote for a man for governor who favors such a law for it denies to the employer the right of contract and opens the door to the confiscation of his property.

After Mr. Neff had denounced Mr. Bailey and all of his friends for everything of which he could conceive he persistently challenged Senator Bailey for a joint debate which Senator Bailey under the circumstances very properly declined to accept, because such debate he said "would culminate in disorder," meaning of course that it would break up in a rough house. Now you have not heard of Mr. Neff challenging me for a joint debate and if he does so he will "get action for his money," right regardless of whether such debate "culminates in disorder" or ends in a prayer meeting.

If you want to vote the democratic ticket and at the same time vote for me you can do so by simply running a pencil through Mr. Neff's name and writing mine in. But the better way to do it would be to vote the American party ticket straight and help us to effect a radical and beneficial change in conditions in Texas.

MR. CULBERTSON.

Why vote for Mr. Culbertson for governor of Texas and lose your only vote. So if Mr. Culbertson were to get all of the Republican votes he could not win. As there are two Republican tickets on the ballot Mr. Culbertson will not get half of the Republican vote. As the black and tan outnumber the lilly white, so why vote for him and lose your vote? Why not vote with the American party and beat the Democratic machine in Texas. But if you are going to vote the regular ticket anyhow just to be regular, then scratch Mr. Culbertson's name out and write mine in and I will beat Mr. Neff regardless of whether he is 47 or 48 years old.

THE WOMEN'S VOTE

The women of Texas ought to vote for me for Governor for I have been responsible for more legislation of which they approve than any other two men in the public life of this state.

On the 16th day of January, 1913, as shown by the Senate Journal I introduced into the Texas Senate the first resolution that was ever submitted to that body to let the women of Texas vote. I forced that resolution to a vote by the senate when I received eight affirmative votes, being the first time that any such resolution had ever been voted on by either branch of the Texas Legislature. I re-introduced the resolution in January, 1915, secured a favorable report thereon and held it in suspense at the request of the authors of a similar resolution then pending in the House.

suffrage was to grant state suffrage and this I tried to do by my resolution. Had my resolution passed and we never would have surrendered the right adopted by the people of Texas right of the state to control the suffrage of the citizens. Some people do not seem to understand the difference between state woman's suffrage and national woman's suffrage. The difference is as radical as the difference between a man giving his wife a hat and some other fellow giving her one. The state had the legal right to confer suffrage while the federal government usurped the right to do so and thereby destroyed the right of the state in this great question affecting the autonomy of the state.

Another law which I wrote and as a private citizen passed through the Legislature was the bill under which the Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Carlsbad was constructed. I never doubt every woman in Texas approves that measure. Consumption has waged an insidious, silent and successful war on mankind through all the ages of the earth. In every era, in every clime it has pursued a cruel, constant and ceaseless course. No race of men or women have been immune from its pallid touch. It has subdued the strong frame of the savage and touched the beauty of civilization's cheek with the hectic flush of death. It has destroyed the strong and weak alike; it has said to the honored and aged: "lie down here," while in happy homes with its cold and clammy touch it has stilled the pattering of little feet. This pallid creature, this "pale death with impartial fate" knocks at the cottage door and the palace gate."

It has stripped royalty of its jewels and purple and gold, and poverty of its rags and laid them down in the dark damp grave together. It has indeed, been no respecter of persons—its victims sleep prematurely in the shade of Hawthorne trees and rest untimely in the bosom of marble mountains. It has filled the homes of wealth with unspeakable grief and sorrow and tears; while the cottages of the poor it has desolated and filled with unutterable misery. It has sat down the spectre of every feast, and its hacking and crackling cough has marred the melody and broken the music of the world.

Wherever death has ridden upon its white horse, this pale, insatiable lieutenant has rallied its cruel, invisible hosts against men, and has brought more want and woe, grief and sorrow, misery and death than all the wars and famine and pestilences in the history of the world.

Against the constant and recurring attacks of this awful disease man has stood a helpless and hopeless victim. Science for a long time too, baffled and abashed, while love ministered to her loved ones, conscious that there was no relief. But after the long struggle through the dark hours of all the recurring years science, intelligence, experience has triumphed over the "white plague" and we have begun a warfare which will eventually drive it from our state forever.

We are in the morning of a day it has been abundantly proven that consumption is both preventable and permanently curable. Not only have individuals, associations, and cities listed to drive this insidious destroyer from our midst, but the state has given evidence of her determination in this war on the enemy of mankind.

When I went before the Legislature and asked them to pass that bill I stated I had come for the old, whose stooped and shrunken shoulders speak long and constant pain, and whose crackling cough sounds even in life the hollow echoes of the tomb. That I had come for the middle aged, too often the very flower of the citizenship of the state, whose recurring temperature and quick breath speaks the presence of the world's greatest enemy, whose spectre is the skeleton of their every feast. That I had come also for the motherhood of Texas, whose shrunken and pale face makes a veritable melody of misery as she lays her withered hands with enlarged ligaments and swollen veins upon the heads of little children whose early orphanage the state could prevent. That I had come for the young manhood of Texas and for her boys, the highest and best type of the mental and moral citizenship of the world the hope and promise of the state, even upon some of whom the White Plague has set its seal, while the hectic flush of death blooms upon their cheeks. That I had come for the girls of Texas, the sweetest flowers that bloom on all her prairies or blossom in all her valleys, whose exquisite beauty charms and whose virgin purity casts its refining radiance into all our homes, and yet too often their frail and cultured forms feel the touch of the White Destroyer and on their ruby lips blazes the carmine hue of death. That I had come for little babes who pillowd upon their mothers' bosoms draw infection from the fountain of life. And representing all of these I had come to make an appeal through the Legislature to the great heart of Texas.

Texas heard my appeal and gave us that splendid institution yonder at Carlsbad as an earnest of what she will yet do. We dedicated it to all the people of Texas as to the source of sunshine, or happiness, or returning strength and health and beauty, and consecrated it with the prayer that its blessings might reach throughout all the earth. I know that every woman in Texas approves that act of mine.

As a member of the Texas Senate I introduced and forced the passage of the McGregor-Colquitt bill which authorizes the counties of this state to erect hospitals for the sick afflicted, and impoverished. Many of the counties in Texas have taken advantage of the provisions of this bill and built such hospitals. The name under which this bill was enacted is that of Mrs. O. B. Colquitt, the wife of the Ex-Governor, she having conceived the terms, purpose and scope of the bill and I introduced it and passed it at her request. As these institutions go up over the state, they will become monuments to this splendid act and to the memory of one of the best women who ever occupied the Governor's mansion.

I made a campaign of the state in the fall of 1917 and the spring of 1914 asking the people of this state to build a new blind school. I wrote the demand therefor in the El Paso platform and in 1915 I wrote and forced the passage of the bill under which the present school for the blind was built. The old school had been built in 1856 and had been added to from time to time and was a veritable fire trap, yet it was the home of more than 400 blind children. It would have burned in an hour had it caught fire. I was not only anxious to build for these children a home of safety, but I wanted to do more and we built for them the best and most modern school for the blind in America, and every bling child of scholastic age in Texas ought to be in that institution. Why should we not do something for them? These little children have so little. For them there are no tops nor marbles, no pretty pictures, no paper dolls, no play houses. For them there are no shifting seasons. For them there is no vernal spring whose bursting bud and bloom and flower foretells autumn's harvest home. For them there is no gorgeous, golden summer. No varied and visible autumn, whose royal colors of purple, and scarlet and gold tint hill and valley plain and prairie and make a panorama of perfect beauty out of whose dead forgetmenots will come the modest violets of the returning spring time teaching the lesson that through death comes life. For them there is no winter whose mantling snow and crystal ice make this world a sparkling jewel in nature's wondrous crown.

For them there is no recurring morning with rosy fingers to let the sun in. No glorious noon whose resplendent sun crystalizes a million mysteries. No floating clouds, no bow of promise when the storms have passed away. No slow descending sun which lies down upon a bed of dying glories to watch the world to sleep. No soft twilight, no pale moon, no trembling stars, but all is darkness, darkness as black as the ebon pall of the dead. For this official act I know that I have received the gratitude of these little children and the prayers of their mothers in the stillness of the night.

I believe we take out of government those things which we put in government. I have therefore sought to contribute to that legislation which benefits and blesses mankind and for these reasons I believe that the women of Texas should vote for me for governor.

It means a government which founded upon the theory of existant rights of individuals, the right of private property and the great personal rights of the citizen. Americanism means the freedom of religion with the separation of Church and State; the freedom of the press; the right to contract and to be protected in the contract made; the right to acquire and own property; the right to invoke the due process of law in every walk of life, with the attendant right to demand that the government guarantee and secure these rights in all their detail.

Americanism means a government founded upon Magna Charta, wrested from King John at Runnymede, which English civilization protested for all time to come against any tyrannical invasion of the rights of the individual and announced the doctrine of the largest amount of liberty consistent with the safety of the whole and the freedom and happiness of the individual.

Americanism means that the purpose of government is to define and secure rights already existing—not to confer them; to preserve and insure the liberty of the individual citizen, not to enlarge not to limit it. It means that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." This is the whole purpose of government—this is the essence of our Americanism. This purpose and its spirit find expression in the Bill of Rights which is the basis of the federal as well as of every state constitution in this Union and is controlling upon every court, every legislature, every executive and every citizen in this country.

Americanism means a representative government whose representatives reflect and execute the people's will. A simple economical government by law and not a complex government by boards, bureaus and commissions harassing the people and destroying their liberties while they burden and eat up the substance of the people with grievous and extortionate taxes. It means a system of government which will not tolerate a tyrant whether in the form of autocracy or democracy. Our constitution was established and our government was chartered in order to create a government free from the evils of tyranny in any form and from any source. It means that the functions of government should be applied for governmental purposes only, within constitutional confines and that the field of industry and enterprise should be left to the private individual. It means that the limitations of the functions of government is the protection of the citizen in his life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It means that this is a government of laws and not of men; that the duties of every officer in this country state and nation are defined by law and that his powers are limited by the constitution which must and shall all time prevail. Failure to recognize this principle in our government will lead either to the tyranny and oppression of a centralized and strong government, or to paternalism of an insidious and destroying socialism. The one is the tyranny of the executive; the other is the rule of the mob, the parent of anarchy, either of which is destructive of the government order which we desire. The one makes its approach through executive usurpation, the other comes with the creation of boards, bureaus and commissions with discretionary powers.

Americanism means the preservation of our government in its theory and form by law, a government under which the individual of every class shall be protected in his property and personal rights, a government where the foundation law safeguarding these rights shall be consistently interpreted and surely enforced, a government where constitutional safeguards shall be preserved in all their efficiency and under which every individual in every community shall be secure against either direct or indirect violence, extortion or oppression. For these purposes was our government conceived and created. Out of this spirit was born Americanism. In the preservation of this purpose is involved, for weal or woe, the destiny of these republics constituting as they do a republic of republics.

The basic theory of this government dear to the heart of every patriot is that all government, state and national, shall confine its activities under the law, to the discharge of governmental functions and shall leave the field of industry and enterprise to the private individual. To secure these blessings provided for in the formation of our government, and to avert the evils existing and threatened, caused by a departure from its fundamental principles, there is but one remedy and that is to arouse the American people, in state and nation, and cause them to rally to their country's call and swing the government back to a republic, back to that Americanism which conceived, and founded it and under which is blessed its people and assumed its commanding position among the nations of the earth. This, and this alone, is Americanism, and to its preservation and perpetuation we pledge our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

Americanism means a government by law as contrasted with a government by autocracy, bureaucracy or by mob violence. It means a government by legislation which observes the rule established by the fundamental law,

It means a government which founded upon the theory of existant rights of individuals, the right of private property and the great personal rights of the citizen. Americanism means the freedom of religion with the separation of Church and State; the freedom of the press; the right to contract and to be protected in the contract made; the right to acquire and own property; the right to invoke the due process of law in every walk of life, with the attendant right to demand that the government guarantee and secure these rights in all their detail.

Americanism means that the purpose of government is to define and secure rights already existing—not to confer them; to preserve and insure the liberty of the individual citizen, not to enlarge not to limit it. It means that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." This is the whole purpose of government—this is the essence of our Americanism. This purpose and its spirit find expression in the Bill of Rights which is the basis of the federal as well as of every state constitution in this Union and is controlling upon every court, every legislature, every executive and every citizen in this country.

Americanism means a representative government whose representatives reflect and execute the people's will. A simple economical government by law and not a complex government by boards, bureaus and commissions harassing the people and destroying their liberties while they burden and eat up the substance of the people with grievous and extortionate taxes. It means a system of government which will not tolerate a tyrant whether in the form of autocracy or democracy. Our constitution was established and our government was chartered in order to create a government free from the evils of tyranny in any form and from any source. It means that the functions of government should be applied for governmental purposes only, within constitutional confines and that the field of industry and enterprise should be left to the private individual. It means that the limitations of the functions of government is the protection of the citizen in his life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It means that this is a government of laws and not of men; that the duties of every officer in this country state and nation are defined by law and that his powers are limited by the constitution which must and shall all time prevail. Failure to recognize this principle in our government will lead either to the tyranny and oppression of a centralized and strong government, or to paternalism of an insidious and destroying socialism. The one is the tyranny of the executive; the other is the rule of the mob, the parent of anarchy, either of which is destructive of the government order which we desire. The one makes its approach through executive usurpation, the other comes with the creation of boards, bureaus and commissions with discretionary powers.

BUCKHOLTS NEWS

By Audrey Criswell

Mr. Tom Williams of Walnut Springs is here to see his son, Mr. Harvey Williams and other relatives. Superintendent J. F. Chadwick and Mr. H. M. Hefley of Cameron were visitors to our school last week. Mr. Hefley presented the pupils with serviceable book covers as compliments of the First National Bank of Cameron. He made a short talk, emphasizing the necessity and advantage of learning thrift while still children.

The first number of the lyceum course will be given at the school auditorium Thursday night. Mr. H. V. Adams, the well known educator, will deliver a lecture. The White and Meyer Lyceum Bureau furnished this place with high class entertainment during last season and the people are eagerly awaiting the opening of the new season.

Mrs. Carol Adams was hostess last Friday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower given Miss Hope Blankenship. The guests spent a pleasant time in social intercourse and then the gifts were presented to the honoree. Many handsome and useful gifts were received, including a full china dinner set, a cut glass punch set, linens, and aluminum ware.

The following were in Rogers last week to attend the carnival at that place: Misses Rowena Buck, Bertha Criswell, Lucille Hooks, Leola Custard, and Messrs. Lawrence Swanzy, Clarence Raney, Condra Slone and John Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hill entertained a number of their friends Friday night at their attractive home about one mile north of town. The guests were amused by playing cards and games, and various contests, departing at a late hour and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Hill for the pleasant evening spent in their home.

Mrs. R. K. Marburger and daughter, Miss Fairy, spent the past week end at their home in Ben Arnold.

Miss Elsie Wendt left Sunday evening for Baskin, where she opened her school at that place on the following Monday.

Mr. George Goree attended the State Fair at Dallas last week.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Clarence Hopkins and Miss Hope Blankenship, both of this place, were married by Rev. F. O. Favre. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will make their home on the Bass farm near Buckholts. Their friends wish for them much happiness.

Miss Mary Newton who teaches in the Calvert school was here during the week end to see friends.

Mrs. S. Henderson and Miss Mamie Henderson of Louise were here last week to see Mesdames Tom Henderson and Tom Floyd.

The Crochet Club held an interesting meeting last week at the home of Mrs. S. M. Corley. The Club was reorganized with about twenty members present. A pleasant time was spent by the ladies. At the conclusion of the evening Mrs. Corley served punch and cake. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. E. J. Kahler.

Misses Ada Belle McGuire and Esther Fielder, assistant teachers in the

Ad Hall school were here Monday to see friends.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Beale a daughter.

BRANCHVILLE NOTES

The literary and civic club held one of the most interesting meetings of the season on Friday evening, October 15th. An unusual number of the members were present and each number of the program was responded to in an interesting manner. A two minute talk by each member added the amusement and new life to the meeting in which each took part and there were various kinds of speeches. The answer to roll call with a current event is another feature which creates enthusiasm.

Rev. Billy Read has resigned his pastorate of the Baptist church.

Rev. Ben Darby of Waco preached at the Baptist church last Sunday, October 17th.

The Methodist church, which is being repaired is nearing completion, and it is hoped will be ready for a fifth quarterly conference, which Dr. Tally, presiding elder, wishes to hold at this place about October 26th.

Mrs. A. J. Walker, who was badly injured in an auto accident is gradually improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Harlan, who were married only a few days past, are for the present making their home with Mr. Harlan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Smith and Mr. Woodfin Smith motored to Calvert Sunday afternoon to visit friends.

Rev. and Mrs. Graves Darby of Madisonville who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McIntosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Looney attended the funeral services of Mrs. Mayes at Maysfield, Sunday afternoon.

"BAYER CROSS" ON ASPIRIN

Always Ask for Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Only Aspirin Tablets with the safety "Bayer Cross" on them are genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," owned and made by Americans and proved safe by millions of people. Unknown quantities of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold recently by a Brooklyn dealer which proved to be composed mostly of Talcum Powder. "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" should always be asked for. Then look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on each tablet. Accept nothing else! Proper directions and dosage in each Bayer package.

"Eternal Vigilance Is the Price of Liberty"

TO MILAM COUNTY DEMOCRATS---MEN AND WOMEN:

The enemies of Democracy in Texas are trying to unite into one faction, misnamed "American Party," all dissatisfied elements, consisting, principally, of those of foreign birth, or foreign extraction, and the Socialists; and, through surreptitious bids for the negro vote, to defeat the Democratic party in State and county. The only tie that tends to bind these otherwise discordant elements is the hope to bring whiskey back.

The Democratic Party in the South is the White Man's Party.

SHALL DEMOCRACY RULE? OR SHALL THIS AMALGAMATION OF SOCIALISTS, FOREIGNERS AND NEGROES GOVERN?

Though numerically weak and sadly misguided the members of this so-called "American Party" are astir, and every last one of them will vote in the approaching election. Their only hope of success is that the Democrats, through over-confidence and lack of interest, will not go to the polls. Let not the Democrats play into their hands.

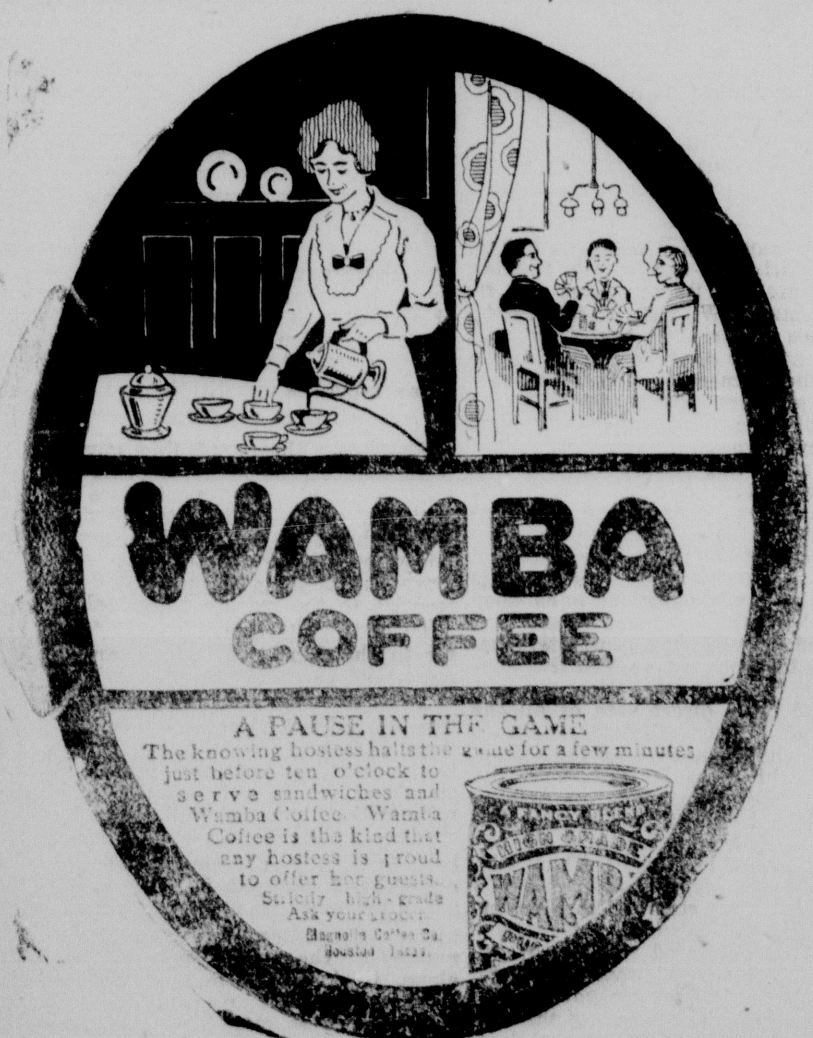

Every Democrat should vote. To fail is a grave mistake. Personal differences and preferences between Democrats were settled in the primaries. Now all of us must rally to the support of the common cause---Democratic Victory in Nation, in State and in County.

Texas Expects Every Democrat to Do His Duty.

This means that every man and woman of Democratic faith must attend the polls and vote on November 2nd.

Prominent New York Banker Says Aim Is 100% Relief of Starving Peoples.

"Just what is the Near East Relief? Is the question that many people are asking whose interests have been awakened to the terrible conditions existing in the Levant today," says Alexander J. Hemphill, President of the Guarantee Trust Company and well known New York banker and financier. "In prosaic facts, the Near East Relief is a body incorporated by act of Congress the object of which is to provide relief and to assist in the repatriation, rehabilitation and re-establishment of suffering and dependent people of the Near East and adjacent areas; to provide for the care of orphans and widows and to promote the social, economic and industrial well-

fare of those who have been rendered destitute or dependent, directly or indirectly, by the vicissitudes of war, the cruelties of men or other causes beyond their control.

100 Per Cent Relief.

"The aim of the organization is 100 per cent relief, the relief which puts those aided on a self-supporting basis, which instills in them a confidence for the future, places in their hands the means with which to begin life anew, and in their hearts the courage to go on. Work, that is the prescription subscribed and provided by those loyal men and women who have journeyed into perilous places for the sake of their fellow men; to make these people independent for the future, to encourage the flickering fire of national pride.

"There are 82,291 workers employed in the industrial establishments of the Near East Relief, where wool is furnished for the women to spin and weave, and all the girls who are strong enough are washing wool, sewing beds, grinding and sifting wheat, tailoring and learning to make lace. The big problem is to make these women independent.

"About 500 American men and women, Near East Relief workers, are now in the field, including 36 eminent physicians and surgeons, 76 nurses, 7 mechanics, 15 industrial experts, 16 agriculturists, 14 bacteriologists, 197 relief workers, 25 supply and transport workers, 19 teachers, 20 administrators, 34 secretaries, 7 engineers and 45 army officers.

Where Money Goes.

"Funds for relief purposes are distributed in two ways: First, the various relief centers are authorized by the Executive Committee to draw sight drafts on New York for specific amounts each month; second, by supplies purchased in America, the major portion of which are shipped to the committee warehouses at Derindje, and the remainder either to Beyrouth or Batoum.

According to Mr. Hemphill, the need for American help to see the destitute peoples of the Near East through the crisis of present conditions is greater now than ever before on account of the uncertainty as to the future, the truculence of the Turkish government and the danger of bolshevism from Russia, which threatens to engulf the whole of Armenia.

Who Direct the Work.

Mr. Hemphill is the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Near East Relief. Other members are Dr. James L. Barton, Secretary of the Foreign Department of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; Edwin M. Bulkley, banker, of Spencer Trask & Co., New York; Judge Abram I. Elkus, former United States Ambassador to Turkey; Harold A. Hatch, a well known New York cotton man; Herbert Hoover; William B. Millar, one of the Secretaries of the Interchurch World Movement; Henry Morgenthau, United States Ambassador to Mexico; Edgar Rickard of the American Relief Administration; Charles A. Vickrey, who is Secretary of the Near East Relief, and Dr. Stanley White, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

MRS. T. R. DEPEW DIES IN CAMERON

HAD RESIDED HERE ONLY SIX WEEKS PRECEDING ILLNESS WHICH RESULTED IN HER DEATH.

Mrs. Laura Depew, aged 33 years, wife of T. R. Depew, federal government cotton classifier in Cameron, died at the family residence in this city Saturday, October 16th at 12:30 p. m., after an illness of several days. Death resulted from pneumonia which developed from influenza.

Mrs. Depew is survived by her husband and four small children to whom the mother gave her last measure of strength in ministering to them during their illness as it was during this time that she contracted influenza. Of the children there are two boys and two girls, all small. Mrs. Depew had been in Cameron only six weeks when she contracted the illness that resulted in her death.

She was a native of Karnes county, having been reared in Runge. She was a devout member of the Methodist church and the funeral conducted in Cameron was held by Rev. Ira F. Key, pastor of the Methodist church in Cameron. She was a member of the Ward Memorial Methodist church in Austin and the Rev. Duke, pastor there, conducted the services. The body was shipped to Austin for burial.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 17.—Mrs. T. R. Depew, 33 years of age, died at Cameron, Texas, Saturday at 12:30 o'clock, according to information received in Austin by a brother of Mr. Depew Saturday. Deceased and her husband had lived in Austin for ten years and were well known here, but a few months ago removed to Cameron, at which place Mr. Depew is a government cotton classifier.

Aside from the widower, Mrs. Depew left four small children, two girls and two boys, the oldest of which, it was stated by Mr. Depew's brother, is but 8 years of age. Cause of death was pneumonia following influenza. Sympathy will naturally be extended the widower and the motherless children in their deep grief. The body of Mrs. Depew reached Austin early

Sunday morning, accompanied by the husband and friends, and interment was made in Oakwood Cemetery this afternoon. The funeral was held from the home of J. M. Owing, a brother of Mr. Depew, who lives at Ridgeway.

The body of Mrs. Depew was conveyed to Rockdale Sunday morning by Henne & Meyer undertaking establishment for shipment to Austin. The family accompanied the body in the special motor hearse provided by the undertakers.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the friends who came to us in our hour of trouble and sorrow, and contributed all that human kindness could suggest, to help and comfort we return most heartfelt thanks, and although such devoted friendship can not remove the sad memories that linger around our vacant chair, it brings into view the brightest side of humanity, and throws the pure light of an unselfish friendship into a darkened home.

May the day be far distant when those friends who gathered around us in the death and illness of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Laura Depew, will need similar attention, but when the time comes may they receive the same full measure of generous aid and tender sympathy they brought to our home when death was an inmate there.

T. R. Depew and Family.

against external aggression, the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression, the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation is to be fulfilled."

This is the terrible Article 10 of the league covenant, which the Republicans are using as a bogey man
to frighten American voters. Notice that it relates only to EXTERNAL aggression. Such aggression, that is,
as Germany committed against Belgium. It does not pledge the nations to preserve territorial integrity to
any government against any constituent part. It does not guarantee British territorial integrity in Ireland, for example. But if Ireland became an independent nation and a member of the league, it would preserve its territorial integrity against all outside aggressors. Notice also that the council shall ADVISE upon action to be taken. No nation is under obligation to act upon that advice. Each nation is free to accept it or reject it as it believes advisable and right. Even if the council should advise military action, it could not order a single man
of a single nation into the field. Finally it should be noticed that there is no provision for action by majority vote in the case, which means that unanimous agreement would be necessary for the council to give the advice. Article 5 of the covenant provides that "except where otherwise expressly provided in this covenant, or
by the terms of this treaty, decisions
at any meeting of the assembly or of
the council shall require the agreement of all the members of the league represented at the meeting." The United States would be a permanent member of the council. We would have an absolute veto on any advice proposed.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

The ballot will test on November 2nd whether the milestones of progress will be turned into steps of reaction.

This may be said to be the most crucial hour in the history of mankind.

In all the history of the world
there has never been as great a divergence of political faiths and so widespread unrest and clamor for reaction and chaos. Radical currents
as well as destructive reactionary elements are coursing through our national life. They are manifest also in state as well as local affairs.

The forces of Democracy are facing
both national and state as well as local enemies—reactionary forces that
are seeking to gain control of the nation and to tear down the constructive work of the most fruitful decade
in human history. These forces are seeking also to gain control of what is near and dear to the heart of every Democrat—the institutions of a free and sovereign state.

The call to support the Democratic ticket both national and state as well
as local is a call to the defense of the most constructive achievements
of any political decade in history.
That is why The Herald calls upon
the Democracy of Milam county and
of Texas to rally to the support of the Democratic nominees. It is the call to adhere to the principles of the party; to defend them against external aggression and to bind more closely the covenant of our political faiths which has led the party to places of eminence in forming the works of peace and achieving a grand destiny for our common civilization.

The Republican party and the American party are now the common enemies of the Democratic party.
One is an ancient enemy, the other
a recent enemy against the champion, Democracy. Both parties are now waging an active campaign. If there be dangers to Democratic chances,
local, state and nation, they must surely be obvious to observing Democrats and upon them rests the responsibility to awaken the masses who subscribe to the tenets of Democracy.

The American party is striving to encompass the defeat of the Democrats in Milam county and in Texas.
The platform of the American party
is reactionary, therefore unthinkable
American party platform subscribes
as an instrument of governmental policy in progressive Texas. The
to the "closed shop" doctrine in industry; the American party platform
declares against the Eighteenth Amendment and contains a plank for
the manufacture of light wines and beers. To the forces of Democracy
who have swept the liquor traffic
from the soil of Texas and the nation,
this plank is more than odious and
its triumph is forever impossible because the thrust of an outlawed traffic.

These and many other objectionable features of the American party platform are impossible from the Democratic viewpoint. The fight must be won. Democratic nominees of Milam county and of Texas must succeed to their respective offices because chosen in a Democratic election
the party and the necessity for the
and because of the achievements of perpetuation of its principles.

This appeal is directed to every Democrat in Milam county and is said in no spirit of time saving or apology. With us it is Democracy and the Democratic Party from Alpha to Omega and world without end.

HELP GOVERNOR COX

Governor Cox, Democratic nominee
for president, is receiving little or no
support from his party.

Every Democrat should do his duty
in actively supporting Mr. Cox in his fight for life against the hordes of Republicans and the money they are pouring into the conflict. Regardless of whether or not you agree with everything advocated by Mr. Cox you should lend a helping hand. He is not only fighting his own battles, but
is also carrying the Democratic banner for all members of the party.

While the most essential thing to do in the campaign is lending support, morally, it is very necessary
that funds be raised to carry the fight
into enemy territory. Republicans are spending large sums in the "Solid South" fighting Democracy. Democrats must rally and invade the North and East with well-chosen words and the weight of money to distribute campaign literature and maintain speakers whenever needed.

If you are a Wilson man, then support Mr. Cox for old times sake. If you admire the nominee for his own qualities then show your colors as a Democrat.

Funds for the presidential campaign
are being raised in this country now.
—Sweetwater Reporter.

Every good Democratic man and woman in Texas should vote in the general election. On every hand efforts are being made to discourage voting in November—for the most part the efforts being traced to those interested in other parties. It is necessary that a heavy Democratic vote
be cast in November for the state ticket. Strong pressure is being brought to bear for candidates on the
other tickets; hundreds of speakers
are combing the country districts in an effort to stir up strife in the Democratic fold and make hay for the off brand party candidates. Roll up that majority needed to demonstrate that Democracy covers Texas "like the dew covers Dixie."

METHODIST CHURCH

I will preach Sunday morning on the subject, "Christian Conversion."
Some have indicated a desire to have made plain some things with reference to conversion. I will try to do this at the eleven o'clock hour. Conversion is a thing that we can not afford to be uncertain about.

In the evening at 7:30 the subject will be, "The Wonderful Love of

TWENTY-NINE CHURCHES FORM
ASSOCIATION HOLDING A THREE-DAY CONFER-ENCE ON WORK.

The Milam County Baptist Association, composed of twenty-nine churches, met with the First Baptist Church, Rockdale, October 6, 7 and 8th. The attendance was unusually large and enthusiastic. Through the untiring efforts of Rev. B. B. Blaylock, the retiring moderator, and Rev. C. L. Spradley, the missionary, together with the assistance of the pastors of the field, the work was never better organized nor manifested such progress. The reports from the various churches showed advancement in all lines.

With Rev. C. R. Steward, present moderator, and host for the occasion, the proceedings were extremely orderly and a fine co-operative spirit was conspicuous throughout the entire meeting. The program was lengthy, entertaining and educational. Prominent among the features was Dr. Hardy's talk on "Christian Education." Dr. Hardy is president of Baylor College, Belton. His message was beautiful and forceful.

Mrs. J. L. Johnson, as chairman of the Ways and Means committee, made a most gratifying success of serving dinner, in the rear of the building both Thursday and Friday and lunch Thursday night. Many congratulations were expressed.

The ladies' meeting was well attended and an extremely interesting program carried out. Enthusiastic messengers from many of the churches were present, among them an unusually large delegation from Cameron. Through the courtesy of the Methodists, their house of worship was offered the ladies for their Friday morning session and gratefully accepted. Some of the Methodist ladies contributed their presence and one among them, Mrs. Lee Orr, who formerly lived in Palacios gave a voluntary and highly appreciative talk on the inmates of the "Old minister's Home," in response to the report on "Old Minister's Relief." She especially emphasized their beautiful and congenial spirit. At the afternoon session in the Baptist church extremely instructive and inspirational addresses were made by Mrs. Williamson, district president from Austin, and Mrs. J. W. Byars, superintendent of Women's Training School, Ft. Worth. Mrs. Wm. Henderson of Cameron was re-elected president of the Association, and Mrs. Denson of Cameron was re-elected secretary, and treasurer. Rev. C. S. McClung, pastor of Little River church, was re-elected clerk and Mr. E. A. Flinn, re-elected treasurer.

The Association voted to buy a car to be used by the missionary, Rev. C. L. Spradley, at this time. This purchase is to be made at once and will greatly augment his hitherto inestimable services.

On the whole, the Association was educational and inspirational, enlarging our vision of world needs and emphasizing the fact that we are saved to serve. Jesus said: "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."—Rockdale Reporter.

Miss Leila Woolley, county tax collector, has completed the tax rolls for 1920, and same have been submitted to the commissioners court and approved by that body. Copies have also been filed with each of the departments as required by law.

The Reporter is furnished with the following summary of the rolls by Miss Woolley:

The rolls show total valuations of $19,051,060, which is an increase of $468,450 over last year.

The general average land value for the county, per acre, is $17.60. The general average for horses is $75, and for cattle, $15.

The valuation of railroad properties shows a gain on their physical assessment, amount not stated.

The county has 22 road districts levying a special tax of from 40c to $1.90 on the $100 valuation. Three new districts created the past year.

Aside from Cameron and Rockdale, has five independent school districts.

Four of these levy a special tax of 50c.

The tax rate for this year is 63c on the $100, as against 75c last year.

The county tax rate is 63c, being the same as last year. The total state and county rate is $1.25, as against $1.38 last year.—Rockdale Reporter.

Fordson Farm Tractor

The Fordson tractor was made to meet the demands and necessities of the every-day American farmer. It was made with the thought that it was the necessity of the man of forty acres as well as the man with one thousand acres. It was made not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, drilling, seeding, mowing, reaping, but for all other work on the farm where power is necessary. It was made to bring conveniences to the farmer's home as well as for the cultivation of his fields. It was made to furnish power for the cream separator, silo filling, cutting feed, sawing wood, furnishing power for milking, washing, supplying the house with running water, electric lights, and the one hundred and one other things on the farm. It was made to do all this economically and in a reliable way. It was made to be the big profitable servant on the farm.

And it has not failed in any of the expectations had for it. It's been tested as no other tractor has been tested. It has proven reliable and can furnish proofs impossible to any other tractor. It has done these things not only in America, but in Europe, in Asia, Africa, and in the Islands of the Seas. It has met successfully the demands of farmers in every part of the civilized world.

Therefore, the Fordson Tractor can meet all the conditions of the farm. When you buy a Fordson, you are not buying an experiment—you are buying a servant and a money-maker for you that you can depend upon absolutely from the first day you put it to work. It is easy to understand. It possesses all the power you want. It is simple in control. It is more flexible than you imagine. It will help you cultivate every foot of ground you have, and every day in the year you will find use for it on your farm. Its appeal to the farmer is in its dependable service and the wide variety of work it can do.

We'd like every farmer that reads this, if he hasn't a Fordson, already, to come to us and let us sell him one. Let us demonstrate its powers, its values, on your own farm. Let's go into details—power, reliability, economy. While the sale of a Tractor gives us a small profit, the purchase of a Tractor to the farmer means a money-saving servant every day for years. So the sale of a Fordson means more to the purchaser than it does to us. We are arguing for your good, Mr. Farmer. Come in and talk it over with us. Your time against ours. It is worth it.

And remember, when you buy a Fordson Tractor, we are right here to keep that Tractor in reliable running condition every day in the year. You won't have to wait if anything should get out of order. We are right here to keep it right, because one of the conditions of the Fordson dealer is that he must keep on hand always a complete supply of parts. This is a guarantee we don't believe you can get with any other farm Tractor.

Come in. Let's talk it over.

CRAWLS THROUGH WEEDS FOR SEVEN HOURS AND PICKED UP IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Ft. Worth, Texas, Oct. 21.—After crawling through the weeds for seven hours, leaving a trail of blood behind him, Frank Jones, 42, stock raiser and dairy owner, was found Saturday afternoon in a pasture six miles south of Ft. Worth with a deep gash in the forehead. He is not expected to recover.

Weak from the loss of blood and in a semi-conscious condition, Jones could not relate what had happened to him. How he received his wounds is unknown.

One hundred yards from where he was found was his half-burned five-passenger automobile, which added to the mystery. His shotgun was found about fifty yards from him, but in a different direction from the location of the charred car.

Although the wound appeared as if it might have been caused from a shot gun discharged at close range, some who viewed it believed that Jones had been struck on the head with some kind of an instrument. No evidence of powder burns were found on his face or clothing.

About 7 o'clock Saturday morning Jones left his home to get a calf, which had been brought in with his cattle.

OPPOSING VIEWS ON GIN FIRES

"FIRES OCCUR EVERY SEASON,"
AND NOT UNUSUAL THIS

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 20.—"The burning of gins and compresses or other cotton and cotton property in the South at this time every year is very common and the unfortunate section of a very few irresponsible persons is merely an incident and does not reflect the sentiment or integrity of the South," N. T. Blackwell, editor of the "Cotton and Ginner," said Thursday afternoon. "There are no more fires this year than any other year and it is merely a hue and cry raised by persons who do not know whereof they speak and are ignorant of the true conditions, and have seized upon the fires occur every season and can no way of expressing themselves. Gin fires occur every season and can no more be prevented entirely than fires in other establishments. There is no ground for assuming that they are of incendiary origin as a whole."

A contradictory opinion was expressed by S. W. English, head of the Fire Prevention Association and former State Fire Marshal, who declared that there have been an unusually large number of fires, particularly among the large compresses and gins.

"Fires among the larger compressors of the State of the best type have been numerous this fall, if my memory serves me right," he said. "Approximately 15,000 bales of cotton have been destroyed by fires in the last three months. At Galveston alone three large plants have been burned since spring, one in May, one in September and another this month. A lot of this is due, I believe, to carelessness in the providing of proper fire prevention. Extreme caution should be exercised in the matter of providing for adequate water supplies that grass and weeds be kept down around the gins to prevent communication of fire by this means. Barrels of water with buckets attached should be maintained at different points on

Asked to express an opinion on the probability of the fires being of incendiary origin, Mr. English would not commit himself, saying that in his present position he had no authority to investigate the origin of fires and hence had formed no opinion in the matter.

THE PRATICE OF SMOKING

Smoking is considered by some medical officers have a mental and physical power to soothe one. It is not the nicotine which is absorbed but by the fact of the cigaret or cigar in the mouth.

Smoking was first introduced into Spain by Columbus and was later made more popular by the appearance in public of Sir Walter Raleigh smoking a cigar. The weed was first cultivated three and is now the leading state in the Union in tobacco production.

HOPELESS DISEASES CAN NOT BE CURED BY DOCTORS OR MEDICINE

There are some diseases which are absolutely hopeless and past cure by any physician or medicine, but they may be palliated and a medicine, if it does not help in one case, may help in another. To any one suffering from a disease a remission is a degree of health and a medicine that relieves or palliates a disease is of great benefit. We can not guarantee to cure any disease with Number 40 For The Blood, but we quote word for word what the ingredients in 40 are recommended for in the U. S. Dispensary and New American Materia Medica: "In the treatment of blood troubles an acknowledged remedy among all schools of physicians, removes the cause of disease, stimulates the removal of waste, thus indirectly encouraging nutrition. Disorders of the nervous system demand this remedy, such as neuralgias, chronic rheumatism, gouty conditions, auto-intoxication, constipation. Used with phenomenal success in eczema and skin diseases, lumbago, glandular swellings, ulcerations of mucous membranes and in general disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and spleen." Prepared by J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. W. S. King, 802 E. 4th St., Pueblo, Col., makes the following statement: "I suffered for a number of years with kidney trouble, sciatic rheumatism and constipation, tried numerous remedies with little or no benefit. I was induced to try Number 40 For The Blood. I found I was benefited from the start, and after taking six bottles received such wonderful and satisfactory results, I am prompted to make this statement." Witness to signature, Edward Reiss, druggist.

A Simple Plan

By the simple plan of spending less than the income and saving regularly, it is possible to create fund which will create an income.

Thus, careful spending adds to buying power. And a good way to learn to spend is to adopt the "budget system;" that is, to lay plans for spending and to include an account in the bank. We appreciate your business, prompt and courteous attention to every one.

Weak from the loss of blood and in a semi-conscious condition, Jones could not relate what had happened to him. How he received his wounds is unknown.

One hundred yards from where he was found was his half-burned five-passenger automobile, which added to the mystery. His shotgun was found about fifty yards from him, but in a different direction from the location of the charred car.

Although the wound appeared as if it might have been caused from a shot gun discharged at close range, some who viewed it believed that Jones had been struck on the head with some kind of an instrument. No evidence of powder burns were found on his face or clothing.

About 7 o'clock Saturday morning Jones left his home to get a calf, which had been brought in with his cattle.

OAKDALE NEWS

By Mrs. S. Hause

(Delayed.)

Oakdale, Oct. 11, 1920.

Mr. G. W. Batey has returned from Houston, where he attended the Confederate reunion.

Mrs. Lettie Batey Shelton started her school at Prospect Monday morning.

Miss Nancy Ethridge of Hoyte left for Curry Saturday to start her school there. She has taught that one school about three years.

Erwin Cook has been sick all this week with fever, and his sister has been sick also.

Mrs. Ashenbeck took fever last week and as she had no one with her to look after her son, Theo, she had him taken to Rosebud where her mother Mrs. Beckhusan lives. She came back home Sunday evening considerably better.

Mr. William Bayley was in Cameron Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hause were in Cameron to see his sister, Mrs. Randolph.

Mr. Ernest Cook was driving his horse to a buggy and on his way to Milano the horse got scared, ran away and turned the buggy over. His hand was injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ethridge of Hoyte spent the day Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Batey.

LONESOME

I am out in California
Where the gentle zephyr blow
Where the pretty golden poppies
And the bright poinsettias grow.

Every pathway strewn with flowers
And with orange blossoms too
Still I'm lonesome, yest' lonely
Longing for my home and you.

Here the sun is always shining
And the climate mild and rare
And the sound of pretty song-birds
Floats upon the air.

People here like happy children
Fill the land with life and mirth
Truly, beautiful California
Is the grandest spot on earth.

You would think I should be happy
Mid environments so rare
But I'm longing for my home town
And I'm wishing to be there.

Friends have given royal welcome
Shown me sights my heart to bind
Still I'm lonesome and I'm longing
For my dear ones left behind.

Soon I'll leave for my old homestead,
Altho humble it may be
Back to home and the old home town
And to those who wait for me.

For I'm lonesome, Oh, so lonesome
In a land that's wondrous fair
After all home's where the heart is
And the ones I love are there.

IF KIDNEYS ACT
BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have Been Eating too Much
Meat

When you wake up with backache
and dull misery in the kidney regions
it generally means you have been eating
too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and
they become sort of paralyzed and luggish. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them,
like you relieve your bowels; removing all the bod's urinous waste,
else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach
sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic
twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediments, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To the Worshipful Master, Warden
and Brethren of San Andres Lodge,
A. F. & A. M. No. 170, Cameron, Texas:

We, your committee, appointed to draft resolutions upon the death of Brother B. C. Barrett, beg to submit
the following:

Brother Barrett was a native of Alabama, but came to Texas prior to the civil war, and was a soldier of the Confederacy from June 17th, 1862 un-
child, Brother John W. Barrett, was born, and made a splendid record in the army.

He was a pioneer settler in the western portion of Milam county, and lived
to see the wild, treeless prairies converted into rich, fertile fields.

Though not intolerant, yet he was a man of conviction, and when he reached a conclusion, after due consideration, his mind was fixed. He was strong in his belief of right over wrong.

Death claimed him June 15, at the ripe old age of 86, while living with a daughter at Hempstead, and his remains were buried by the Craft June 17 at North Elm Cemetery, in the community where he had lived many years, and where two wives and other loved ones had preceded him.

Therefore be it resolved:

1. That the state has lost an honored and useful citizen, and the Craft
a devoted member.

2. That while we feel the loss our Craft has sustained, yet we bow in humble submission to the will of Him
who doeth all things well.

3. That we extend to the family
our heartfelt sympathy, and commend them to the God of all grace and consolation.

4. That a page of the minutes be set apart for these resolutions, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

Fraternally submitted,

JEFF T. KEMP,

J. C. JOSEPH,

JOHN WATSON,

Committee.

INJUNCTION BEING SOUGHT TO STOP POLL TAX LEVYCONSTITUTIONALITY OF NEW LAW IS ATTACKED IN HOU-STON COURTS BY SUFF-RAGISTS.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 21.—An injunction against election officials to restrain enforcement of the poll tax
requirements for women in the November 2 election will be sought in district court by several Houston suf-fragists early this week, it was declared today by a local law firm.

It is planned to attack the constitutionality of the recent poll tax law adopted by the recent special session
of the legislature.

A TOWN RUN BY WOMEN

Texas has the distinction of having a town run entirely by women. The town is much improved since they have taken a hand in its government.
A clean up day, cleaned all the unnecessary debris from the streets, and the next thing, they are going to inaugurate stock law prohibiting loose
cattle from roaming in the streets. A street improvement campaign is also contemplated.

Ride on Goodyear Tires in That Sturdy Small Car of Yours

It surprises certain users of small cars to find that they can obtain Goodyear Tires at a first cost ordinarily not greater, and sometimes less,
than that of other tires.

This initial value, as well as the very low final cost, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in
the world's largest tire factory devoted to 30x3-30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, or Dort take advantage of the opportunity to enjoy real Goodyear value and economy; equip your car with Goodyear Tires and Heavy Tourist Tubes at the nearest Service Station.

BE HERE UNDER AUSPICES
OF CAMERON BAND.

(By P. H. Medsker.)

Through the efforts of the Cameron Concert Band, the people of Cameron and vicinity are to be favored on Friday evening, October Twenty-Second at the Cameron High School Auditorium, with a grand concert by the greatest artists that have ever visited our city. This very exceptional concert is conceded by press and critics to be one of the very best of this season's offerings. Each member of the company has been especially selected for the particular part of the program they will perform. The vocal numbers will consist largely of Gems from the favorite operas given in costume and by artists who have been trained in their art by the greatest masters in Europe, thus bringing to their audiences the real spirit of the Operas. Many of the vocal numbers will have violin obligatos. The violinist and pianist will each give special solo numbers in addition to their ensemble work with the other artists. Their programs show unusual variety in selection, making great demands upon the versatility of the artists. We give below a brief review of the members making up this company.

Mme. Mary Cassel, (Soprano) was born in the State of Maine of French parents. Her early training was received in America but at the very early age she was sent to Paris to pursue her musical education. Graduating from the conservatory she made her debut in concert at the home of the Countess de Fels. For many years Mme. Cassel has given her time to Opera and Concert in both Europe and America. During the season of 1919-1920 she was a distinguished member of the New Orleans Grand Opera Company, the oldest Opera Association on the North American continent. Following the close of the Opera season she made a tour as Soprano with the French Grand Opera Artists. Mme. Cassel has always received the highest commendation, not only for her beautiful voice but for her general musicianship. She is not only vocally and histrionically a highly esteemed Grand Opera Soprano, but as a concert and oratorio singer she has received the highest praise from distinguished critics.

Mon. Leon Patius (Premier baritone) was born in Brussels, Belgium. From his earliest age he showed his musical trend, beginning his musical studies when a mere child. In due course of time, after passing the stringent entrance examinations, he was admitted to the Royal Conservatory at Brussels. Upon graduation he carried off the First Prize of the Opera, a very high distinction indeed. This in itself was enough to secure for the young baritone the opening necessary for his success. He made his debut the same year at the Grand Municipal Theatre in Tunis. Soon after his debut he was called under a very flattering offer to Nice as Premier Baritone d'Opera. He remained at Nice two years, proof positive of his popularity as their audiences are among the most critical in all Europe. He was called from Nice to Palermo to create the role of Athenael in Thais, achieving there a phenomenal success. The outbreak of the world war caused his return to Belgium to join his army corps. He was made a prisoner by the Bosches and remained so during the German occupation. Although covered with scars and with several citations for bravery, he is absolutely reticent as to his prowess in battle and refuses to discuss this phase of his life. After peace was declared he was engaged as Premier Baritone for the French Grand Opera Company of New Orleans, La., where his success was of the highest order.

Mr. John Corigliano (Violinist).—Strangely enough since the days of immortal Paganini, has there scarcely ever appeared a violinistic genius of the Italian race. Undoubtedly one of the nearest claimants is John Corigliano, a youth born in New York City of Italian parents. In his very early childhood he showed a rare love for music and when nine years of age his playing began to attract unusual interest and parents were urged to give him every advantage in pursuing his musical studies. His musical education has been carried on entirely in America and we are justly proud to claim him as American product. His last teacher was Alois Trnka, with whom he made such strides that upon his debut in Aeolian Hall in New York City, two years ago, he was proclaimed by the press and critics as one of America's foremost violinists.

Opera Artists during the spring of 1920.

Mr. O. A. Coons, Mgr.,
French Grand Opera Artists,
New Orleans, La.

My Dear Mr. Coons:

It is a real pleasure to me, speaking for the State Normal College to thank you for the visit of the Grand Opera Artists who appeared here in concert last night. The entire audience, consisting of faculty, students and townspeople were lifted to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Never before have we had anything so artistic and enjoyable. It seems unnecessary to speak of the artists singly when each is so eminent in his individual domain. Suffice to say that their presentation, both in the solo and in the concerted numbers, was an unqualified artistic triumph. I should be wanting in appreciation, if I did not mention the graciousness and dignity of these people. Never in my association with artists have I encountered a group of more pleasing personalities. We thank you heartily for the opportunity of hearing these artists and we are unanimous in hoping that we shall be able to have them for a return engagement.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) Charles Cran Stewart,
Chairman of Committee.

The tickets for this concert will be on sale by many of the merchants and business men of Cameron, by members of the band, high school students etc. The price of tickets will be One Dollar for adults and Seventy-Five Cents for school students, war tax extra.

SERVICE

The Strongest Point of Our Business

As substantial figures in the lumber business, the Milam County Lumber Company wish to render real service to you—to every one who uses lumber.

Whether you are a home builder planning a beautiful residence; a workman who wants a couple of boards or a bunch of lath; a farmer building a cow barn or a corn crib—we want you to know the facts about lumber. We advise the best lumber for the purpose, whether it is a kind we have or not.

What we advocate is conservation and economy through the use of the right wood in its proper place.

If we could insure your getting the lumber you ought to have, it might mean a difference of years in the life and service of the lumber—fifty years, perhaps, as against a few months.

Let us help you select your lumber, figure with you on the price. Yours for service.

The Lowest Priced Two Ton Truck On The Market

The profit earned by our trucks are the sole basis of judging its worth to you. They depend on operating—economy in fuel, oil, care, service, strain and repairs.

A truck unable to economize in these respects steal profit out of your pocket. Upon ignition depend many truck economy.

Fuel economy because it's fat, sure spark explodes every bit of the gas in the combustion chamber into all possible power.

Lubricating economy—because it means less carbon and reduces the danger of fouling. All of this means less repairs, fewer overhauling. Less time away from work, besides the time over the road.

TRAFFIC TRUCKS is the most complete truck, on the market to overcome these troubles.

We have just received a car of TRAFFIC TRUCKS and will be glad to demonstrate these to you.

NEED OF MANY WORKERS.

It is when we try to inform the people of Texas as to the merits of any measure that we realize that Texas is not really a state—it is an empire. Compare the Lone Star State, with its 252 counties, with its neighbor, Oklahoma, which has 77 counties, or with tiny Delaware, which has three. It soon becomes obvious that to give adequate publicity to even the most meritorious measure, an army of workers is needed.

When we remember, further, that the general attitude in Texas has been to vote against constitutional amendments, we realize that, the patriotic citizens of Texas must go out into the highways and byways to arouse the necessary enthusiasm for the educational amendment to make it the notable exception to the rule its friends all predict it will prove to be.

NATURE OF THE AMENDMENT.

Texas now has a district tax limit of fifty cents on the hundred dollars of property valuation. Only two states, Texas and Virginia, have so low a limit. Half of the states of the Union have no limit on the tax that districts may vote for school purposes. The unjust side of this tax limit is that while large cities are exempt from this provision, the village school and the country school are shackled by its terms. The proposed amendment to article 3 of section VII of the constitution will grant the same privilege to all schools—it will permit the country school district as well as the city to vote for its schools such support as it deems necessary.

THE AMENDMENT DOES NOT RAISE TAXES.

The proposed amendment does not raise taxes, nor does it permit any school board to increase taxes. It simply leaves each district free to continue its present support to its schools, or to increase this support, if it chooses. Before any tax can be increased, the rate must be decided by a vote of the taxpayers of the district. The amendment is, therefore, a measure of local self-government.

ATTITUDE OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES.

The state democratic convention of 1920, at its recent meeting at Fort Worth, endorsed the passage of this amendment as a part of the platform of the democratic party. The republican candidate for governor, in a recent address, stated that he would prefer that the people of Texas should fail to vote for him than to fail to vote for this amendment. At this writing, other parties have not expressed their attitude.

A MISTAKEN IMPRESSION.

A few persons have expressed the opinion that, since their districts receive from the state more than they pay to the state, it would be best to vote against the amendment, and let the state support their schools. The mistake in this is (1) that the state can not and will not continue to support those who do not help themselves and (2) that such an attitude is condemned by most of the right-minded patriotic citizens of the state. The four million dollar appropriation was made by the legislature to tide over the emergency until the amendment can pass. The legislature will have no convenient surplus next year, to appropriate; for the tax rate has been lowered. Moreover, many members of the legislature have declared that, if the people vote down this amendment in November, they will make no more appropriations to the schools from the general revenue. Some of them have asserted that they will even vote to discontinue the two-million-dollar appropriation for rural schools. If the amendment fails to pass, the schools will have no recourse. Two thousand of them closed their doors last year. Our teachers will flock to other states, where a living wage is offered. Many have already gone.

STATE SUPPORT THE SAME FOR CITY AND COUNTRY SCHOOLS.

The politician frequently harps on the difference in support of country and city schools. This difference lies in local support. The state gives the same per capita for the country and the city child. It favors the country child, in that it makes a special appropriation of two million dollars for rural schools. While Texas stands tenth in state support of schools, it ranks as forty-fourth in local support. Shall this continue?

OUR RANK IN EDUCATION.

The Russell Sage Foundation in its recent investigation of all the states of the Union ranks Texas as thirty-ninth in education. Shall a state that is first in size, first in agricultural products, third in production of oil, and seventh in wealth be satisfied to remain thirty-ninth in education?

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY.

Texas is about ten per cent illiterate. Twenty-five per cent of our children do not advance beyond the fourth grade. The average is the sixth grade. That means that, in future, we shall have a sixth-grade citizenship. The only safeguard of the democratic institutions founded by our forefathers, the best protection against bolshevism, the wisest economy for the state, is education. Give the country boy and girl a fair chance! Work and vote for the Better Schools Amendment on November 2nd.

Why Not a Fighting Chance?

There is none of America's boasted "equality of opportunity" for the children of Texas today.

Two boys, let us say, are born into the world, equal mentally, physically, and morally.

One goes to school in a shanty, presided over by a poorly paid, poorly educated girl in her "teens" who has no many "grades" that real teaching is impossible. The boy is without the advantages of good books, manual training shops, experimental apparatus, physical examination, physical training, or the inspiration of a well balanced, cultured teacher of high ideals.

The other boy attends a well-supported two or three-room country school, presided over by professional, by-trained, experienced teachers. Later he is sent to the consolidated rural high school made possible by the forethought and progressiveness of the community's patrons and trustees. This school is equipped with a good library, shops, gymnasium and a plot for experimental farming. There is a physical director and students are examined so that any incipient eye, nose, throat or other bodily trouble is arrested before becoming chronic.

The two boys, born "free and equal," in neighboring communities reach the age of 24. One, possessing the assurance that is the hand-maiden of wholesome knowledge, has developed into a vigorous, contented, progressive, dependable farmer; an honor to his community, his state, and his country.

The other is a shiftless, diseased, dissatisfied, shame-faced ne'er-do-well, a burden to his family and a menace to his community.

Whose is the blame?

Remember that the difference in support of schools rests with the local patrons, not with the state.

The state gives the same per capita to every child in Texas; but it favors the country child in that it makes a special appropriation of $2,000,000 for rural schools.

"Why Can't We Have Good Schools in the Country?"

One of the school supervisors of the state department of education recently talked to a young girl on the train, who lives on a farm in the black land belt. She was a girl of about fourteen, whose square little body and straight-forward sincerity of eye indicated unusual physical and mental strength. She said she loved her farm home although the work of cooking, canning, washing and ironing, sewing and sometimes working in the field was heavy. She did not mind the work, but she wanted more than anything to go to school in order that she might be a teacher.

The year before she had finished the sixth grade which was as high as the school in her district went.

The family of her best friend had moved to town in order that the children might have good schools, but her father wanted to stay in the country. Then with a catch in her voice she asked, "Why can't we have good schools in the country?"

This question the state superintendent passes to the voters. Those who believe that the country children ought to have as good schools as the city children will vote for the Better Schools Amendment which is a local option measure permitting each school district to make such provision as it chooses for the support of its schools. Most cities now enjoy this privilege under the terms of their charter. The constitution limits the power of country districts.

Let the voters give these districts the power to have good schools in the country.

For Your Earnest Consideration. School reports show that twice as much money is being spent in the cities for the education of negro children as is being spent in the country districts for the education of white children. Cities are not limited by the constitutional restriction on local taxation. On November 2nd the country districts will be given the same local self government privileges if the Better Schools Amendment carries.

During the late war one of our boys, returning to camp from an afternoon off, was stopped by the sudden call of "Halt!" from a sentry. "Halt!" exclaimed the soldier, "Don't halt me, I'm a half hour late as it is." So when the mossbacks cry "Halt!" to the Educational Amendment, we reply, "Great Heavens, men, our state is half a century late with this thing now."

R. E. L. Sherrard of Dallas made arrangements last summer to take a company of Boy Scouts to the harvest fields. The boys were frequently called to get up at an early hour and help with the lighter duties about the farm.

On the first Sunday in September Bobby Wilson, age 11, arrived at the farm. On Monday morning before daybreak he was awakened by one of the farm hands.

"What's the idea of getting up in the middle of the night?" said Bobby.

"Hurry up!" said the other. "I'll show you how to milk cows."

Bobby sat up with a puzzled expression on his face, gazed thoughtfully out into the darkness, then asked: "Do you have to sneak up on them?"

Adult illiteracy is proportionately three times higher among native born children of native born parents than among the native born children of foreign born parents. This indicated the low level of country schools.

Paise the level by voting for the Better Schools Amendment.

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Cameron people recommend Doan's stronger proof of merit?

Ask your neighbor.

Melvin Weems, E. 2nd St., Cameron, says: "My kidneys had bothered me more or less for a long time. It seemed whenever I took a little cold or there was a sudden change there was a sediment in the secretions and they smarted and burned in the passage. My back got lame, and the muscles all through me were lame and sore. I had taken all kinds of medicines but didn't get any help at all. I called on the doctor here for advice and he told me to take Doan's Kidney Pills. I followed his advice and got a supply of Doan's and took them as directed. I am very proud to say Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and my kidneys have been strong and in good shape since then. I very gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

To remove bilious impurities in the system and be made internally clean and healthy, you need the fine tonic and laxative properties of Herbine. It acts quickly and thoroughly. Price 60c. Sold by Pace-Marshall Drug Company.

MINIMUM WAGE STATUTE UPHELD

JUDGMENT OF HARRIS
COUNTY COURT

Austin, Texas, Oct. 14.—The Texas minimum wage law, providing for an Industrial Welfare Commission to fix the minimum compensation for women and minors in various industries in the state of Texas, was upheld by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today when the court affirmed judgment of the lower court in the case of J. Poye of Harris county, who was fined $100 for discharging Bessie Lee because she testified before the Industrial Welfare Commission.

Poye contended that the law was unconstitutional in that it attempts to confiscate property. This contention was not recognized. His contention that the law violates the obligations of a contract were unsupported, the court saying that contracts must comply with the law as well as express the will of individuals making them and that the appellant knew Bessie Lee might be called to testify before the commission when he made the employment contract.

"We have no doubt," the court said, "that the passage of such a law for the welfare and betterment of the condition of working men, women and children is a matter well within the province of the Legislature."

In sustaining lower courts in the conviction of Oscar H. Ahlberg of Milam county, who was given three years sentence for bigamy, the court recognized the common law marriage and held that the fact that Ahlberg had lived with a woman, presented her as his wife and acknowledged a child born to her as his, constituted marriage and his subsequent marriage to a second woman without divorcing the first constituted bigamy.

YOE HIGH SCHOOL NEARING COMPLETION

The new Yoe high school which has been under construction for some time is nearing completion and it is hoped by the contractors to be able to occupy the building by the first of January. The building will have a large auditorium, seating many people, and it will also have a modern up to date gymnasium, rooms for music, expression and domestic economy, will be in the first floor. Class rooms and the auditorium will be situated on the second floor; and third floors.

The black boards are to be made of a slate with trays for chalk of hardwood will be under them. The floors are to be of hardwood and concrete. The entire building will be heated by steam and two radiators will be in each room, insuring genuine comfort for the occupants. When completed the building will be the pride of Cameron and Milam county.

J. E. Johnson & Co. of Waco, contractors for the building of the new Methodist church here, have announced that according to the best of their knowledge the work of tearing down the old church and beginning of the new will begin November 1st. The boards for the forms for concrete and other tools have arrived on the scene.

MILANO NEWS By Chas. Howes.

Milano, Texas, Oct. 12.—Mr. Joe Cook of Andalusia, Ala., is here visiting his brother and sister, Mr. A. J. Cook and Mrs. W. H. Dukes.

Mr. Lang Russell, who is camping on his land near Gause, is in town on account of the serious illness of his stepmother, Mrs. A. S. Russell.

Dr. Wilson of Star, Texas, one of the youngest Confederate Veterans living, both in years—only 73—and in appearance and vigorous manhood, was in town a few hours, calling on old friends. Dr. Wilson was returning from the reunion at Houston and stopped over to visit his son at Gause.

W. W. McCollum has been compelled to sell his business to John W. on account of Mrs. McCollum's bad health.

Dr. Liddell has been quite sick and he is now at the hospital at Waco.

Dr. A. T. Cook of Manor, one of Mrs. M. E. Cook's sons, had the misfortune to have his sanitarium burned about ten days ago. Loss $10,000, partly insured.

Mrs. G. R. Hurt and Mrs. C. M. Beard have both been quite ill.

Mrs. A. S. Russell, an old resident of Milano, a civil war pensioner and a Masonic widow, is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

Rev. Roeber of the Nazarene church and Rev. C. L. Shelby, pastor of the Baptist church, both filled their pulpits on the 10th.

Our townsman, Mr. J. H. Burnett, was interested in the Cameron fire to the extent of 52 bales. Mr. Anderson of Gause, who visits friends in Milano occasionally and who has a farm in the bottom did not lose anything himself but says his mother at Jones Prairie lost 130 bales.

Mr. Talley of the Turner Lumber Co. has recovered her health sufficiently to be back on the job.

Mr. Carmichael, Mr. E. C. Smith's efficient clerk is not on a vacation.

Mr. Tom J. Longino of San Antonio, an old Milano business man, has been with us some this week.

Miss Carmen Robinson has left for Cider Park in Travis county, where her school opens on the 18th.

Miss Ora McClellan will open her school the same day.

Miss Clyde Newton is attending the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Lorella Elan is teaching in her place at Thrall.

Mr. Burnet had two ricks of hay that would have baled out at least 500 bales, burned up this week. He thinks it was set afire, and not only lost the hay, but it was covered with $50 worth of plant sheets.

Grandpa Hildebrandt of Liberty, an old civil war veteran and also noted through a legal technicality, as Milano's only registered alien enemy, was in town this week.

Dr. Taylor, and Mr. Claud McGregor of Cameron were here this week.

The Cameron high school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. P. H. Medsker is making great headway considering the material at hand.

The high cost of gasoline has driven automobile manufacturers to almost desperation. They hope to cope with the situation by placing a fourth gear on automobiles to be used on level stretches and other gears for uphill work.

As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

This Huge Catalog of EDISON AMBEROL RECORDS

To Owners of Amberola Phonographs

The fortunate owners of Edison's wonderful Amberola not only have the world's greatest phonograph value, but also have the greatest collection of the world's choicest music at their command. The new Amberol Record catalog proves this.

Over 800 of the world's leading artists—singers and musicians—have made more than 4000 Amberol Records for exclusive use on Edison's Amberola Phonograph!

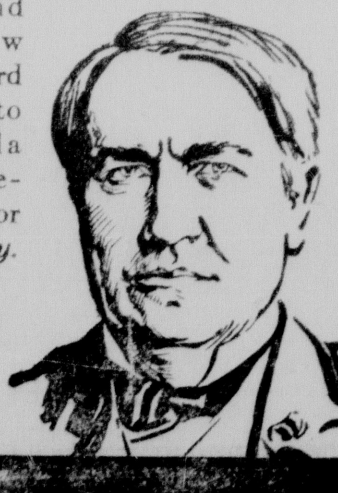

Every variety of music is here for your enjoyment. Grand opera by world-famous grand opera stars and orchestras. Band music of every description—symphonies, marches, the latest popular dance hits and musical comedy selections. Noted concert singers, vaudeville headliners, celebrated comedians. Ballads, hymns, oratorios. Instrumental music of every character. Novelty records, children's records, foreign records, the favorite music of other lands. You cannot think of any kind of music that is not obtainable on Amberol Records!

Every month twenty-five to thirty new Amberol Records are issued, including the latest popular songs, up-to-the-minute dance hits, one-steps, waltzes, fox trots, played by leading jazz orchestras.

Many people have traded in their "talking machines" and bought Amberolas when they learned that Amberol Records are made to play exclusively on Edison's Amberola Phonograph!

We will send this big, new Amberol Record Catalog FREE to any Amberola owner upon request. Write for your catalog today.

Ox-beer Smith, Pres.

It is a powerful and scientific combination of sulphur and other healing agents for the relief and cure of diseases of the skin. It is especially effective in the ITCHING VARIETIES; giving instant relief from the itching and smarting sensations and by its germ-destroying properties it exterminates the microbe which is the cause of the eruption, thus curing the disease completely.

Little's Liquid Sulphur Compound is used in all cases of Eczema, Tetter, Barber's Itch, Psoriasis, Herpes, Rash, Oak and Ivy Poisoning, also for relieving the annoyance caused by chiggers and mosquito bites.

In the treatment of ECZEMA—the most painful and obstinate of all skin diseases—it is one of the most successful remedies known.

Mrs. S. Hause

Oakdale, Oct. 18th.—Our little community is looking up. Last week Mr. E. H. Ford had a house raising, had a good crowd to do the work, and others to do the cooking. Killed several chickens and lots of other good things to eat, then had enough left to do his family two days. Then last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin gave a birthday dinner for their two boys Ernest and Leonard, had a very nice crowd and an extra good dinner.

Lee Batey and wife were not there as they are in Bell county picking cotton, and visiting his sister, Mrs. Sterling Childress near Meeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Oneal and children spent the day with her brother John Arledge near Milano Sunday.

We are glad to see that it has begun to rain some, for several of the families have been hauling water for a good while, but we have not enough yet to help them much.

Mr. Thomas Batey has gone to Cameron to hold down a good job at Mr. Batte's gin, and his wife is staying with her father near Rice, Mr. Bill Day.

Hugh Wimberly has gone to Houston where he had secured a fine job. Mr. Highman reported that there had been a little wreck on the railroad near his house and that it would be dangerous for another train to pass without knowing it. I guess they got it fixed all right, for there was another train passed very soon after the message was sent to Milano.

Mrs. Frank Smith of Jacksonville, is with her grandmother, Mrs. Garner, at Preasant. Her husband thinks of coming to Milano and work for his brother, E. C. Smith, for a while.

Mr. A. R. Oneal and family were attending to business in Cameron on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hause were in Cameron Wednesday and spent the day with his son, John Hause who works at the compress

Mrs. Hightman is picking cotton for Eugene Hause. After getting through with their cotton picking, they start their children to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hensley and little son, Debs, were to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Angel at Ben Arnold Sunday.

Mr. Ernest Cook went last Wednesday to Fort Worth where he had secured a very pleasant job. He hopes to have his mother and sister with him some time soon.

Master Leonard Bethard came back home the other day to start to school. He had been off some time with his friends.

The Prospect school started last Monday with a very good attendance for the first day.

Mr. Will Addison and wife of Jones Prairie came to Mr. Frank Fasel last Wednesday, brought the children to see their grandparents, the Fasels, and while there he shipped his house hold goods.

Mrs. Lillie Carmichael is among those from Milano who is attending the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tally of Elgin are visiting their son in Milano this past week.

Mr. Frank Boggan came to Milano a few days ago from the Burkburnett oil country where he had been for several months.

Mr. F. I. Haynie and son of Belton were attending to business in Milano last week.

Mrs. Edna Scott returned home to Lott after spending a while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hooker.

Dr. G. B. Taylor stopped with us the other day to get a cool drink of water having been to Christian to do some kind of work

Mr. Lester Newton, E. C. Smith, the druggist, Mr. E. F. Evard, and a few others of Milano attended the State Fair at Dallas last week.

Houston, Oct. 21.—Loss aggregating between $90,000 and $100,000 was caused at Winnsboro, Wod county, today by a violent storm reaching the proportion of a baby cyclone, according to reports reaching here.

One brick building having a frontage of eighty feet was blown down. The store of a wholesale grocery concern with a stock worth $30,000.

A hardware store and a garage suffered great loss when a building callpanied him.

Mr. W. W. McCallum and family of Milano, left last Saturday for Miles where they will make their future home.

Miss Mynie Gand yof Washington, D. C. came to Liberty to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gandy

ed Skeen's fell in on the roof of the hardware store.

WIRE COMMUNICATION IS SEVERED BY STORM

Greenville, Texas, Oct. 21.—Passengers arriving here from Winnsboro in Wods county, reported a destructive wind storm there last night. Several business buildings were said to have been destroyed and damage to other property will amount to several thousand dollars. No loss of life was reported when the passengers left Winnsboro early today.

MRS. M. A. MAYES DIES IN CAMERON

AGED PIONEER WOMAN PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 77 YEARS BURIED SUNDAY.

Mrs. Mollie A. Mayes, aged 77 years, and pioneer resident of Milamter, Mrs. J. H. Sapp, in Cameron county died at the home of her daughter Sunday at 1:25 p. m., after an illness of some time.

Mrs. Mayes was a pioneer of Milam county and a devout Christian woman and much of the history of Texas she has seen in the making. She was born in Ansonville, North Carolina, in 1843. She came to Texas with her parents when ten years of age. The family settled in Milam county on the Brazos River. This was in 1853 and since that time her life has blessed the community in which she has lived and her friends everywhere will deeply feel the loss of this sincere and sweet mother character.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church at Maysfield, where services were held as well as at the home in Cameron. Rev. H. R. McFadyen, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Cameron and Rev. Sansom pastor of the Maysfield church conducted the funeral services. Final services were held at the Little River church at Cemetery, where deceased was buried.

She is survived by four children as follows: Mrs. J. H. Sapp, Cameron; Mr. R. B. Mayes, Maysfield; Miss Minnie Mayes, Cameron; Mrs. W. A. Bozeman, Roscoe, Texas; all of whom were here to attend the funeral. Also a sister, Mrs. J. W. Fields of Brownwood; and a brother, B. H. Smith of Austin, who with his wife attended the funeral.

The Herald extends its sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

BAPTIST MISSIONARY CIRCLES

Circle No. 1 met with Mrs. John Mangum with seven in attendance. Mrs. M. G. Cox conducted an interesting lesson on Foreign Missions, the topic being "Mountain of Vision."

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. W. A. Beal with eleven present. Mrs. Geo. Thomas was leader and an interesting lesson was given, with "Survey of Missions" as the topic. At the close Mrs. Beal served cream and cake and the ladies enjoyed a social hour.

Circle No. 4 met with Mrs. Wm. Henderson with twelve in attendance. The lesson on the survey of missions was led in a profitable way by Mrs. Wm. Henderson.

AT THE PARSONAGE.

Mesdames Ira Key and R. L. Johnson entertained the ladies of the M. E. Missionary society last Monday afternoon.

The reception suite was as bright and gorgeous as the Indian summer sunsets we have been enjoying. The reception hall and parlor in golden glow, the dining room in pink green's wreath and Paul Terun rose, the dining table covered with a Battenberg cloth over pink.

There were thirty-four present with Mrs. Stacy, of Houston, as honor guest. Mrs. Joe Lindsey was leader and conducted the devotional exercises. Africa was the subject. Interesting stories were told by Mesdames W. H. Triggs, R. H. McIntosh, Howard Baskin, and A. J. Akin, relative to mission work in Africa. Mrs. C. D. Lay and Miss Louise Adams sang solos.

Mrs. Tom Denson read an interesting letter from the wife of their missionary, Mrs. Hardy, of Korea, and displayed a most beautiful Korean garment—a mandarin coat. It was a handsome green silk, lined with old rose, the most striking feature of it was the sleeves, lined in white, embroidered in butterfly design. When worn the sleeves are thrown back to display the lining.

The Koreans wear this garment as a coat, while Americans would use it as a negligee.

Mrs. Hardy sent this coat to be sold for missionary purposes. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames Wharton, Howard Baskin, and Louise Adams, consisting of tongue salad and fruit salad, wafers, sandwiches, ice tea and individual lemon pies. During the serving little Margaret Key recited.

Before separating Mrs. J. H. Hefley, Jr. made mention to the ladies that a special personage was in their midst—that of Mrs. C. A. Dansen, of Knoxville, Tennessee, a former resident of Cameron and who organized the first missionary society in the Methodist church of Cameron.

Mrs. Dawson was asked to lead in a prayer for another absent member, Mrs. Forest Lay, of Itasca, who is suffering with an injured arm, which in all probability may have to be amputated.

Mrs. Plaster closed with a thanksgiving prayer.

HOME MISSION DAY

The ladies of the Presbyterian church met Monday. A prayer band had been organized and they met with Mrs. Mary Henderson, as leader.

After this the subject of home missions was taken up. The conditions in the West was the principal topic, led by Mrs. Henry McFadeyn.

Mrs. Jim Watson read an interesting leaflet, and Mrs. Jeff Avara played a solo.

HERE FROM MEXICO TO ATTEND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Mrs. Maris Trevino and daughter, Carmine Trevino, and son, R. Carmine Trevino, and son, Rodolpho Cameron to spend the winter and to take advantage of the school system in the city.

The children of Mrs. Trevino are attending school. They are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stafford while in the city. The fact that these estimable people have been attracted to the Cameron schools speaks volumes for the advantages offered by the Cameron schools.

D. A. R.

Last Wednesday afternoon the D. A. R. met in regular monthly session with the regent, Mrs. B. C. Baskin. An outline of the year's work was read by Mrs. Dow Eplin, and a number of topics discussed to help humanity, the furtherance of patriotism, etc. It was also voted to donate five dollars each to the following causes: Memorial continental hall, Tomasee industrial scholarship, Denton Normal scholarship, and Philippine scholarship. The ladies will add their forces to the Commercial Club in doing something for the soldiers on Armistice Day.

PRISCILLA CLUB

Mrs. Howard Baskin was hostess to the Priscilla Club last Thursday afternoon. There were a large number of guests and members assembled on this beautiful Indian summer afternoon to enjoy Mrs. Baskin's hospitality.

The home was like a beautiful sunset glow in yellow cosmos. Needle work was the main diversion, with pleasant conversation and bits of harmless gossip. Toward the close of the afternoon Mrs. Baskin was assisted in serving by her two little daughters, Clyde and Lena. Delicious tunc salad, pineapple salad, sandwiches, crackers and iced tea were served. Those present other than the club members were: Mesdames U. S. Hearrell, L. A. Cottle, Tiff Moore, J. C. Tucker, Ira Key, Stacy of Houston, and Claud Thomas.

SUNRISE PICNIC

Saturday morning the "Carrie Yoe Club" of the Cameron high school had an early morning breakfast on the beautiful lake of Mr. W. T. Hefley. Miss Loventhal had charge of the girls with Miss Amelia Williams as guest. A delicious breakfast was cooked, consisting of toast, eggs, bacon. Fruits also were in abundance.

After breakfast the girls had so many good things left that they visited our county poor farm and gave a treat to the dear old folks.

SIGMA PHI-KILCARE

At the home of her aunt, Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas, Miss Clara Thomas was hostess last Friday afternoon to these two clubs.

The home was decorated in red and pink roses, and ferns. Twenty five ladies assembled with their bits of fancy work and a busy hour spent. Mesdames George A. Thomas and Albert Triggs assisted Miss Clara in entertaining and serving. A delicious salad and ice course was served, consisting of Shrimp salad, apricot salad, crackers, olives, nut-bread and pineapple ice.

Those present other than club members were: Mesdames L. A. Cottle, Walter Thomas, Albert Triggs, Charles McDermitt, Bill Alex Bonds, Misses Lue Law, Kittie Cain, Willyne Hyde, Roberta Pace, Aetna Smith, Catherine and Helen Flynn.

SYMPHONY CLUB

Last Saturday was the regular day for this music club to meet, but it was postponed until next Saturday because of illness and sorrow in the home of one of its members.

The Cam-Hi Weekly News

The following should be of interest to the people of Cameron. It is an extract from a letter Mr. Kidd has just received from the University of Texas:

"It develops that the average performance of all the new freshmen in the University last season from affiliated schools in Texas, is represented by the number 4.27, which means that the average freshman passed the equivalent of 4.27 courses with a grade of D.

The freshmen from your school averaged 5.92.

I hope this information will prove of some benefit to you.

Very cordially yours,

E. J. Matthews, Registrar.
CHAPEL NOTICE.

Regular chapel exercises will be held Tuesday and Thursday mornings in the Sunday hall from 8:45 to 9:00. A different teacher will be in charge each morning. Mr. Kidd had charge of the chapel October 19, and Miss Williams, October 21. Miss Bass will be in charge October 26, and Miss Work October 28. The public is invited.

ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY.

In his talk this morning to the Assembly Hall, Mr. Kidd gave out notice that is of interest to the parents as well as students of Cameron. It is as follows:

No excuse for being absent from recitation or school will be accepted, except in case of prolonged sickness. Three or more days will be considered prolonged. The teacher will use her judgment as to whether prolonged sickness is to be excused.

One point for each recitation missed is to be subtracted from the average grade for the quarter on that subject. The teacher is requested to strictly observe this from October 18 to the last day of school, and to subtract for lost time before putting the grade on record book.

The pupil keeping library, those who have an O. K. from the superintendent for absence from class, will receive no deduction for excused time.

GIRLS' CLUB.

The Girls' Club met last Thursday afternoon and enjoyed one of the most interesting programs of the season.

First on the program was the inaugural address given by the president, Miss Joe Smith. Miss Ollie Clinton made a talk on McSwiney, which was followed by a reading by Miss Mary Tyson.

The Club was favored with the beautiful duet "By the Waters of Minneoka," sung by Misses Louise Adams and Florence Butts, with Mr. Billie Clark playing the accompaniment on the violin.

A very interesting play in three acts was then given by some of the members of the club.

Last but not least, ice cream cones with favors painted by Miss Nymphodora Ford were passed to the club members.

CARRIE YOE GIRLS.

The Carrie Yoe girls met in regular session Thursday, October 13th. The program was opened by a poem read by Rosalie Baskin. After this Miss Loventhall made a talk on what she expects of each officer. The club then took up the question of a sunrise breakfast. It was voted upon and carried unanimously that we have the breakfast Saturday morning, October 16th at Hefley's Lake.

DISCIPLES OF SOCRATES.

On the evening of Monday, October 18th, the Disciples of Socrates held their fourth regular meeting. A program consisting mainly of discussions on parliamentary procedure was rendered and since some of the members on the program were absent from the meeting, the Disciples voted at the motion of Mr. Stewart Epperson that any member who should fail to come up with his part of the program three times, should be expelled from membership.

When this question had been settled, the Society turned its attention to the initiation of new members. At the motion of Mr. Robert Massengale it was decided to hold the ceremonies of initiation two weeks later. As there was some doubt as to who would be considered new members Mr. Williams suggested that all those who had gained fellowship after the name of the Society was adopted, would be considered new members, and subject to initiation. The suggestion was adopted and the meeting adjourned by common consent.

ENGLISH NOTES.

The Seniors are now on their guard against three misspelled words, since

D's are getting too plentiful.

Mr. Chaucer had a pleasant meeting with the Senior class, the "Canterbury Tales" was recently staged in the English room in the form of a two act drama. The class actors well represented the fourteenth century characters. A few visitors were present.

THE RESPONSIBLE STUDENT

Do you know what it is to be responsible—to do your duty without regard for the other fellow? Or do you fail to do what you should, not thinking of the hardship on your neighbor? By thus failing to accept responsibility, you may harm the reputation of the school; but above all you will ruin your character, and that you can not afford.

Then make of yourself a responsible person. Do those things in school that are necessary to the upbuilding of that institution. When you are entrusted with matters, accept the full burden of them. Remember the school is a part of you, and if it is questioned, you are questioned. By failing your school, you fail yourself.

Do not think others will shoulder your cares. You are responsible for that mathematics and that honor system. Others can not think for you. You may be helped by class mates and teachers at times, but if you lay down on the job they will leave you alone. To be self-reliant is to be independent. Are you going to be self-supporting or a charity patient?

The laugh was on Mr. Hefley. Every year Mr. W. T. Hefley has many a duck dinner, the product of his own sharp-shooting on the lake back of his home. Last Saturday little Richard Hefley went to the attic and he took four big green decoys and went to the lake and put them out to be ready for the first norther when the ducks are southward bound. Early on Monday morning Mr. Hefley was walking about the lake and saw the duck. He knew nothing of Richard's visit to the attic. He hurriedly got his gun and fired several shots—shots too that if felt sure must have hit the mark yet the ducks did not move. He drew nearer and found he had hit the mark for the decoys were perforated.

VISIT TO MISS WOLF'S ROOM

Self-activity and self-direction are at the foundation of education. Froebel's famous precept is "Come, let us live with the children." The visitor saw this kind of direction on this visit to the second grade room.

One class was reciting spelling under the direction of the teacher. The pupils were in the lead, and not the teacher. The teacher directed. The pupils in the other section were directing themselves. They would work quietly, and faithfully. Some were doing one thing, some another, but each child looking for his directions, read carefully then proceed to find the right book and bring the work as directed from bulletin board. All time you see, learning incidentally to read and direct. If the pupil found a word he did not understand, he would go to the dictionary prepared by the teacher and look up the word. Some of the pupils were doing written work as directed by bulletin board, others would be reading, etc. All this was done without the time of the teacher. Every pupil busy and interested. The children are partners in the business.

The great lesson I am anxious that we all get is that this is the beginning of right training. Further, that children are partners in the business of schools.

No suggestions. The room was well handled and according to the right line of development of the child.

Sincerely,

L. H. KIDD.

The begging friar made his appeal to the heart of every one present.

The red headed miller and the knight who was so deeply in love were subjects of much discussion.

The Seniors are beginning the development of the old English drama this week.

Incomplete sentences are fast going out of style with the upper classmen.

The Seniors who haven't become acquainted with Ben Hur are very unfortunate at present.

We can not say that the Senior class is doing all the work, because the Juniors are looking sleepy for having burned much midnight oil.

The ever popular American short story is being studied in the Junior class.

The literature of our pilgrim ancestors is being eagerly read by the Juniors.

A SUNRISE BREAKFAST.

The Carrie Yoe Girls' Club enjoyed a sunrise breakfast at Mr. Hefley's Lake Saturday morning. About thirty five girls were present with lots of enthusiasm, and ready for a good time. Several loaves of bread, over a dozen eggs, bacon, and milk remained after all had eaten. This food was taken to the poor farm and to a needy family. Each girl went home feeling she had had a good time, and done some good also.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Hearrell addressed the student body this morning. He gave a very interesting address on the needs of the school. He also complimented the student body on its order and diligence.

Taylor defeated Cameron last Friday with a score of 33 to 0. However, Cameron Hi will show Taylor yet. We never say die.

Where is that yell leader for Cameron? The Cameron students have plenty of pep, but it needs to be directed. Let's have a school song and some yells.

JOKES

Elmer Self: "Hello. Is this the weather bureau? How about a shower tonight?"

Central: "Don't ask me. If you need one, take it."

Senior to Freshman: "Did you take chloroform?"

Freshman: "No. What period does it come?"

Pauline Green: "I saw Sallie coming out of the bank this morning."

Olive Henderson: "Been in to put money there?"

Pauline Green: "No, she had been in to fill her fountain pen."

Miss Bass: "Porter, write a short theme on the subject of basketball."

Porter handed in the next day: "Rain; no game."

SPEED.

Miss Work: "You're the slowest boy I have ever had. Aren't you quick at anything?"

COUNTY ASSOCIATION HOLDS
MEETING IN ROCKDALE—
BODY ORGANIZED HERE

The first quarterly meeting of the Milam County Bankers Association was held in Rockdale Tuesday evening, there being present a representation from nearly all of the banks of the county. The business session was held at the Chamber of Commerce room in the city hall, where a program of interest to those present was had and organization of the Association completed. Among those on the program was Hon. S. M. N. Marrs of the State Educational Department, who spoke ten minutes on the educational amendment to be voted on November 2.

After the business session had been concluded the visitors were escorted in cars to Mineral Park where the local bankers had arranged a barbecue spread. Barbecued beef, pork and mutton was served, with the usual accompaniment of bread, pickles and coffee, all prepared under the watchful care of Mr. A. Longmire. It was one of the nicest spreads ever served in Rockdale, and the visitors were duly appreciative. A feature of the feast was music by the Rockdale band.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at Cameron on the second Tuesday in January.—Rockdale Reporter.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 12, 1920.
Editor Cameron Herald,

Though we are strangers, there was a time—from December 1871 to February, 1872—when I was a citizen of your town: for a time I practiced law, though somewhat like necessity. I knew little or no law; I taught one term, the fall of 1871, school in your town. Doubtless there are some men and women living near you, who as boys and girls were my pupils. The local members of the legal profession then in practice there were: Smith, McGregor, Tarver, Garrett, Homan and Adams; possibly there may have been one or two younger men who were preparing to be admitted, but I kindly remember those whom I have named.

Cameron is a dear place to me; some of the best and dearest friends I have ever met in my life lived in Texas and most of them lived in Cameron and Milam county. I know that nearly all of them long since crossed the River, for they were my seniors, and I have passed my 70th mile post in the journey from the cradle to the grave; am sitting by that river waiting (sometimes anxiously) for old Charon to ferry me across.

I see from the papers that your city has recently had a $1,000,000 fire, and reading this item of news prompts the writing of this letter. When I lived at Cameron it had not attained to the dignity of a city; it could boast of only four or five hundred inhabitants.

I have frequently thought of visiting the places and scenes of long ago, but have been prevented from doing it; it would be sadly sweet—the boy (I was scarcely on the mar-

THOMASON MAY MAKE RACE FOR U. S. SENATE

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 21.—R. E. Thomason, who was defeated in the first primary for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas, announced yesterday that he might be a candidate for the United States Senate in 1922. Thomason declared that many of his friends are urging him to make the race for the place of Senator Culberson, but that as yet he had not reached a decision.

The amazing extent to which rubber enters into the application of power on the farm was strikingly revealed by the Goodyear mechanical rubber goods exhibit at the National Tractor Show at Verdugo Woodlands, Los Angeles, last week, and also at the recent State Fair at Sacramento.

Klingtite belting for tractors, gasoline hose, steam hose, hose for spray rig, packing for gas engines, packing for cold water and steam, suction hose and automobile radiator connections are among the standard rubber products made by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company which were on exhibit at the big power farming exposition, and many power users familiar with the company's standards of manufacture as applied to tires and tire accessories took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the complete line of mechanical goods put out by the big tire company.

An exhibit of unique values at the State Fair was the power conservation exhibit of a large California electrical and mechanical engineering company, which demonstrated the correct use of rubber belting in operating pumps, cream separators, washing machines and other farm machinery by power.

The exhibit not only showed rubber belting used to transmit power to various farm labor saving devices, but furnished detailed information to farmers on lacing belts properly, figuring pulley speeds and sizes, arranging pulleys for the proper form of drive, lining up hangers for shafting, and the correct care of belts.

One of the oddities of the state fair was the freak performance of an Avery Yellow Fellow thresher, which made hamburger of all the scrap bricks and lumber that could be fed into it during the two weeks of the fair, thereby demonstrating the immense strength and enduring qualities of its "insides." A 150 foot, 3-inch 5 ply Klingtite endless farm belt was used to transmit power from an Avery tractor to the thresher.

As I have stated, I have not the pleasure of your acquaintance, have even forgot the name of the paper published when I lie there, but remember that its editor was W. K. Homan, unless I mistake.

Will you kindly send me a copy of your paper? You may also enter my name as a subscriber for six months for the weekly, and send bill to me.

Yours very truly,

To the People of Milam County:

I desire in this public manner to invite the attention of the people to my candidacy for the office of tax assessor for Milam County. I am the regular nominee of the American Party for such office in this county. I am 32 years of age, was born in Milam County, and have lived in this county all of my life with the exception of about three years. I have always been a Democrat and affiliated with the Democratic Party until the present year, but the policies pursued by the legislation enacted by that party in recent years led me to the conclusion that it is no longer a party pledged to the best interest and welfare of the people, and I have, therefore, renounced my allegiance to the Democratic Party and given my allegiance to the American Party.

If the people of Milam County shall endorse my candidacy for the office to which I aspire, I pledge them in advance that I shall bring to the discharge of the duties of such office a fair, honest and intelligent intention and purpose to serve the people without fear or favor toward any, and I promise you in advance that all of the property in this County shall be assessed, and that it shall be fairly and efficiently done, and can be done without the aid or assistance of any block map of any other contrivance to be paid for out of the public funds.

Therefore, I have submitted my candidacy to the good people of Milam county among whom I have lived all my life, and shall be grateful to them for their endorsement and support in the coming general election.

Faithfully yours,

CLEVE McCALL.

MARY'S HOME

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"There comes John down the street. Oh, dear! I wonder what is the matter with him lately. He is getting more silent and sober every day."

Mary's brown eyes watched wistfully as a big, blue-eyed, straight-shouldered young man approached the house.

"Spring again," she sighed. "I thought surely by this spring I would be nest-building. John is earning enough now and I am so tired of the long days in the office, when I am just aching to be planting a rosebush by my own door."

The bell rang and Mary hurried downstairs and opened the door. She looked so dainty and shining as she smiled up at him that bashful John Blake's heart almost choked him.

"He looks so kind and good," thought Mary, who had battled for her living since a child.

"She looks fit to be a princess," thought John, who felt nothing was quite good enough, himself included, to offer the exquisite girl before him.

"Shall we walk on the avenue?" asked John.

"Very well," quietly agreed Mary.

Suddenly John stopped before a large gray stone house, set in spacious lawns and surrounded by an iron fence.

"There a house good enough for anyone," he said, soberly, "but it would take years to get money enough for a house like that," and he sighed. "Do you like it, Mary?" he asked anxiously.

She looked up at John, eager to please him, and bring back the contented smile to his eyes. Instead of smiling in return, he stared at her gloomily and said: "I knew you would like it, and it is just the kind of a house you ought to have."

Surprised at the dejection of his tone, Mary looked at him earnestly and noted the troubled eyes and worried lines on his forehead. A sudden thought came to her, and she replied thoughtfully:

"Yes, it is splendid, but what would a little thing like me be doing in a big mansion like that? Sure, I'd be lost in it, and it's not my idea of a home. I'd rather have a little gray cottage at the edge of the woods than this pile of prosperity on Rich Man's avenue," and she laughed gaily.

A pink color flushed her cheeks, and her eyes were bright with happy sparkles.

From the old street they sauntered past little white cottages and big gardens, past green fields and woody spaces until they saw the moon smiling over the river in the distance.

"Oh, here is the old Dean place, and it's for sale," exclaimed Mary in apparent surprise. "Do you know, I think that is a great bargain for some lucky person?"

"I don't know," said John, doubtfully, yet looking with interest at the little gray house with its big piazza, its many windows and tiny orchard in the rear.

"See how it nestles into the ground," smiled Mary. "Isn't it a dear little house?"

"It's quite old, and needs repairing," said John pessimistically, but his eyes eagerly took in the cozy look of the place and his intent face showed he sensed its possibilities.

"Oh, yes, of course," agreed Mary, practically, "but a handy man with a little spare time would easily repair it. I can just see it with ruffled curtains at the windows and flower beds along the walk, with a hammock swinging on the piazza and a big chair near by. It would be profitable, too, for there's plenty of fruit and a nice place for hens. Well, I suppose some lucky couple will buy it," she ended with a sigh as she turned away and studied the moon.

John's face was alight as he stood staring at the little gray house, and his eyes were bright and eager. He squared his shoulders and drew Mary up to the steps as he said quickly: "Have you seen the rooms? Is it livable inside?"

"Yes, I went over it with my cousin a while ago," said Mary, indifferently, after a glance at his face. "It needs only some paper and paint, and the rooms are small and sunny, and do not need much furniture. It faces the river, doesn't it?" she said, dreamily. "How pretty it must look on a summer night when the moon is shining and the water all gold and silver and the roses in bloom and the place like a little gray nest of a home."

"Oh, Mary, Mary, do you really think so?" asked John as he gripped her hands. "I love you so, dear, but I wanted to offer you more only it seemed so long to wait. I can't stand it now, dear, any longer. Since you made such a home picture of this place. Could you love me and be happy here, Mary?"

"Yes, John," answered Mary as she exchanged a wise look with the moon, and with a happy sigh of relief snuggled down into the safe haven of John's broad shoulder.

SAGE TEA DANDY
TO DARKEN HAIR
It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost pound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with over night if you'll get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

THIEVES STEAL FAN USED BY M. D. FOR PATIENTS IN OFFICE

Thieves are indiscriminate in their unholy occupation. So thinks Dr. G. B. Taylor, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist in Cameron.

Recently Dr. Taylor was called to Crissman to attend a patient and on his return discovered that thieves had entered his office and made away with a large electric fan used for the comfort of sick people who visit the doctor's office for consultation. The doctor thinks the worst sort of thief is one who would take an electric fan used for the comfort of patients. And who will deny that the Doctor is right about it?

Our Opening Week was most gratifying to the management. Our patronage was far beyond our expectations.

We appreciate this all the more because we were not really ready to do our best work, and our patrons were necessarily more or less inconvenienced.

We are placing our seats permanently, with more aisles, so there will not be so much inconvenience in getting in and out.

We are also improving our musical programs, and have everything working very smoothly now.

works display at a cost of $1,000 a night will be staged during the second week in front of the huge grandstand; special days are set aside for women, for children and the livestock exhibits and agricultural displays are expected by officials to be greater and more interesting than ever before this year. Special low rates have been granted on all roads to Texas Cotton Palace visitors.

tainment in Coliseum and address by a noted speaker.

Don't fail to visit the War Path

the first week, and remember that all shows on the War Path will be entirely new and different the second week.

Night, 8:00, Second night Grand Opera, presenting "Lucia di Lammer-moor." Bear in mind that the world-famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company, with its one hundred world-famed celebrities, will present a different opera each night up to and including Saturday night, and two matinees this week.

Thursday, November 4th, morning,
9:30, Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum.
Live stock will be judged on this day. See the large exhibits of live stock from all parts of the country
—the Poultry Show, Rabbit Show,

as Cotton Palace Coliseum seats 10, 000 people and people from all parts of the state have already signified their intention of bringing their families to witness various operas as scheduled on this program by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company of New York. Reserve your seats now.

Friday, November 5th, morning,
9:30, Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum.
Live stock will be judged on this day. Don't fail to see the Live Stock, Agricultural Exhibits, Poultry Show, etc. See the big Farm Machinery Exhibits and the many Mercantile Exhibits in the Main Building.
See the exhibit of Overall Manufacturing from start to finish. Visit the Women's Departments. Every feature new and different—a complete change and an educational feature that eclipses anything of the character ever presented in Texas.

Night, 8:00, Presentation of Grand Opera, "Madam Butterfly." Every presentation is different; the operas were selected by the votes of people from all parts of Texas, voting for seven operas from a selection of twenty.

tween A. & M. College and Baylor University. The greatest game scheduled in the Southwest this year.

2:30, Grand Opera Matinee presented "Tales of Hoffmann." Every school child in Texas should have the opportunity of witnessing Grand Opera, and the Texas Cotton Palace management have arranged this Saturday Matinee of the famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company for this purpose. Go and take the children.

Night, 8:00, Grand Opera, the farewell presentation, "Il Trovatore." The Texas Cotton Palace Exposition is the first in America to stage Grand Opera, bringing the world-famed San Carlo Grand Opera Company with its one hundred world-famed artists direct from New York City to Waco for the purpose of this presentation.
Grand Opera is educational, entertaining and highly attractive. Thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of the finest and most costly scenery has been transported to Waco for this brilliant presentation, and the immense stage in the great Coliseum makes possible a presentation of Grand Opera that is not eclipsed even in the world-famous Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Sunday, November 7th, afternoon,
2:00, Auto races, world-famed speed demons in high-powered racing cars second week are free.

Monday, November 8th, Rotary Club Day. Featuring Special Children's Entertainment and at night
the pageant "The Glowing Cross."

Morning, Visit the Women's Department of the Texas Cotton Palace.
Rich and rare exhibits that will interest everyone. Every feature from beginning to end is entirely different from that of the Women's Department of former years—many educational features that will delight every member of the family. The Women's Department represents the work of months on the part of the Women's Committee, and not a detail has been overlooked that could be added to make this the greatest achievement in the history of this department of the Exposition.

All War Path shows are new for this second week.

Afternoon, 2:30, Grand Baby Show in Coliseum and Mother Goose's Court Reception—the delight of the little folks.

Band Concert—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Nights," and Ballet Dancing in front of the Grand Stand.

8:00, A feature night Coliseum attraction, an entertainment on a most elaborate scale, presenting a pageant called "The Glowing Cross." No extra charge for this Coliseum feature.
Informal dancing.

Tuesday, November 9th, Queen's Day and Night—The formal presentation of the King and Queen of the 1920 Texas Cotton Palace.

Who will be the Queen? No one will know until her presentation at the coronation ceremonies on this night. The Queen's Ball and Coronation Ceremonies this year are to be the most gorgeous of any event ever held anywhere. At the request and invitation of Gov. W. P. Hobby of Texas, the various Governors of the different states of the Union have designated young ladies from their respective states as Princesses to be the Queen of the Texas Cotton Palace, and these Princesses are to be present in person with their maids.
This is a great compliment paid to the State of Texas by the other states, and especially a compliment to the Texas Cotton Palace Expon-sition, for it makes the Queen's Ball and Coronation Ceremonies an event of nation-wide importance. In addition to the Princesses from the visiting states, there will be a Princess from the District of Columbia and a Princess from Texas and Duchesses from throughout the State of Texas. No extra charge will be made for this great Coliseum attraction.

Afternoon, 2:30, Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00, "Hawaiian Nights," Fireworks and Ballet Dancing in front of Grand Stand.

8:00, Coronation Ceremonies, presentation of the Court of the Texas
Cotton Palace, visiting Princesses, Duchesses and Court features, followed by the brilliant ball in honor of the Queen and participated in by people from all parts of the United States. No extra charge will be made for this Coliseum feature.

Wednesday, November 10th, afternoon, 2:30, Band concert in Coliseum —McDaniel & Harris Band.

See the War Path shows.

Night, 8:00, Fireworks and Ballet Dancing before the Grand Stand.

8:00, Shriners' Night. Special features by Karem Shrine, followed by Shrine Ball. No extra charge will be made for this Coliseum feature.

Thursday, November 11th, Society Ball Day, Armistice Day, American Legion Day.

Don't fail to inspect the Automobile Exhibits—Pleasure Cars and Trucks. One entire building devoted to Auto Display. See the Farm Machinery Exhibits, visit the War Path and see the new shows.

Visit the United States Agricultural Exhibit; see the State of Texas Agricultural Exhibit by A. & M. College. Visit the Women's Departments, see the many mercantile exhibits. The Texas Cotton Palace is one of the greatest educational events in the South, and with the educational features are combined high-class amusements and entertainment features that make it the most unique exposition in this country.

Afternoon, 2:30, Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.
See the Textile Exhibits—Cotton converted from the raw product into the finished fabric—Hides converted into shoes, etc.

Night, 8:00, Society Ball, the great social event of Texas, and this year many of the Princesses and Duchesses to the Queen's Ball will remain for this great society event. The committee in charge have planned for many entertaining features and a brilliant event that will rival any society feature and decorative effect ever presented in the great Lone Star State. No extra charge to witness this Coliseum feature.

8:00, Fireworks before the Grand Stand. Special Armistice Day Fireworks Display. "Hawaiian Nights" and Ballet Dancing.

Friday, November 12th, Women's Day, All McLennan County Day.

This is set aside as Women's Day.
You'll find the many exhibits in the Women's Departments especially worthy of your inspection. Never have the exhibits in this department equaled the displays of 1920. They show clearly the immense amount of work and the painstaking effort that has been put forth by the Women's Committees of the Texas Cotton Palace to achieve this remarkable success.

Afternoon, 2:30, Special Coliseum program, participated in by communities from all parts of the county, followed by concert by McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00, The Women's Day program will close with one of the most entertaining features of the entire Exposition, a presentation entitled "The Crop?" No extra charge for this Coliseum attraction.

Fireworks and Ballet Dancing in front of the Grand Stand.

Informal dancing in Coliseum.

CELEBRATION PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY MADE BY COMMITTEE

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM WITH A BASKET PICNIC OUTLINED BY COMMERCIAL CLUB COMMITTEE.

Armistice Day will be celebrated in Cameron and all Milam county is invited to participate.

Plans for the celebration of the day have been completed as far as possible at this time. It will be the second anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which concluded the war between the Allies and the Central Powers and marks the triumph in which American arms played so gallant a part.

All soldiers of the world war and their families will be asked to attend the celebration and to take a part in the exercises that are to honor those who made victory possible.

Dr. James Watson has been selected as general chairman of the committees serving in completing the plans for the celebration.

It is planned to hold the exercises and serve lunch in the city park in Cameron. Patriotic addresses will be made and a general good program with music arranged.

The committees are: Dr. James Watson, chairman; Jim Baskin, T. S. Henderson, Jr., B. P. Atkinson, Dr. Tom Denson, W. G. Gillis, W. F. Sharpe, Oxsheer Smith, J. C. Tucker, E. A. Wallace, Woman's Committee selected by Mrs. Sue Baskin; Mrs. Roy Jeter, Mrs. Pearl Clement, Mrs. T. S. Henderson, Sr., Mrs. Lula Gillis, Mrs. W. O. Triggs, Mrs. Robert McLane, Mrs. Lena Baskin, Mrs. U. S. Hearrell, Mrs. Sue Baskin, Miss Winnie Henderson, Miss Etna Smith.

General chairman Dr. James Watson has announced the following committees and the chairman:

Finance Committee, Commercial Club.
Water Committee, Walter Sharpe.
Menu Committee, Robert McLane.
Dishes, Dr. Tom Denson.
Coffee, Mrs. S. A. Cottle.
Tables, R. P. Jeter.
Decorations, Miss Beth Jeter.

Sandwich Committee, Mrs. W. A. Bonds.

J. KUBECKA IS RESTING QUIETLY

COTTON BUYER WITH FRACTURED SKULL IS EXPECTED TO REGAIN HEALTH AND RECOVER.

D. J. Kubecka, cotton merchant of Cameron, who has been in the Cameron Hospital for more than a week a serious condition was reported this morning by his brother-in-law, J. Parma, as resting quietly and improving as rapidly as can be expected under the nature of his injuries. Dr. Kubecka was taken to the hospital on Tuesday of last week because of injuries inflicted when he was struck near the base of the skull at or a time little hope was entered for his recovery. However, he has shown a decided improvement and it is safely thought he will enjoy recovery. This announcement was welcomed by his friends and relatives.

C. M. Beal returned to her home in Galveston Tuesday after a visit with her son, Mr. W. A. Beal.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 20.—Governor Cox tonight sent a telegram to Elihu Root, asking him to "correct" what the democratic candidate declared was a "false" statement in Mr. Root's address yesterday regarding the governor's position upon the League of Nations issue. The governor denied Mr. Root's statement that he demands the league "just as Mr. Wilson negotiated it" and called upon Mr. Root for a retraction.

In making public his telegram to Mr. Root, Governor Cox issued a statement declaring that Mr. Root and thirty other prominent republicans signing the recent statement in behalf of Senator Harding, were "attempting to deceive the voters because they are permitting their partisanship to rise above their patriotism and trusting perhaps that the last wobble of Senator Harding may be in their direction." The Governor's telegram follows:

Text of Telegram.

"Elihu Root, New York City.
"I have before me a quotation from your address on the League of Nations delivered in New York October 19 which reads: 'Mr. Cox declared that he will insist upon the treaty just as Mr. Wilson has negotiated it.' I am addressing you most respectfully with recognition of your integrity of purpose and the signal service which you have rendered as a public man, mindful of the fact that you may have fallen into error through ignorance of the situation, owing to your absence from the United States during a part of the presidential campaign. Your statement, however, is not in keeping with the facts which you are assumed to know by perusal of daily papers. I have invariably stated in my addresses and re-state here, my whole-hearted desire to make the United States a member of the League of Nations and that to secure that consummation of the purpose of America when she entered the war, I will accept reservations that will clarify; that will be helpful; that will reassure the American people; and that, as matter of good faith, will clearly state to our associates in the league that congress and congress alone, has the right to declare war, and that our constitution sets up limits to legislation or treaty-making beyond which we cannot go. I have stated further that I will accept reservations from any source which are offered in sincerity and with a desire to be helpful.

Reiterates Policy.

"I have also stated that if I am elected president, my election can be construed only as a mandate of the American people; and that to secure league, I would sit down with the members of the United States Senate; I would confer with Mr. Wilson and with you, Mr. Root, as well as with Judge Taft and all others who have a sincere purpose and whose service in the past equip them especially as advisers in this work. You know, and know full well that Senator Harding very recently said: 'I am not interested in clarifications; I am interested in rejection.' As I have stated at the beginning, I am placing a charitable construction upon your statement that perhaps your partisanship has prevented your reading my addresses and your prejudice has prevented you from realizing the destructionist attitude of your own candidate; but you have made a statement concerning me, which the records show is false and I firmly, but respectfully, call upon you to correct this statement at once. Mr. Root, you have arrived at honorable station in life. Many people trust you. You have no right to deceive them. They want the truth in this campaign. Your conscience will tell you that duty to it should be superior to duty to your party.

(Signed) James M. Cox."

McPHERSON-BROWN.

On last Monday evening at eight o'clock in Cameron Mr. J. T. McPherson and Mrs. Martha Brown were quietly married by Rev. Ira F. Key, pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. McPherson is a traveling salesman. Their many friends here will be glad to learn of their marriage and to wish for them a life of happiness and prosperity.

PLOT TO WRECK BRITAIN BARED

NEW MODERN COMPRESS TO SPRING UP IN PATH OF FLAME

A new modern compress plant will be erected in Cameron by the Cameron Compress Company of which A. J. Dossett of Waco is the head.

Announcement of the plans of the company is made today by R. D. Brown, manager of the compress. Engineers are here today in conference with Mr. Brown to work out the plans for the erection of the new plant.

Mr. Brown states that he expects construction to start within the next 60 days.

The plant of the Cameron Compress Company was destroyed by fire Sunday morning, October 10th, and with it 5,000 bales of cotton and valuable rolling stock belonging to the Santa Fe and Sap railroads. The loss was estimated to have been $1,000,000.

TODAY LAST DAY FOR PAYMENT OF NEW POLL LEVY

VOTERS ARE URGED TO PAY IN TIME TO SUPPORT DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES IN NOVEMBER.

Today is the last day on which you may pay your poll tax in order to vote in the November election on the first Tuesday.

If you have not paid your poll tax do so at once as every vote is needed to give democrats victory in county,

BOND DEBT LIFTED FROM COURT HOUSE AND JAIL

The financial condition of Milam county with respect to its bonded indebtedness and the retirement of bonds as shown in the statement of County Auditor Giles L. Avriett made to the commissioners court give fine evidence of an efficient and wise policy and is proof of valuable public service well rendered by the auditor as well as the county judge and commissioners.

By the aid of an economical policy during the period of war and inflated prices the court with the auditor were able to maintain the county and to keep up improvements on the general revenues without bonding the county.

In the payment of bonded indebtedness the county has been able to save money because it draws only 3 1-4 per cent on funds in the depositories and is forced to pay five per cent on the bonded indebtedness.

It is doubtful if any county in the state is able to show a better or even

STATEMENT OF THE AUDIT AND BONDING COMPANY OF ST. LOUIS, SHOWING GENERAL BONDED INDEBTEDNESS OF DATE, JANUARY 6TH, 1917:

TOTAL GENERAL COUNTY BONDS OUTSTANDING JANUARY 6, 1917

$165,872.50

STATEMENT COMPILED BY GILES L. AVRIETT, SHOWING THE GENERAL COUNTY INDEBTEDNESS OF DATE OCTOBER 15, 1920:

Bonds	Dated	Rate per ct.	Due	Bds. Outstdg.
Road and Bridge (New)	April 10, 1906	4	April 10, 1946	$51,072.50
Funding Warrants: No. 1	April 11, 1916	6	Serially	5,000.00
Bridge Repair: No. 1	Jan. 16, 1918	5	Jan. 16, 1958	1,990.00
TOTAL				$58,062.50

TOTAL GENERAL COUNTY BONDS OUTSTANDING OF DATE OCTOBER 15, 1920, AMOUNTS TO $58,062.50, AS COMPARED TO $165,872.50 OF DATE JANUARY 6TH, 1917.

While the general county bonds outstanding amount to $58,062.50, yet there is a credit in the sinking funds of the above issues the sum of $14,450.76, and this deducted from $58,062.50 leaves a net general county state and nation.

There has been comparatively little interest shown in the coming election until the last few days when Democratic leaders in the county have inaugurated a speaking campaign and committees working to rouse the voters to the necessity of paying the new poll tax levy and casting a vote in November.

If you have not paid your poll tax do so today. Tomorrow will be too late.

STOCK SHOW WILL BE HELD IN CITY LATE IN NOVEMBER

COMMERCIAL CLUB WILL PRO- MOT E INTEREST IN STOCK- RAISING IN MILAM COUN- TY BY EXHIBITS.

Cameron's First Annual Fat Stock Show and Exhibit will be held late in November of this year.

This was decided at the meeting of the Commercial Club held Tuesday night. W. M. Cobb, chairman of the committee to arrange for the show, made a report to the meeting and gave the conclusions reached by the committee previously appointed to look into the feasibility of staging the show. After the report it was decided to hold the show late in November, the exact date and time to be settled later.

The show will be for one day only as this is the first show and facilities are not available at this time for taking care of the stock for two or three days.

A number of places are available for the show and the best and most handy will be selected by the committee.

This is perhaps the most beneficial movement undertaken in recent months by the Commercial Club and will result in great benefits among the stock raising farmers of Milam county. It will do much good to promote a better grade of livestock and will introduce to a greater extent the breeds of live stock best suited for the county and most profitable to raise and market.

Cash premiums for all classes of entries in the show will be paid. The committee is as follows: W. M. Cobb, chairman; George T. Graves, B. P. Atkinson, R. R. Tyson and George Banzhaf.

BANKERS PLAN EX- PORT BOARD TO GET FOREIGN TRADE

Washington, Oct. 20.—Approval of a proposal to organize a $100,000,000 corporation to finance the Nation's foreign trade was given today by the American Bankers' Association, in convention here.

President Hawes was authorized to call a meeting of bankers and business men to work out plans for the formation of such a corporation under the provisions of the recently enacted Edge law, as proposed in the report of the association's committee on commerce and merchant marine, which was presented today.

John McHugh, chairman of the committee, presented the report, which recommended such a corporation.

The report said the economic future of the United States was "bound

IRISH QUESTION IS ROCKING EMPIRE AND STRIKE IS AIDING UNREST

London, Oct. 20.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief Secretary for Ireland, this afternoon alleged that "a deliberate and highly paid conspiracy is in existence to smash the British Empire."

Sir Hamar Greenwood made this declaration in the House of Commons, when discussion was opened on the Irish question.

"I would rather see the railways of Ireland closed down for 100 years than yield to the demands of the men, so long as the men refuse to transport British soldiers," said the Irish Secretary.

PALACE GUARDED

London, Oct. 20.—Police measures were taken today to guard Buckingham Palace from attack by unemployed. Warned by the gigantic demonstration in Downing Street Monday afternoon, Scotland Yard has concentrated a heavy force of policemen about the palace.

"BETRAYAL OF DEMOCRACY"

London, Oct. 20.—The British Government was accused of inaugurating a reign of military terrorism in Ireland and of "betraying democracy" by Arthur Henderson, Laborite member of the House of Commons, when debate upon the Irish situation opened in Commons this afternoon.

"There is no question that a policy of military terrorism has been inaugurated," said Henderson. "It is a betrayal of democracy. It is akin to doing what the Germans did in war time."

Henderson declared the "shifting policy" of the Government was responsible for the Sinn Fein murder outrages.

up in the future of our trade relations with other peoples."

Under existing conditions, it added, manufacturers, "unable to grant foreign customers credit necessary to continuing foreign purchase, have been forced to restrict their activities in the foreign fields."

By Sir J. J. Akk
"Under the Edge law such a corporation as contemplated would be permitted to issue debentures against foreign securities carefully purchased by it to the amount of ten times its capital so that it would have a maximum ability financially of about a billion dollars," said the report.

The people of the United States are carrying around in their pockets or hiding at home three billion dollars of American currency, or nearly one-half of the total supply, said Fred W. Ellsworth, vice president of the Hibernia Bank and Trust Company of New Orleans.

"This means that for every family in the country there is an average of $100, a large proportion of which should be in the banks, where it could accomplish for the business community infinitely more than it can resting in dismantled sugar bowls or in trouser pockets," Ellsworth continued.

PUBLISHERS' NOTICE

It is with genuine pleasure that The Cameron Herald announces the purchase and installation of stereotyping equipment for the exclusive benefit of our local as well as foreign advertisers.

With this equipment The Herald will be able to handle all art for advertising on a matrix basis and it will not be necessary for local or foreign advertisers to purchase cuts as this service is made possible to them without expense or obligation.

Cuts have become a big factor in advertising. Until recently Cameron merchants were forced to buy cuts, but The Herald three months ago bought exclusive services and has made possible the use of the service without cost to the merchants and at great advantage to them in doing scientific and effective advertising.

Our new equipment gives all the big daily papers can offer to their advertisers. This will in some measure show the appreciation for the splendid patronage both from our local advertisers as well as foreign advertisers.

The Herald has the exclusive rights on the following advertising services:

Standard Advertising Company, used by Marshal Field & Co. of Chicago; Sanger of Dallas and the world's greatest department stores. Bonnet Brown Sales Service, the largest advertising cut manufacturers in America.

The Murray Syndicate of New York, exclusive advertising art manufacturers.

This service with our stereotyping process makes better and more efficient printed salesmanship available without cost to our patrons.

By NATALIE J. HOYT.

1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was the latter part of a hot afternoon on one of the bare yet cluttered streets east of Third avenue. At a prominent window stood a little old woman looking anxiously up the street toward the corner, straining her eyes to pierce the heavy yellow haze.

A fire escape jutted out in front of her and hung down the face of the building, partially obstructing her view, so that she did not see him as he shuffled down the street, keeping as close as possible to the buildings and the scant protection they afforded from the sun.

He came up the rickety stairs, opened the battered door with a key from his pocket, and stepped into the room. Still she did not hear him, though the noise of elevated androlley and children in the streets.

"Mary!" She turned, half-startled, wholly relieved and came toward him. She may no longer have had hope, but she still had him!

He kissed her and went over to the rickety old couch and sat down—a very rickety old man. She seated herself beside him, laying her hand soothingly on his knee, observing with articulate misery the strained face and hopeless attitude.

"It's no use, Mary!" She did not seek to question or deny—just sat close to him, gently patting his knee.

"Three months now I have been at it—day in and day out. But who'd have a poor old horse like me? How do they know it ain't drink or good-for-nothingness that's brought me where I am? And even sickness is just as bad. What d'they want with an old man who's been sick—and shows it?"

Silence, his big hand now laid over hers.

"Milly and Dan," he rambled on again. "They've been keepin' us all this time—think of it, Mary!"

"But what could we do, Tom?" she interrupted hopelessly. "Milly wouldn't bear to our goin' to the almshouse."

"God help us, no! I wa'n't thinkin' of that. Don't you know they'd separate us there! There's a better way than that. You see, Mary, as I look at it we ain't entitled to more'n one life apiece, and for three months now you an' me's been poachin' on somebody else's." He looked at her, half humorously, half pityingly. "Would you be afraid, Mary—with me?"

She began to comprehend and a shiver passed through her. "You mean—you mean—"

"Wouldn't it be better'n to live apart, you an' me—who ain't never been separated for over 60 years?"

"Yes—oh, yes! she murmured. He turned her face up to his, looking into her eyes. "Tell me—you ain't afraid, my girl—with me?"

"No, Tom, I ain't afraid—to go anywhere with you!"

Meanwhile in the flat upstairs as though spreading their more youthful and sturdier wings protectively over the old people—lived the daughter and son-in-law. Here, some time later in the afternoon, the younger generation was likewise intent on discussing the great question of ways and means. But their faces were aglow with new hope and purpose.

"An' now, Milly, old girl," Dan exclaimed triumphantly, "you an' the little kid can go to the country an' take your blasted old fresh air cure!"

"Oh, Dan, ain't it grand!" she repeated for the hundredth time. "But just wait till I tell ma an' pa," she looked at him proudly, "that you been made a foreman! Didn't I always say 'was comin' to you? They ain't talked much about it, Dan, but they been frettin' mighty bad to think you've had to take care of 'em. It's been eatin' the very heart out o' poor pa—with me an' little Kitty sick especial. I just can't wait to tell 'em you've got some real pay comin' to you now, an' that I need 'em—as bad as they ever did us—to look after you an' the other kids while me an' Kitty's away. Come on—let's go down now!"

In buoyant spirits they hurried down the rickety stairs to the door below and tried the knob, then rapped—waited, and rapped again. But there was neither sound nor stir within.

Dan's face was set and he began to pound the door, that soon gave before his kicks and blows. A burst of heavy, nauseous air assailed them.

With instant command of the situation Dan seized the panic-stricken Milly, looking her in the eye—and spoke sharply. "Don't lose your nerve now! Open the windows wide, quick! I'll get an ambulance."

The young surgeon set to work with a will, enlisting the services of Dan and Milly by his brief, sharp orders.

"Any hope?" whispered Dan. "It doesn't seem as if there could have been a full flow of gas here," replied the young doctor. "I guess the meter must have run out."

Milly looked from the interne's face to her husband's.

"Dan! Just to think! An' I suppose poor pa didn't have another quarter to put in it!"

The young surgeon smiled up at them both.

GOVERNOR COX'S RECORD OF LEGISLATION.

In his three terms as chief executive of Ohio, Governor Cox brought about the enactment of the following laws. It is a record undisputable and carries with it an unanswerable argument for the woman's vote.

Labor Reforms.

Extra provision for dependents of men killed in mines.

Elimination of sweat shop labor.

Minimum wage and a shorter work day for women.

Modification of child laws, with establishment of child welfare departments.

Compulsory provision for mothers' pensions.

Social Service.

Laws to provide against adulteration of foodstuffs and to prevent combination to fix prices.

Establishment of State tuberculosis hospital and district hospitals throughout the state by county action.

Adoption of health code, with special appropriation to combat epidemics and contagious diseases.

Formation of a state-wide social agency committee, bringing into mutual operation all recognized social agencies of the state (the only one of its kind in the Union) having complete co-operation with state departments. (Other states are accepting this as a model.)

Establishment of a bureau of juvenile research looking toward the elimination of causes which produce defective children.

Educational.

Additional pay for teachers. Consolidated schools in excess of 1,200, with full high school courses, have supplanted more than five times that number of one-room school houses.

To meet emergencies, provision has been made for State aid to weak school districts, so that the educational facilities of Ohio rural communities are equal to the best in the city.

Establishment of courts of domestic relations in larger counties of the state.

Creation of a state board for vocational education to promote this system in public schools.

Vocational training for blind children.

"CAVEMAN" STUFF ALL RIGHT

Now, she is a very, sarcastic young woman, and the man who wishes to marry her is often much tormented with her ability to say things which make him distinctly uncomfortable. One night one of his friends and he decided to go to a picture house and there they saw a play in which the caveman stuff was exceedingly strong. Evidently that gave the young man an inspiration, for the next cutting remark the young woman made he resented.

He had come to take her for a drive. After getting her safely settled in his car and having placed a large box of candy in her lap he settled down for a pleasant evening. But not long. The young woman could not stand his ease. She deliberately opened her box, took out a bonbon, nibbled at it a minute and then said in icy tones: "Why, this candy is stale."

At first the young man felt inclined to writhe, but the next minute the caveman stuff of the movie darted into his mind. He did what he thought was a real rough act. He seized that beautiful box of candy and threw it as far as he could.

For a long time there was silence. Then the girl began the conversation. And this time she spoke meekly and in "honied" tones. She is still speaking in the same way whenever she is with him.—Indianapolis News.

-MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, says a noted authority, but eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the day.

Provision for an institution for the treatment and education of deformed and crippled children.

Granting children of school age, who are inmates of a county, semi-public, or district children's home, the privileges of public schools.

THE "OLD RELIABLE" THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old-Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also assists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities. Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Thedford's, the genuine.

MUSHROOMS OF ALL SORTS

Edible and Poisonous, While One Species, Grown in Africa, Is Worshiped as a God.

In or about the edges of woods one occasionally comes across an unpleasant-looking umbrella-shaped mushroom with a red or orange-colored top that is covered with a slimy exudation. Now and then, strange to say, people eat it. They die.

Its slime is very attractive to flies. They gather upon it, and they die. In Europe this species of mushroom is used as a substitute for fly-paper.

The horrible-smelling "clathrus" mushroom is believed in France to cause cancer. French people call it the "cancer mushroom." Another species, which grows on olive trees, is so luminous at night that one can see to read by it.

Other kinds of mushrooms are used for making ink, for stanching the flow of blood and (in Lapland) for killing bedbugs. A European species is employed to stupefy bees, and certain "puffballs" are said to have anesthetic properties. Tribes of semi-savages in northeastern Asia utilize a mushroom for snuff. But most curious of all is the Polyporus sacer, which in Africa is worshiped as a god.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

To neutralize these irritating acids and to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

He began his speech presenting the necessity of a government. Then he showed the purpose of government, saying that it was to define and secure rights, not to confer them. To preserve and insure the liberty of man, not to enlarge it. He based his statement on the declaration that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, and that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; and that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

He stated that government was a science just as is architecture, and that a misapplication of its principles will weaken and destroy it just as a misapplication of the principles of architecture will weaken and destroy the building which the architect is constructing. Applying these principles he showed the character of the state government as being a republic, and the national government as being a republic of a republic.

Taking up the cost of government he said we buy our government just as we do the other necessities of life and that we ought to get our money's worth, and that we ought not to have to buy more than we need or something that the government ought not to do as government. He said that it was a democratic principle that there should be economy of the expenditure of the public money, that the burdens of government might fall lightly upon labor. But notwithstanding this fact, the democratic party of Texas has carried on a saturnalia of taxation and extortion and riot of waste and extravagance in this state that is unparalleled and showed that it had forgotten and abandoned the old democratic principles.

He declared the legislature had increased the salary, by indirection and in violation of the constitution, of every constitutional officer in the executive branch of the government, by adding traveling expenses to such salary; that to the constitutional officers they had added more than twenty-five boards, bureaus and commissions with numberless employees; that they had allowed these board traveling expenses in addition to their salary amounting to nearly a million dollars. He said that any of these boards could be abolished and if he was elected governor, he would abolish the pure food and drug department, and told how he would do it, thereby saving $109,900.00 to the state. He said he would abolish the marketing and warehouse department with its appropriation of $173,000; forty-eight thousand of which is available for traveling expenses. He said he would abolish the Reclamation Department with its $55,000 expenses; the Industrial Welfare Commission with its $27,000 appropriation; the Board of Water Engineers with its $103,000 appropriation, and several other boards, as well as the fourteen sub-experimental stations carrying an appropriation of $181,000.

He said these fourteen sub-experimental stations were fourteen little farms in high state of cultivation, fenced and cross fenced, provided with a nice house and other buildings, with tools, implements, stock and feed, and were allowed from $1700 to $2,200 for labor and some friends of the governor were given $1,800 to live on these little farms and teach the farmers of Texas how to farm. He said if he was elected he would bunch these 14 different institutions and put them out of business. His declarations on these lines undoubtedly, met with the unanimous and hearty approval of his audience.

Mr. McGregor went into the matter and reviewed to his audience how the state gets money to pay her bills by taxing the citizens. Then he showed this money was taken to Austin and drawn out of the treasury to pay traveling expenses, both in and out of the state. He declared that one employee had gone to California and had spent a month, and came back and the state paid the expenses of the trip, being $549.20. He said that this man spent $114 of the people's money for a place to sleep for eight nights, or $14.25 a night.

He declared other employees had taken trip after trip out of the state on so-called official business and had spent the people's money in the same way. He said if he was elected governor, and the employees left the state, that they would have to walk, and while gone would have to stay awake as he would veto any character of appropriation of such trip.

He declared that the Agricultural Department is allowed $310,944, of which $121,000 may be used for traveling expenses. He analyzed this last amount and said that a man could go around the world 161 times on it. He said if he was elected he would veto any appropriation for the Agricultural Department, and that the A. & M. College ought to function that department on the appropriation which it now has.

He then presented that the Comptroller's department was allowed $16,000, the Agricultural Department, $10,000 and other departments large sums, which might be used for stamps. He said this money could be drawn out of the Treasury for stamps and that was the last record as to what became of it. He said that the Agricultural department drew $400 in August, the Comptroller's department $500 and the Market and Warehouse Department $600, or $1,500 for these departments. At two cents each this was enough money to carry 75,000 letters. He then asked his audience if any of them received a letter from either of these departments during the month of August. He said if he was elected governor, he would ask the legislature to pass a bill requiring all mail in the capitol to be mailed out of the Secretary of State's office, being stamped in that office and the record of the mail from each department being kept daily. This he declared would alone save this state thousands of dollars.

McGregor next took up the highway Department and presented that its office pay roll for the month of January was $11,866.66. This was for salaries only in the office, one man the highway engineer, being paid a salary of $10,000 a year. He said that the Highway Department has in operation thirty-one automobiles, being kept up and operated at the expense of the state. The commissioner in Austin drives a Hudson six that the state owns and the people pay for his gasoline and oil. The commissioner from San Antonio and the one from Bosque each drive a Buick six, belonging to the state. The other twenty-one cars are being run by different employees of the department, and the people are paying the gasoline bills. He said there were over a hundred cars being operated at the expense of the state and that he would ask the legislature to concentrate them and sell them and turn the money into the Treasury, and if they refused to do so, that he would veto the purchase of a pint of gasoline with which to run them as he was going to stop officials joy-riding in Texas.

He said he would veto any appropriation for the highway department and would have the Railroad Commission to function that department. He said that he favored an automobile tax as now levied, but that he wanted it all to go to the county in which the automobile was licensed.

Mr. McGregor said the University greatest institutions in the country of Texas could be made one of the on much less money than it is now getting, and that he would veto any appropriation therefor exceeding $500,000. He said the University received under Governor Campbell for four years $690,000. Under Colquitt for four years it received $1,300,000. Under Ferguson for two years it received $1,200,000 while under Hobby it received $3,415,151.00, or more than a tenth of the entire advalorem revenue of this state.

He said by eliminating duplicated chairs in the University and the A. & M. College and by making the law and the medical department and professional departments self-sustaining it could operate on $500,000 and have its available fund left intact for all building purposes.

Touching the eleemosynary institutions he said he wrote the two bills under which the Carlsbad Tuberculosis Sanitarium and the school for the blind were built, and that he would see that they were provided with adequate revenue to run them as he would for all such other institutions in the state. The other high educational institutions should receive appropriation consistent with the state's other obligations. He gave considerable attention to public schools questions of the state, and said he would quit feeding so many office holders we could educate more children. He wanted the 50,000 children who are not now going to school in Texas for the want of facilities to be immediately provided for and the 2,000 school houses which are now closed for the want of teachers to be immediately opened to the children of the state.

The Constitution limits the right of the governor to call the legislature together in extra session to extraordinary occasions. This also will mean that when they are so called that there should only be submitted to them matters of impending public necessity. I will observe this Constitutional limitation.

"The too frequent convening and prolonged extra sessions of the legislature has become a prolific source of expense to the state which calls for an observance of the constitutional limitation dealing with extra sessions."

MR. NEFF.
A governor's conception of government should be in accord with the particular form of government which he is to administer. A Democrat and not a socialist should preside over a democracy. It is the way man thinks about government that makes him either a real democrat or a socialist. If he has democratic thoughts and ideas he is a democrat. If he has socialist visions and dreams he is a socialist and taking away from him of a land plank and electing him governor on so-called democratic ticket will not make him a democrat. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." When Mr. Neff announced for governor he said he wanted somebody to have a home—that he wanted to bring together the landless man and the landless land. When I read that announcement I thought he is a philanthropist and must be reckoned with. Then I read further and saw how he proposed to get the landless man and the landless land together by confiscating one man's property and giving it to another and then I thought, "No, he is not a philanthropist, he is a socialist." Then Senator Bailey took that land plank and made a paddle of it and spanked Mr. Neff all over Texas with it.

But still Mr. Neff beat Mr. Bailey, thousands of people voting for him because of that land plank and because they believed in it. But no sooner was he nominated than he abandoned his land plank and forgot and deserted those who had voted for him on account of it. And then I said, "No, he is not a socialist, he is just plain quitter. He never presented his land plank to the committee on resolutions nor to the convention, but deserted and abandoned it. When he did that, when he foresook his only plank of a platform on which he had been nominated and surrendered to that convention he released from the pledge every man who had taken part in primary election whether they voted for or against him. He having broken faith with the people by a complete surrender of the victory they had won they are not now bound morally or legally to vote for him and will not do so in November."

Prior to the first primary Mr. Neff charged the Hobby administration with high crimes and misdemeanors and yet when the Fort Worth convention indorsed the Hobby administration blue ridge and all Mr. Neff blandly smiled and said "it is a beautiful platform" and took his position on it. But this was too much for the Dallas News and it petulently said editorially to Mr. Neff: "No, it is not a beautiful platform and even if it is pretty you did not contribute to its beauty."

Poor Pat he has had a hard time in life which may account, in a measure, for his bad memory as to this first of the three important dates in a man's life. You know Dr. Brooks said of him he was not like other boys.

He never baited a fishing hook,
Nor spit upon a worm,
Nor loitered by a brook,
And caught the liar's germ.
He never got up with the sun
To greet a waking world,
He never fired a single gun,
And never hugged a girl.
He never swore an oath they say,
Nor did a single sin.
He has a heart as cold as clay,
He's out of touch with men.

If what he said about himself right after the election when he said that he owed it to his friends to tell them the truth about his age is true, then he was not even like other girls. He never had any paper dolls, nor pretty pictures nor play houses—he never even had a birthday cake with candles on it so he could tell how old he was.

No card carrying labor man can afford to vote for Mr. Neff because he has declared that he favors the establishment of an Industrial Court which means compulsory arbitration, if there can be such a thing. He favors the Kansas Industrial Court law which denies to labor the right to contract as to the hours, conditions and wages of labor.

No employer of labor can afford to vote for a man for governor who favors such a law for it denies to the employer the right of contract and opens the door to the confiscation of his property.

After Mr. Neff had denounced Mr. Bailey and all of his friends for everything of which he could conceive he persistently challenged Senator Bailey for a joint debate which Senator Bailey under the circumstances very properly declined to accept, because such debate he said "would culminate in disorder," meaning of course that it would break up in a rough house. Now you have not heard of Mr. Neff challenging me for a joint debate and if he does so he will "get action for his money," right now regardless of whether such debate "culminates in disorder" or ends in a prayer meeting.

If you want to vote the democratic ticket and at the same time vote for me you can do so by simply running a pencil through Mr. Neff's name and writing mine in. But the better way to do it would be to vote the American party ticket straight and help us to effect a radical and beneficial change in conditions in Texas.

MR. CULBERTSON.
Why vote for Mr. Culbertson for governor of Texas and lose your only vote. So if Mr. Culbertson were to get all of the Republican votes he could not win. As there are two Republican tickets on the ballot Mr. Culbertson will not get half of the Republican vote. As the black and tan outnumber the lily white, so why vote for him and lose your vote? Why not vote with the American party and beat the Democratic machine in Texas. But if you are going to vote the Republican ticket anyhow just to be regular, then scratch Mr. Culbertson's name out and write mine in and I will beat Mr. Neff regardless of whether he is 47 or 48 years old.

THE WOMEN'S VOTE
The women of Texas ought to vote for me for Governor for I have been responsible for more legislation of which they approve than any other two men in the public life of this state.

On the 16th day of January, 1913, as shown by the Senate Journal I introduced into the Texas Senate the first resolution that was ever submitted to that body to let the women of Texas vote. I forced that resolution to a vote by the senate when I received eight affirmative votes, being the first time that any such resolution had ever been voted on by either branch of the Texas Legislature. I re-introduced the resolution in January, 1915, secured a favorable report thereon and held it in suspense at the request of the authors of a similar resolution then pending in the House.

suffrage was to grant state suffrage and this I tried to do by my resolution. Had my resolution passed and we never would have surrendered the been adopted by the people of Texas right of the state to control the suffrage of the citizens. Some people do not seem to understand the difference between state woman's suffrage and national woman's suffrage. The difference is as radical as the difference between a man giving his wife a hat and some other fellow giving her one. The state had the legal right to confer suffrage while the federal government usurped the right to do so and thereby destroyed the right of the state in this great question affecting the autonomy of the state.

Another law which I wrote and as a private citizen passed through the Legislature was the bill under which the Tuberculosis Sanitarium at Carlsbad was constructed. I never doubt every woman in Texas approves that measure. Consumption has waged an insidious, silent and successful war on mankind through all the ages of the earth. In every era, in every clime it has pursued a cruel, constant and ceaseless course. No race of men or women have been immune from its pallid touch. It has subdued the strong frame of the savage and touched the beauty of civilization's cheek with the hectic flush of death. It has destroyed the strong and weak alike; it has said to the honored and aged: "lie down here," while in happy homes with its cold and clammy touch it has stilled the pattering of little feet. This pallid creature, this "pale death with impartial fate"

Knocks at the cottage door and
The palace gate.
It has stripped royalty of its jewels and purple and gold, and poverty of its rags and laid them down in the dark damp grave together. It has indeed, been no respecter of persons—its victims sleep prematurely in the shade of Hawthorne trees and rest untimely in the bosom of marble mountains. It has filled the homes of wealth with unspeakable grief and sorrow and tears; while the cottages of the poor it has desolated and filled with unutterable misery. It has sat down the spectre of every feast, and its hacking and crackling cough has marred the melody and broken the music of the world.

Wherever death has ridden upon its white horse, this pale, insatiable lieutenant has rallied its cruel, invisible hosts against men, and has brought more want and woe, grief and sorrow, misery and death than all the wars and famine and pestilences in the history of the world.

Against the constant and recurring attacks of this awful disease man has stood a helpless and hopeless victim. Science for a long time too, baffled and abashed, while love ministered to her loved ones, conscious that there was no relief. But after the long struggle through the dark hours of all the recurring years science, intelligence, experience has triumphed over the "white plague" and we have begun a warfare which will eventually drive it from our state forever.

We are in the morning of a day it has been abundantly proven that consumption is both preventable and permanently curable. Not only have individuals, associations, and cities listed to drive this insidious destroyer from our midst, but the state has given evidence of her determination in this war on the enemy of mankind.

When I went before the Legislature and asked them to pass that bill I stated I had come for the old, whose stooped and shrunken shoulders speak long and constant pain, and whose crackling cough sounds even in life the hollow echoes of the tomb. That I had come for the middle aged, too often the very flower of the citizenship of the state, whose recurring temperature and quick breath speaks the presence of the world's greatest enemy, whose spectre is the skeleton of their every feast. That I had come also for the motherhood of Texas, whose shrunken and pale face makes a veritable melody of misery as she lays her withered hands with enlarged ligaments and swollen veins upon the heads of little children whose early orphanage the state could prevent. That I had come for the young manhood of Texas and for her boys, the highest and best type of the mental and moral citizenship of the world the hope and promise of the state, even upon some of whom the White Plague has set its seal, while the hectic flush of death blooms upon their cheeks. That I had come for the girls of Texas, the sweetest flowers that bloom on all her prairies or blossom in all her valleys, whose exquisite beauty charms and whose virgin purity casts its refining radiance into all our homes, and yet too often their frail and cultured forms feel the touch of the White Destroyer and on their ruby lips blushes the carmine hue of death. That I had come for little babes who pollowed upon their mothers' bosoms draw infection from the fountain of life. And representing all of these I had come to make an appeal through the Legislature to the great heart of Texas.

Texas heard my appeal and gave us that splendid institution yonder at Carlsbad as an earnest of what she will yet do. We dedicated it to all the people of Texas as to the source of sunshine, or happiness, of returning strength and health and beauty, and consecrated it with the prayer that its blessings might reach throughout all the earth. I know that every woman in Texas approves that act of mine.

erect hospitals for the sick afflicted, and impoverished. Many of the counties in Texas have taken advantage of the provisions of this bill and built such hospitals. The name under which this bill was enacted is that of Mrs. O. B. Colquitt, the wife of the Ex-Governor, she having conceived the terms, purpose and scope of the bill and I introduced it and passed it at her request. As these institutions go up over the state, they will become monuments to this splendid act and to the memory of one of the best women who ever occupied the Governor's mansion.

I made a campaign of the state in the fall of 1917 and the spring of 1918 asking the people of this state to build a new blind school. I wrote the demand therefor in the El Paso platform and in 1915 I wrote and forced the passage of the bill under which the present school for the blind was built. The old school had been built in 1856 and had been added to from time to time and was a veritable fire trap, yet it was the home of more than 400 blind children. It would have burned in an hour had it caught fire. I was not only anxious to build for these children a home of safety, but I wanted to do more and we built for them the best and most modern school for the blind in America, and every bling child of scholastic age in Texas ought to be in that institution. Why should we not do something for them? These little children have so little. For them there are no tops nor marbles, no pretty pictures, no paper dolls, no play houses. For them there are no shifting seasons. For them there is no vernal spring whose bursting bud and bloom and flower foretells autumn's harvest home. For them there is no gorgeous, golden summer. No varied and visible autumn, whose royal colors of purple, and scarlet and gold tint hill and valley plain and prairie and make a panorama of perfect beauty out of whose dead forgetmenots will come the modest violets of the returning spring time teaching the lesson that through death comes life. For them there is no winter whose mantling snow and crystal ice make this world a sparkling jewel in nature's wondrous crown.

For them there is no recurring morning with rosy fingers to let the sun in. No glorious noon whose resplendent sun crystalizes a million mysteries. No floating clouds, no bow of promise when the storms have passed away. No slow descending sun which lies down upon a bed of dying glories to watch the world to sleep. No soft twilight, no pale moon, no trembling stars, but all is darkness, darkness as black as the ebon pall of the dead. For this official act I know that I have received the gratitude of these little children and the prayers of their mothers in the stillness of the night.

I believe we take out of government those things which we put in government. I have therefore sought to contribute to that legislation which benefits and blesses mankind and for these reasons I believe that the women of Texas should vote for me for governor.

AMERICANISM
We believe that Jefferson's first inaugural address is to Democracy—is to Americanism—what the ten commandments are to the domain of morals, or what the sermon on the Mount is to the spirit of religion, and we re-affirmed it as the soul of Americanism, as the heart of the platform of the American Party. Around it is clustered the glory and achievements of this country and to abandon its principles enunciated is to change the form, scope and purpose of this government and to set children afloat in an untested ship, without compass or rudder and upon an uncertain and uncharted sea. This we are unwilling to do and this we will not permit others to do. With him we believe in a "wise and frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned."

We believe in that Americanism which was born here and which found its expression in the eloquence of Henry, the sword of Washington, the pen of Thomas Jefferson, and the learning and patriotism of Marshall. We want to teach our children to learn and cherish the history and traditions of our country to know and appreciate its struggles and its achievements. We want to teach them to place Americans among but not of the nations of the earth and to regard the framers of our constitution as the greatest body of men who ever assembled on this earth at any time for any purpose.

We believe and declare that our constitution in state and nation is the ark of the covenant of our government and that he who disregards its mandates or lays unholy hand upon it should be smitten as was he who sought to lay his impious hand upon the Ark of the Covenant of the Living God. The federal constitution being the bed rock upon which this government rests it should only be amended by a direct vote of all the people of all the states. This would prevent the recurrence of the unholy act by which the legislature of the state of Texas ratified an amendment to that constitution in utter disregard of and in violation of the expressed will of her people. Those who have shown a disposition to embezzle power should be stripped of that power.

Americanism means a government by law as contrasted with a government by autocracy, bureaucracy or by mob violence. It means a government by legislation which observes the rule established by the fundamental law,

It means a government which founded upon the theory of existing rights of individuals, the right of private property and the great personal rights of the citizen. Americanism means the freedom of religion with the separation of Church and State; the freedom of the press; the right to contract and to be protected in the contract made; the right to acquire and own property; the right to invoke the due process of law in every walk of life, with the attendant right to demand that the government guarantee and secure these rights in all their detail.

Americanism means a government founded upon Magna Charta, wrested from King John at Runnymede, which English civilization protested for all time to come against any tyrannical invasion of the rights of the individual and announced the doctrine of the largest amount of liberty consistent with the safety of the whole and the freedom and happiness of the individual.

Americanism means that the purpose of government is to define and secure rights already existing—not to confer them; to preserve and insure the liberty of the individual citizen, not to enlarge not to limit it. It means that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed." This is the whole purpose of government—this is the essence of our Americanism. This purpose and its spirit find expression in the Bill of Rights which is the basis of the federal as well as of every state constitution in this Union and is controlling upon every court, every legislature, every executive and every citizen in this country.

Americanism means a representative government whose representatives reflect and execute the people's will. A simple economical government by law and not a complex government by boards, bureaus and commissions harassing the people and destroying their liberties while they burden and eat up the substance of the people with grievous and extortionate taxes. It means a system of government which will not tolerate a tyrant whether in the form of autocracy or democracy. Our constitution was established and our government was chartered in order to create a government free from the evils of tyranny in any form and from any source. It means that the functions of government should be applied for governmental purposes only, within constitutional confines and that the field of industry and enterprise should be left to the private individual. It means that the limitations of the functions of government is the protection of the citizen in his life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. It means that this is a government of laws and not of men; that the duties of every officer in this country state and nation are defined by law and that his powers are limited by the constitution which must and shall all time prevail. Failure to recognize this principle in our government will lead either to the tyranny and oppression of a centralized and strong government, or to paternalism of an insidious and destroying socialism. The one is the tyranny of the executive; the other is the rule of the mob; the parent of anarchy, either of which is destructive of the government under which we live. The one makes its approach through executive usurpation, the other comes with the creation of boards, bureaus and commissions with discretionary powers.

Americanism means the preservation of our government in its theory and form by law, a government under which the individual of every class shall be protected in his property and personal rights, a government where the foundation law safeguarding these rights shall be consistently interpreted and surely enforced, a government where constitutional safeguards shall be preserved in all their efficiency and under which every individual in every community shall be secure against either direct or indirect violence, extortion or oppression. For these purposes was our government conceived and created. Out of this spirit was born Americanism. In the preservation of this purpose is involved, for weal or woe, the destiny of these republics constituting as they do a republic of republics.

The basic theory of this government dear to the heart of every patriot is that all government, state and national, shall confine its activities under the law, to the discharge of governmental functions and shall leave the field of industry and enterprise to the private individual.

To secure these blessings provided for in the formation of our government, and to avert the evils existing and threatened, caused by a departure from its fundamental principles, there is but one remedy and that is to arouse the American people, in state and nation, and cause them to rally to their country's call and swing the government back to a republic, back to that Americanism which conceived, and founded it and under which is blessed its people and assured its commanding position among the nations of the earth. This, and this alone, is Americanism, and to its preservation and perpetuation we pledge our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

BUCKHOLTS NEWS

By Audrey Criswell

Mr. Tom Williams of Walnut Springs is here to see his son, Mr. Harvey Williams and other relatives. Superintendent J. F. Chadwick and Mr. H. M. Hefley of Cameron were visitors to our school last week. Mr. Hefley presented the pupils with serviceable book covers as compliments of the First National Bank of Cameron. He made a short talk, emphasizing the necessity and advantage of learning thrift while still children.

The first number of the lyceum course will be given at the school auditorium Thursday night. Mr. H. V. Adams, the well known educator, will deliver a lecture. The White and Meyer Lyceum Bureau furnished this place with high class entertainment during last season and the people are eagerly awaiting the opening of the new season.

Mrs. Carol Adams was hostess last Friday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower given Miss Hope Blankenship. The guests spent a pleasant time in social intercourse and then the gifts were presented to the honoree. Many handsome and useful gifts were received, including a full china dinner set, a cut glass punch set, linens, and aluminum ware.

The following were in Rogers last week to attend the carnival at that place: Misses Rowena Buck, Bertha Griswold, Lucille Hooks, Leola Custard, and Messrs. Lawrence Swanzy, Clarence Ramey, Condra Slone and John Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hill entertained a number of their friends Friday night at their attractive home about one mile north of town. The guests were amused by playing cards and games, and various contests, departing at a late hour and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Hill for the pleasant evening spent in their home.

Mrs. R. K. Marburger and daughter, Miss Fairy, spent the past week end at their home in Ben Arnold.

Miss Elsie Wendt left Sunday evening for Baskin, where she opened her school at that place on the following Monday.

Mr. George Goree attended the State Fair at Dallas last week.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Clarence Hopkins and Miss Hope Blankenship, both of this place, were married by Rev. F. O. Favre. Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will make their home on the Bass farm near Buckholts. Their friends wish for them much happiness.

Miss Mary Newton who teaches in the Calvert school was here during the week end to see friends.

Mrs. S. Henderson and Miss Mamie Henderson of Louise were here last week to see Mesdames Tom Henderson and Tom Floyd.

The Crochet Club held an interesting meeting last week at the home of Mrs. S. M. Corley. The Club was reorganized with about twenty members present. A pleasant time was spent by the ladies. At the conclusion of the evening Mrs. Corley served punch and cake. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. E. J. Kahler.

Misses Ada Belle McGuire and Esther Fielder, assistant teachers in the Ad Hall school were here Monday to see friends.

BRANCHVILLE NOTES

The literary and civic club held one of the most interesting meetings of the season on Friday evening, October 15th. An unusual number of the members were present and each number of the program was responded to in an interesting manner. A two minute talk by each member added the amusement and new life to the meeting in which each took part and there were various kinds of speeches. The answer to roll call with a current event is another feature which creates enthusiasm.

Rev. Billy Read has resigned his pastorate of the Baptist church.

Rev. Ben Darby of Waco preached at the Baptist church last Sunday, October 17th.

The Methodist church, which is being repaired is nearing completion, and it is hoped will be ready for a fifth quarterly conference, which Dr. Tally, presiding elder, wishes to hold at this place about October 26th.

Mrs. A. J. Walker, who was badly injured in an auto accident is gradually improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Harlan, who were married only a few days past, are for the present making their home with Mr. Harlan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Smith and Mr. Woodfin Smith motored to Calvert Sunday afternoon to visit friends.

Rev. and Mrs. Graves Darby of Madisonville who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McIntosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Looney attended the funeral services of Mrs. Mayes at Maysfield, Sunday afternoon.

"BAYER CROSS" ON ASPIRIN

Always Ask for Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Only Aspirin Tablets with the safety "Bayer Cross" on them are genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," owned and made by Americans and proved safe by millions of people. Unknown quantities of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold recently by a Brooklyn dealer which proved to be composed mostly of Talcum Powder.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" should always be asked for. Then look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on each tablet. Accept nothing else! Proper directions and dosage in each Bayer package.

"Eternal Vigilance Is the Price of Liberty"

TO MILAM COUNTY DEMOCRATS---MEN AND WOMEN:

The enemies of Democracy in Texas are trying to unite into one faction, misnamed "American Party," all dissatisfied elements, consisting, principally, of those of foreign birth, or foreign extraction, and the Socialists; and, through surreptitious bids for the negro vote, to defeat the Democratic party in State and county. The only tie that tends to bind these otherwise discordant elements is the hope to bring whiskey back.

The Democratic Party in the South is the White Man's Party.

Though numerically weak and sadly misguided the members of this so-called "American Party" are astir, and every last one of them will vote in the approaching election. Their only hope of success is that the Democrats, through over-confidence and lack of interest, will not go to the polls. Let not the Democrats play into their hands.

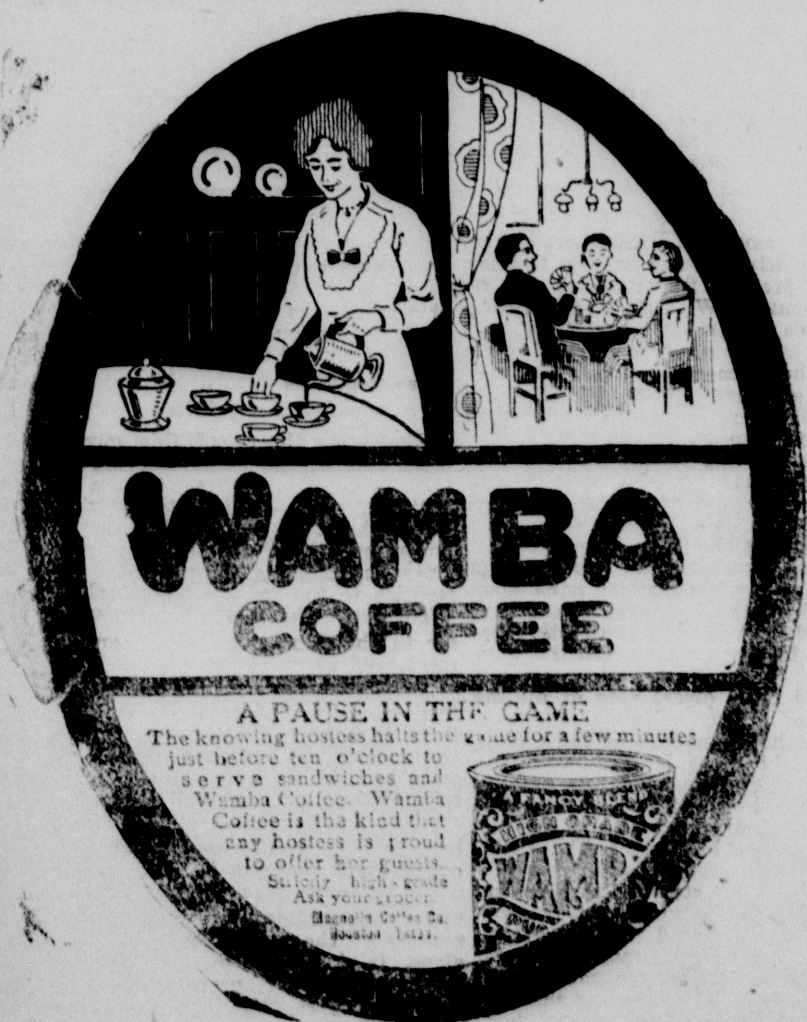

Every Democrat should vote. To fail is a grave mistake. Personal differences and preferences between Democrats were settled in the primaries. Now all of us must rally to the support of the common cause---Democratic Victory in Nation, in State and in County.

Texas Expects Every Democrat to Do His Duty.

This means that every man and woman of Democratic faith must attend the polls and vote on November 2nd.

Prominent New York Banker Says Aim Is 100% Relief of Starving Peoples.

"Just what is the Near East Relief? Is the question that many people are asking whose interests have been awakened to the terrible conditions existing in the Levant today," says Alexander J. Hemphill, President of the Guarantee Trust Company and well known New York banker and financier. "In prosaic facts, the Near East Relief is a body incorporated by act of Congress the object of which is to provide relief and to assist in the repatriation, rehabilitation and re-establishment of suffering and dependent people of the Near East and adjacent areas; to provide for the care of orphans and widows and to promote the social, economic and industrial well-

ALEXANDER J. HEMPHILL.

100 Per Cent Relief.

"The aim of the organization is 100 per cent relief, the relief which puts those aided on a self-supporting basis, which instills in them a confidence for the future, places in their hands the means with which to begin life anew, and in their hearts the courage to go on. Work, that is the prescription subscribed and provided by those loyal men and women who have journeyed into perilous places for the sake of their fellow men; to make these people independent for the future, to encourage the flickering fire of national pride.

"There are 82,291 workers employed in the industrial establishments of the Near East Relief, where wool is furnished for the women to spin and weave, and all the girls who are strong enough are washing wool, sewing beds, grinding and sifting wheat, tailoring and learning to make lace. The big problem is to make these women independent.

"About 500 American men and women, Near East Relief workers, are now in the field, including 36 eminent physicians and surgeons, 76 nurses, 7 mechanics, 15 industrial experts, 16 agriculturists, 14 bacteriologists, 197 relief workers, 25 supply and transport workers, 19 teachers, 20 administrators, 34 secretaries, 7 engineers and 45 army officers.

Where Money Goes.

"Funds for relief purposes are distributed in two ways: First, the various relief centers are authorized by the Executive Committee to draw sight drafts on New York for specific amounts each month; second, by supplies purchased in America, the major portion of which are shipped to the committee warehouses at Derindje, and the remainder either to Beyrouth or Batoum.

"The relief is rapidly expanding and meeting the situation, but the future depends on the continuation of American support."

According to Mr. Hemphill, the need for American help to see the destitute peoples of the Near East through the crisis of present conditions is greater now than ever before on account of the uncertainty as to the future, the truculence of the Turkish government and the danger of bolshevism from Russia which threatens to engulf the whole of Armenia.

Who Direct the Work.

Mr. Hemphill is the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Near East Relief. Other members are Dr. James L. Barton, Secretary of the Foreign Department of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions; Edwin M. Bulkley, banker, of Spencer Trask & Co., New York; Judge Abram I. Elkus, former United States Ambassador to Turkey; Harold A. Hatch, a well known New York cotton man; Herbert Hoover; William R. Millar, one of the Secretaries of the Interchurch World Movement; Henry Morgenthau, United States Ambassador to Mexico; Edgar Rickard of the American Relief Administration; Charles A. Vickrey, who is Secretary of the Near East Relief; and Dr. Stanley White, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

MRS. T. R. DEPEW DIES IN CAMERON

HAD RESIDED HERE ONLY SIX WEEKS PRECEDING ILLNESS WHICH RESULTED IN HER DEATH.

Mrs. Laura Depew, aged 33 years, wife of T. R. Depew, federal government cotton classifier in Cameron, died at the family residence in this city Saturday, October 16th at 12:30 p. m., after an illness of several days. Death resulted from pneumonia which developed from influenza.

Mrs. Depew is survived by her husband and four small children to whom the mother gave her last measure of strength in ministering to them during their illness as it was during this time that she contracted influenza. Of the children there are two boys and two girls, all small. Mrs. Depew had been in Cameron only six weeks when she contracted the illness that resulted in her death.

She was a native of Karnes county, having been reared in Rungt. She was a devout member of the Methodist church and the funeral conducted in Cameron was held by Rev. Ira F. Key, pastor of the Methodist church in Cameron. She was a member of the Ward Memorial Methodist church in Austin and the Rev. Duke, pastor there, conducted the services. The body was shipped to Austin for burial.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 17.—Mrs. T. R. Depew, 33 years of age, died at Cameron, Texas, Saturday at 12:30 o'clock, according to information received in Austin by a brother of Mr. Depew Saturday. Deceased and her husband had lived in Austin for ten years and were well known here, but a few months ago removed to Cameron, at which place Mr. Depew is a government cotton classifier.

Aside from the widower, Mrs. Depew left four small children, two girls and two boys, the oldest of which, it was stated by Mr. Depew's brother, is but 8 years of age. Cause of death was pneumonia following influenza. Sympathy will naturally be extended the widower and the motherless children in their deep grief. The body of Mrs. Depew reached Austin early

Sunday morning, accompanied by the husband and friends, and interment was made in Oakwood Cemetery this afternoon. The funeral was held from the home of J. M. Owing, a brother of Mr. Depew, who lives at Ridgeway.

The body of Mrs. Depew was conveyed to Rockdale Sunday morning by Henne & Meyer undertaking establishment for shipment to Austin. The family accompanied the body in the special motor hearse provided by the undertakers.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the friends who came to us in our hour of trouble and sorrow, and contributed all that human kindness could suggest, to help and comfort we return most heartfelt thanks, and although such devoted friendship can not remove the sad memories that linger around our vacant chair, it brings into view the brightest side of humanity, and throws the pure light of an unselfish friendship into a darkened home.

May the day be far distant when those friends who gathered around us in the death and illness of our beloved wife and mother, Mrs. Laura Depew, will need similar attention, but when the time comes may they receive the same full measure of generous aid and tender sympathy they brought to our home when death was an inmate there.

JEFFERSON B. WHITE, Local Mgr.

ARTICLE TEN

"The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve, as against external aggression, the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression, the council shall advise up-
on the means by which this obligation is to be fulfilled."

This is the terrible Article 10 of
the league covenant, which the Republicans are using as a bogey man
to frighten American voters. Notice
that it relates only to EXTERNAL aggression. Such aggression, that is,
as Germany committed against Belgium. It does not pledge the nations
to preserve territorial integrity to
any government against any constituent part. It does not guarantee British territorial integrity in Ireland, for example. But if Ireland became an independent nation and a member of
the league, it would preserve its territorial integrity against all outside
aggressors. Notice also that the council shall ADVISE upon action to be taken. No nation is under obligation
to act upon that advice. Each nation
is free to accept it or reject it as it believes advisable and right. Even if
the council should advise military action, it could not order a single man
of a single nation into the field. Finally it should be noticed that there
is no provision for action by majority vote in the case, which means that unanimous agreement would be necessary for the council to give the advice. Article 5 of the covenant provides that "except where otherwise
expressly provided in this covenant, or
by the terms of this treaty, decisions
at any meeting of the assembly or of
the council shall require the agreement of all the members of the league
represented at the meeting." The United States would be a permanent member of the council. We would have an absolute veto on any advice
proposed.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

SUPPORT THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

The ballot will test on November 2nd whether the milestones of progress will be turned into steps of reaction.

This may be said to be the most crucial hour in the history of mankind.

In all the history of the world
there has never been as great a divergence of political faiths and so widespread unrest and clamor for reaction and chaos. Radical currents
as well as destructive reactionary
elements are coursing through our national life. They are manifest also
in state as well as local affairs.

The forces of Democracy are facing
both national and state as well as local enemies—reactionary forces that
are seeking to gain control of the nation and to tear down the constructive work of the most fruitful decade
in human history. These forces are seeking also to gain control of what is near and dear to the heart of every Democrat—the institutions of a free and sovereign state.
The call to support the Democratic ticket both national and state as well
as local is a call to the defense of
the most constructive achievements
of any political decade in history.
That is why The Herald calls upon
the Democracy of Milam county and
of Texas to rally to the support of the Democratic nominees. It is the
call to adhere to the principles of the
party; to defend them against external aggression and to bind more closely the covenant of our political faiths which has led the party to places of eminence in forming the
works of peace and achieving a grand destiny for our common civilization.

The Republican party and the American party are now the common enemies of the Democratic party.
One is an ancient enemy, the other
a recent entry against the champion, Democracy. Both parties are now
waging an active campaign. If there
be dangers to Democratic chances,
local, state and nation, they must
surely be obvious to observing Democrats and upon them rests the responsibility to awaken the masses

who subscribe to the tenets of Democracy.

The American party is striving to encompass the defeat of the Democrats in Milam county and in Texas.
The platform of the American party
is reactionary, therefore unthinkable
American party platform subscribes
as an instrument of governmental policy in progressive Texas. The
to the "closed shop" doctrine in industry; the American party platform
declares against the Eighteenth Amendment and contains a plank for
the manufacture of light wines and beers. To the forces of Democracy
who have swept the liquor traffic
from the soil of Texas and the nation,
this plank is more than odious and
its triumph is forever impossible because the thrust of an outlawed traffic.

These and many other objectionable features of the American party
platform are impossible from the Democratic viewpoint. The fight must be won. Democratic nominees of Milam county and of Texas must succeed to their respective offices because chosen in a Democratic election
the party and the necessity for the
and because of the achievements of perpetuation of its principles.

This appeal is directed to every Democrat in Milam county and is
said in no spirit of time saving or apology. With us it is Democracy
and the Democratic Party from Alpha to Omega and world without end.

HELP GOVERNOR COX

Governor Cox, Democratic nominee
for president, is receiving little or no
support from his party.

Every Democrat should do his duty
in actively supporting Mr. Cox in his fight for life against the hordes of Republicans and the money they are pouring into the conflict. Regardless of whether or not you agree with everything advocated by Mr. Cox you should lend a helping hand. He is not only fighting his own battles, but
is also carrying the Democratic banner for all members of the party.

While the most essential thing to
do in the campaign is lending support, morally, it is very necessary
that funds be raised to carry the fight
into enemy territory. Republicans
are spending large sums in the "Solid South" fighting Democracy. Democrats must rally with well-chosen words and the weight of money to distribute campaign literature and maintain
speakers whenever needed.

If you are a Wilson man, then support Mr. Cox for old times sake. If you admire the nominee for his own qualities then show your colors as a Democrat.

Funds for the presidential campaign
are being raised in this country now.
—Sweetwater Reporter.

Every good Democratic man and woman in Texas should vote in the general election. On every hand efforts are being made to discourage voting in November—for the most part the efforts being traced to those interested in other parties. It is necessary that a heavy Democratic vote
be cast in November for the state
ticket. Strong pressure is being brought to bear for candidates on the
other tickets; hundreds of speakers
are combing the country districts in
an effort to stir up strife in the Democratic fold and make hay for the
off brand party candidates. Roll up
that majority needed to demonstrate that Democracy covers Texas "like the
dew covers Dixie."

TWENTY-NINE CHURCHES FORM
ENCE ON WORK.

The Milam County Baptist Association, composed of twenty-nine churches, met with the First Baptist Church, Rockdale, October 6, 7 and 8th. The attendance was unusually large and enthusiastic. Through the untiring efforts of Rev. B. B. Blaylock, the retiring moderator, and Rev. C. L. Spradley, the missionary, together with the assistance of the pastors of the field, the work was never better organized nor manifested such progress. The reports from the various churches showed advancement in all lines.

With Rev. C. R. Steward, present moderator, and host for the occasion, the proceedings were extremely orderly and a fine co-operative spirit was conspicuous throughout the entire meeting. The program was lengthy, entertaining and educational. Prominent among the features was Dr. Hardy's talk on "Christian Education." Dr. Hardy is president of Baylor College, Belton. His message was beautiful and forceful.

Mrs. J. L. Johnson, as chairman of the Ways and Means committee, made a most gratifying success of serving dinner, in the rear of the building both Thursday and Friday and lunch Thursday night. Many congratulations were expressed.

The ladies' meeting was well attended and an extremely interesting program carried out. Enthusiastic messengers from many of the churches were present, among them an unusually large delegation from Cameron. Through the courtesy of the Methodists, their house of worship was offered the ladies for their Friday morning session and gratefully accepted. Some of the Methodist ladies contributed their presence and one among them, Mrs. Lee Orr, who formerly lived in Palacios gave a voluntary and highly appreciative talk on the inmates of the "Old minister's Home," in response to the report on "Old Minister's Relief." She especially emphasized their beautiful and congenial spirit. At the afternoon session in the Baptist church extremely instructive and inspirational addresses were made by Mrs. Williamson, district president from Austin, and Mrs. J. W. Byars, superintendent of Women's Training School, Ft. Worth. Mrs. Wm. Henderson of Cameron was re-elected president of the Association, and Mrs. Denson of Cameron was re-elected secretary, and treasurer. Rev. C. S. McClung, pastor of Little River church, was re-elected clerk and Mr. E. A. Flinn, re-elected treasurer.

The Association voted to buy a car to be used by the missionary, Rev. C. L. Spradley, at this time. This purchase is to be made at once and will greatly augment his hitherto inestimable services.

On the whole, the Association was educational and inspirational, enlarging our vision of world needs and emphasizing the fact that we are saved to serve. Jesus said: "The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."—Rockdale Reporter.

Miss Leila Woolley, county tax collector, has completed the tax rolls for 1920, and same have been submitted to the commissioners court and approved by that body. Copies have also been filed with each of the departments as required by law.

The Reporter is furnished with the following summary of the rolls by Miss Woolley:

The rolls show total valuations of $19,051,060, which is an increase of $468,450 over last year.

The general average land value for the county, per acre, is $17.60. The general average for horses is $75, and for cattle, $15.

The valuation of railroad properties shows a gain on their physical assessment, amount not stated.

The banks of the county, both national and state, show an increase in valuations over last year. The total assessments of banks in the county amount to $547,880.

The county has 22 road districts levying a special tax of from 40c to $1.90 on the $100 valuation. Three new districts created the past year.

Aside from Cameron and Rockdale, has five independent school districts.

Four of these levy a special tax of 50c.

The tax rate for this year is 63c on the $100, as against 75c last year.

The county tax rate is 63c, being the same as last year. The total state and county rate is $1.25, as against $1.38 last year.—Rockdale Reporter.

Fordson Farm Tractor

The Fordson tractor was made to meet the demands and necessities of the every-day American farmer. It was made with the thought that it was the necessity of the man of forty acres as well as the man with one thousand acres. It was made not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, drilling, seeding, mowing, reaping, but for all other work on the farm where power is necessary. It was made to bring conveniences to the farmer's home as well as for the cultivation of his fields. It was made to furnish power for the cream separator, silo filling, cutting feed, sawing wood, furnishing power for milking, washing, supplying the house with running water, electric lights, and the one hundred and one other things on the farm. It was made to do all this economically and in a reliable way. It was made to be the big profitable servant on the farm.

And it has not failed in any of the expectations had for it. It's been tested as no other tractor has been tested. It has proven reliable and can furnish proofs impossible to any other tractor. It has done these things not only in America, but in Europe, in Asia, Africa, and in the Islands of the Seas. It has met successfully the demands of farmers in every part of the civilized world.

Therefore, the Fordson Tractor can meet all the conditions of the farm. When you buy a Fordson, you are not buying an experiment—you are buying a servant and a money-maker for you that you can depend upon absolutely from the first day you put it to work. It is easy to understand. It possesses all the power you want. It is simple in control. It is more flexible than you imagine. It will help you cultivate every foot of ground you have, and every day in the year you will find use for it on your farm. Its appeal to the farmer is in its dependable service and the wide variety of work it can do.

We'd like every farmer that reads this, if he hasn't a Fordson, already, to come to us and let us sell him one. Let us demonstrate its powers, its values, on your own farm. Let's go into details—power, reliability, economy. While the sale of a Tractor gives us a small profit, the purchase of a Tractor to the farmer means a money-saving servant every day for years. So the sale of a Fordson means more to the purchaser than it does to us. We are arguing for your good, Mr. Farmer. Come in and talk it over with us. Your time against ours. It is worth it.

And remember, when you buy a Fordson Tractor, we are right here to keep that Tractor in reliable running condition every day in the year. You won't have to wait if anything should get out of order. We are right here to keep it right, because one of the conditions of the Fordson dealer is that he must keep on hand always a complete supply of parts. This is a guarantee we don't believe you can get with any other farm Tractor.

Come in. Let's talk it over.

CRAWLS THROUGH WEEDS FOR SEVEN HOURS AND PICKED UP IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Ft. Worth, Texas, Oct. 21.—After crawling through the weeds for seven hours, leaving a trail of blood behind him, Frank Jones, 42, stock raiser and dairy owner, was found Saturday afternoon in a pasture six miles south of Ft. Worth with a deep gash in the forehead. He is not expected to recover.

Weak from the loss of blood and in a semi-conscious condition, Jones could not relate what had happened to him. How he received his wounds is unknown.

One hundred yards from where he was found was his half-burned five-passenger automobile, which added to the mystery. His shotgun was found about fifty yards from him, but in a different direction from the location of the charred car.

Although both barrels of the shotgun were empty, an empty shell was found nearby with another shell, which showed that one trigger of the gun had been snapped and that the shell fired failed to discharge.

Although the wound appeared as if it might have been caused from a shot gun discharged at close range, some who viewed it believed that Jones had been struck on the head with some kind of an instrument. No evidence of powder burns were found on his face or clothing.

About 7 o'clock Saturday morning Jones left his home to get a calf, which had been brought in with his cattle.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 20.—"The burning of gins and compresses or other cotton and cotton property in the South at this time every year is very common and the unfortunate section of a very few irresponsible persons is merely an incident and does not reflect the sentiment or integrity of the South," N. T. Blackwell, editor of the "Cotton and Ginner," said Thursday afternoon. "There are no more fires this year than any other year and it is merely a hue and cry raised by persons who do not know whereof they speak and are ignorant of the true conditions, and have seized upon the fires occur every season and can no way of expressing themselves. Gin fires occur every season and can no more be prevented entirely than fires in other establishments. There is no ground for assuming that they are of incendiary origin as a whole."

A contradictory opinion was expressed by S. W. English, head of the Fire Prevention Association and former State Fire Marshal, who declared that there have been an unusually large number of fires, particularly among the large compresses and gins.

"Fires among the larger compressors of the State of the best type have been numerous this fall, if my memory serves me right," he said. "Approximately 15,000 bales of cotton have been destroyed by fires in the last three months. At Galveston alone three large plants have been burned since spring, one in May, one in September and another this month. A lot of this is due, I believe, to carelessness in the providing of proper fire prevention. Extreme caution should be exercised in the matter of providing for adequate water supplies that grass and weeds be kept down around the gins to prevent communication of fire by this means. Barrels of water with buckets attached should be maintained at different points on

Asked to express an opinion on the probability of the fires being of incendiary origin, Mr. English would not commit himself, saying that in his present position he had no authority to investigate the origin of fires and hence had formed no opinion in the matter.

THE PRATICE OF SMOKING

Smoking is considered by some medical officers have a mental and physical power to soothe one. It is not the nicotine which is absorbed but by the fact of the cigaret or cigar in the mouth.

Smoking was first introduced into Spain by Columbus and was later made more popular by the appearance in public of Sir Walter Raleigh smoking a cigar. The weed was first cultivated three and his now the leading state in the Union in tobacco production.

There are some diseases which are absolutely hopeless and past cure by any physician or medicine, but they may be palliated and a medicine, if it does not help in one case, may help in another. To any one suffering from a disease a remission is a degree of health and a medicine that relieves or palliates a disease is of great benefit. We can not guarantee to cure any disease with Number 40 For The Blood, but we quote word for word what the ingredients in 40 are recommended for in the U. S. Dispensary and New American Materia Medica: "In the treatment of blood troubles an acknowledged remedy among all schools of physicians, removes the cause of disease, stimulates the removal of waste, thus indirectly encouraging nutrition. Disorders of the nervous system demand this remedy, such as neuralgias, chronic rheumatism, gouty conditions, auto-intoxication, constipation. Used with phenomenal success in eczema and skin diseases, lumbago, glandular swellings, ulcerations of mucous membranes and in general disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and spleen." Prepared by J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. W. S. King, 802 E. 4th St., Pueblo, Col., makes the following statement: "I suffered for a number of years with kidney trouble, sciatic rheumatism and constipation, tried numerous remedies with little or no benefit. I was induced to try Number 40 For The Blood. I found I was benefited from the start, and after taking six bottles received such wonderful and satisfactory results, I am prompted to make this statement." Dallas, Texas, Oct. 20.—"The burning of gins and compresses or other cotton and cotton property in the South at this time every year is very common and the unfortunate section of a very few irresponsible persons is merely an incident and does not reflect the sentiment or integrity of the South," N. T. Blackwell, editor of the "Cotton and Ginner," said Thursday afternoon. "There are no more fires this year than any other year and it is merely a hue and cry raised by persons who do not know whereof they speak and are ignorant of the true conditions, and have seized upon the fires occur every season and can no way of expressing themselves. Gin fires occur every season and can no more be prevented entirely than fires in other establishments. There is no ground for assuming that they are of incendiary origin as a whole."

A contradictory opinion was expressed by S. W. English, head of the Fire Prevention Association and former State Fire Marshal, who declared that there have been an unusually large number of fires, particularly among the large compresses and gins.

"Fires among the larger compressors of the State of the best type have been numerous this fall, if my memory serves me right," he said. "Approximately 15,000 bales of cotton have been destroyed by fires in the last three months. At Galveston alone three large plants have been burned since spring, one in May, one in September and another this month. A lot of this is due, I believe, to carelessness in the providing of proper fire prevention. Extreme caution should be exercised in the matter of providing for adequate water supplies that grass and weeds be kept down around the gins to prevent communication of fire by this means. Barrels of water with buckets attached should be maintained at different points on

Asked to express an opinion on the probability of the fires being of incendiary origin, Mr. English would not commit himself, saying that in his present position he had no authority to investigate the origin of fires and hence had formed no opinion in the matter.

HOPELESS DISEASES CAN NOT BE CURED BY DOCTORS OR MEDICINE

There are some diseases which are absolutely hopeless and past cure by any physician or medicine, but they may be palliated and a medicine, if it does not help in one case, may help in another. To any one suffering from a disease a remission is a degree of health and a medicine that relieves or palliates a disease is of great benefit. We can not guarantee to cure any disease with Number 40 For The Blood, but we quote word for word what the ingredients in 40 are recommended for in the U. S. Dispensary and New American Materia Medica: "In the treatment of blood troubles an acknowledged remedy among all schools of physicians, removes the cause of disease, stimulates the removal of waste, thus indirectly encouraging nutrition. Disorders of the nervous system demand this remedy, such as neuralgias, chronic rheumatism, gouty conditions, auto-intoxication, constipation. Used with phenomenal success in eczema and skin diseases, lumbago, glandular swellings, ulcerations of mucous membranes and in general disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and spleen." Prepared by J. C. Mendenhall, Evansville, Ind., 40 years a druggist. W. S. King, 802 E. 4th St., Pueblo, Col., makes the following statement: "I suffered for a number of years with kidney trouble, sciatic rheumatism and constipation, tried numerous remedies with little or no benefit. I was induced to try Number 40 For The Blood. I found I was benefited from the start, and after taking six bottles received such wonderful and satisfactory results, I am prompted to make this statement." MYSTERY SURROUNDS ATTACK ON RANCHER

CRAWLS THROUGH WEEDS FOR SEVEN HOURS AND PICKED UP IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Ft. Worth, Texas, Oct. 21.—After crawling through the weeds for seven hours, leaving a trail of blood behind him, Frank Jones, 42, stock raiser and dairy owner, was found Saturday afternoon in a pasture six miles south of Ft. Worth with a deep gash in the forehead. He is not expected to recover.

Weak from the loss of blood and in a semi-conscious condition, Jones could not relate what had happened to him. How he received his wounds is unknown.

One hundred yards from where he was found was his half-burned five-passenger automobile, which added to the mystery. His shotgun was found about fifty yards from him, but in a different direction from the location of the charred car.

Although both barrels of the shotgun were empty, an empty shell was found nearby with another shell, which showed that one trigger of the gun had been snapped and that the shell fired failed to discharge.

Although the wound appeared as if it might have been caused from a shot gun discharged at close range, some who viewed it believed that Jones had been struck on the head with some kind of an instrument. No evidence of powder burns were found on his face or clothing.

About 7 o'clock Saturday morning Jones left his home to get a calf, which had been brought in with his cattle.

LONESOME

I am out in California
Where the gentle zephyr blow
Where the pretty golden poppies
And the bright poinsettias grow.

Every pathway strewn with flowers
And with orange blossoms too
Still I'm lonesome, yeat lonely
Longing for my home and you.

Here the sun is always shining
And the climate mild and rare
And the sound of pretty song-birds
Floats upon the air.

People here like happy children
Fill the land with life and mirth
Truly, beautiful California
Is the grandest spot on earth.

You would think I should be happy
Mid environments so rare
But I'm longing for my home town
And I'm wishing to be there.

Friends have given royal welcome
Shown me sights my heart to bind
Still I'm lonesome and I'm longing
For my dear ones left behind.

Soon I'll leave for my old homestead,
Altho humble it may be
Back to home and the old home town
And to those who wait for me.

For I'm lonesome, Oh, so lonesome
In a land that's wondrous fair
After all home's where the heart is
And the ones I love are there.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign You Have
Been Eating too Much
Meat

When you wake up with backache
and dull misery in the kidney regions
it generally means you have been eating
too much meat, says a well-known
authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and
they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them.
like you relieve your bowels; removing all the bod's urinous waste,
else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach
sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic
twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediments, channels often get sore,
water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during
the night.

To the Worshipful Master, Warden
and Brethren of San Andres Lodge,
A. F. & A. M. No. 170, Cameron, Tex-
as:

We, your committee, appointed to draft resolutions upon the death of Brother B. C. Barrett, beg to submit
the following:

Brother Barrett was a native of Alabama, but came to Texas prior to the civil war, and was a soldier of the Confederacy from June 17th, 1862 un-
home for the service the day his first-
child, Brother John W. Barrett, was born, and made a splendid record in
the army.

He was a pioneer settler in the western portion of Milam county, and lived
to see the wild, treeless prairies converted into rich, fertile fields.

Though not intolerant, yet he was
a man of conviction, and when he reached a conclusion, after due consideration, his mind was fixed. He was strong in his belief of right over
wrong.

Death claimed him June 15, at the ripe old age of 86, while living with a daughter at Hempstead, and his remains were buried by the Craft June 17 at North Elm Cemetery, in the community where he had lived many years, and where two wives and other
loved ones had preceded him.

Therefore be it resolved:

1. That the state has lost an honored and useful citizen, and the Craft
a devoted member.

2. That while we feel the loss our Craft has sustained, yet we bow in humble submission to the Will of Him
who doeth all things well.

3. That we extend to the family
our heartfelt sympathy, and commend
solation.

4. That a page of the minutes be set apart for these resolutions, and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.
Fraternally submitted,
JEFF T. KEMP,
J. C. JOSEPH,
JOHN WATSON,
Committee.

In all malarial country the popular

INJUNCTION BEING SOUGHT TO STOP POLL TAX LEVY

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF NEW LAW IS ATTACKED IN HOU- STON COURTS BY SUFF- RAGISTS.

Houston, Texas, Oct. 21.—An injunction against election officials to restrain enforcement of the poll tax
requirements for women in the November 2 election will be sought in district court by several Houston suf-fragists early this week, it was declared today by a local law firm.

It is planned to attack the constitutionality of the recent poll tax law
adopted by the recent special session
of the legislature.

A TOWN RUN BY WOMEN

Texas has the distinction of having a town run entirely by women. The town is much improved since they
have taken a hand in its government.
A clean up day, cleaned all the unnecessary debris from the streets, and
the next thing, they are going to inaugurate stock law prohibiting loose
cattle from roaming in the streets. A street improvement campaign is also contemplated.

Ride on Goodyear Tires in That Sturdy Small Car of Yours

It surprises certain users of small cars to find that they can obtain Goodyear Tires at a first
cost ordinarily not greater, and sometimes less,
than that of other tires.

This initial value, as well as the very low final
cost, results from the application of Goodyear experience and care to their manufacture in
the world's largest tire factory devoted to 30x3-30 x 3 1/2- and 31 x 4-inch sizes.

Such facts explain why more cars, using these sizes, were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind.

If you drive a Ford, Chevrolet, Maxwell, or

GREAT ARTISTS TO PLAY FOR PEOPLE OF CITY FRIDAY

BE HERE UNDER AUSPICES

Through the efforts of the Cameron Concert Band, the people of Cameron and vicinity are to be favored on Friday evening, October Twenty-Second at the Cameron High School Auditorium, with a grand concert by the greatest artists that have ever visited our city. This very exceptional concert is conceded by press and critics to be one of the very best of this season's offerings. Each member of the company has been especially selected for the particular part of the program they will perform. The vocal numbers will consist largely of Gems from the favorite operas given in costume and by artists who have been trained in their art by the greatest masters in Europe, thus bringing to their audiences the real spirit of the Operas. Many of the vocal numbers will have violin obligatos. The violinist and pianist will each give special solo numbers in addition to their ensemble work with the other artists. Their programs show unusual variety in selection, making great demands upon the versatility of the artists. We give below a brief review of the members making up this company.

Mme. Mary Cassel, (Soprano) was born in the State of Maine of French parents. Her early training was received in America but at the very early age she was sent to Paris to pursue her musical education. Graduating from the conservatory she made her debut in concert at the home of the Countess de Fels. For many years Mme. Cassel has given her time to Opera and Concert in both Europe and America. During the season of 1919-1920 she was a distinguished member of the New Orleans Grand Opera Company, the oldest Opera Association on the North American continent. Following the close of the Opera season she made a tour as Soprano with the French Grand Opera Artists. Mme. Cassel has always received the highest commendation, not only for her beautiful voice but for her general musicianship. She is not only vocally and historically a highly esteemed Grand Opera Soprano, but as a concert and oratorio singer she has received the highest praise from distinguished critics.

Mon. Leon Patius (Premier baritone) was born in Brussels, Belgium. From his earliest age he showed his musical trend, beginning his musical studies when a mere child. In due course of time, after passing the stringent entrance examinations, he was admitted to the Royal Conservatory at Brussels. Upon graduation he carried off the First Prize of the Opera, a very high distinction indeed. This in itself was enough to secure for the young baritone the opening necessary for his success. He made his debut the same year at the Grand Municipal Theatre in Tunis. Soon after his debut he was called under a very flattering offer to Nice as Premier Baritone d'Opera. He remained at Nice two years, proof positive of his popularity as their audiences are among the most critical in all Europe. He was called from Nice to Palermo to create the role of Athenael in Thais, achieving there a phenomenal success. The outbreak of the world war caused his return to Belgium to join his army corps. He was made a prisoner by the Bosches and remained so during the German occupation. Although covered with scars and with several citations for bravery, he is absolutely reticent as to his prowess in battle and refuses to discuss this phase of his life. After peace was declared he was engaged as Premier Baritone for the French Grand Opera Company of New Orleans, La., where his success was of the highest order.

Mr. John Corigliano (Violinist).—Strangely enough since the days of immortal Paganini, has there scarcely ever appeared a violinistic genius of the Italian race. Undoubtedly one of the nearest claimants is John Corigliano, a youth born in New York City of Italian parents. In his very early childhood he showed a rare love for music and when nine years of age his playing began to attract unusual interest and parents were urged to give him every advantage in pursuing his musical studies. His musical education has been carried on entirely in America and we are justly proud to claim him as American product. His last teacher was Alois Trnka, with whom he made such strides that upon his debut in Aeolian Hall in New York City, two years ago, he was proclaimed by the press and critics as one of America's foremost violinists.

The pianist with these artists has been selected with especial attention to her ability as an accompanist.

Opera Artists during the spring of 1920.

Sam Houston Normal Institute, Huntsville, Tex., Feb. 22, 1920.
Mr. O. A. Coons, Mgr.,
French Grand Opera Artists,
New Orleans, La.

My Dear Mr. Coons:

It is a real pleasure to me, speaking for the State Normal College to thank you for the visit of the Grand Opera Artists who appeared here in concert last night. The entire audience, consisting of faculty, students and townspeople were lifted to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Never before have we had anything so artistic and enjoyable. It seems unnecessary to speak of the artists singly when each is so eminent in his individual domain. Suffice to say that their presentation, both in the solo and in the concerted numbers, was an unqualified artistic triumph. I should be wanting in appreciation, if I did not mention the graciousness and dignity of these people. Never in my association with artists have I encountered a group of more pleasing personalities. We thank you heartily for the opportunity of hearing these artists and we are unanimous in hoping that we shall be able to have them for a return engagement.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) Charles Cran Stewart,
Chairman of Committee.

The tickets for this concert will be on sale by many of the merchants and business men of Cameron, by members of the band, high school student etc. The price of tickets will be One Dollar for adults and Seventy-Five Cents for school students, war tax extra.

The Lowest Priced Two Ton Truck On The Market

The profit earned by our trucks are the sole basis of judging its worth to you. They depend on operating—economy in fuel, oil, care, service, strain and repairs.

A truck unable to economize in these respects steal profit out of your pocket. Upon ignition depend many truck economy.

Fuel economy because it's fat, sure spark explodes every bit of the gas in the combustion chamber into all possible power.

Lubricating economy—because it means less carbon and reduces the danger of fouling. All of this means less repairs, fewer overhauls. Less time away from work, besides the time over the road.

TRAFFIC TRUCKS is the most complete truck, on the market to overcome these troubles.

We have just received a car of TRAFFIC TRUCKS and will be glad to demonstrate these to you.

NEED OF MANY WORKERS.

It is when we try to inform the people of Texas as to the merits of any measure that we realize that Texas is not really a state—it is an empire. Compare the Lone Star State, with its 252 counties, with its neighbor, Oklahoma, which has 77 counties, or with tiny Delaware, which has three. It soon becomes obvious that to give adequate publicity to even the most meritorious measure, an army of workers is needed.

When we remember, further, that the general attitude in Texas has been to vote against constitutional amendments, we realize that, the patriotic citizens of Texas must go out into the highways and byways to arouse the necessary enthusiasm for the educational amendment to make it the notable exception to the rule its friends all predict it will prove to be.

NATURE OF THE AMENDMENT.

Texas now has a district tax limit of fifty cents on the hundred dollars of property valuation. Only two states, Texas and Virginia, have so low a limit. That of the states of the Union have no limit on the tax that districts may vote for school purposes. The unjust side of this tax limit is that while large cities are exempt from this provision, the village school and the country school are shackled by its terms. The proposed amendment to article 3 of section VII of the constitution will grant the same privilege to all schools—it will permit the country school district as well as the city to vote for its schools such support as it deems necessary.

THE AMENDMENT DOES NOT RAISE TAXES.

The proposed amendment does not raise taxes, nor does it permit any school board to increase taxes. It simply leaves each district free to continue its present support to its schools, or to increase this support, if it chooses. Before any tax can be increased, the rate must be decided by a vote of the taxpayers of the district. This amendment is, therefore, a measure of local self-government.

ATTITUDE OF THE POLITICAL PARTIES.

The state democratic convention of 1920, at its recent meeting at Fort Worth, endorsed the passage of this amendment as a part of the platform of the democratic party. The republican candidate for governor, in a recent address, stated that he would prefer that the people of Texas should fail to vote for him than to fail to vote for this amendment. At this writing, other parties have not expressed their attitude.

A MISTAKEN IMPRESSION.

A few persons have expressed the opinion that, since their districts receive from the state more than they pay to the state, it would be best to vote against the amendment, and let the state support their schools. The mistake in this is (1) that the state can not and will not continue to support those who do not help themselves and (2) that such an attitude is condemned by most of the right-minded patriotic citizens of the state. The four million dollar appropriation was made by the legislature to tide over the emergency until the amendment can pass. The legislature will have no convenient surplus next year, to appropriate; for the tax rate has been lowered. Moreover, many members of the legislature have declared that, if the people vote down this amendment in November, they will make no more appropriations to the schools from the general revenue. Some of them have asserted that they will even vote to discontinue the two-million-dollar appropriation for rural schools. If the amendment fails to pass, the schools will have no recourse. Two thousand of them closed their doors last year. Our teachers will flock to other states, where a living wage is offered. Many have already gone.

STATE SUPPORT THE SAME FOR CITY AND COUNTRY SCHOOLS.

The politician frequently harps on the difference in support of country and city schools. This difference lies in local support. The state gives the same per capita for the country and the city child. It favors the country child, in that it makes a special appropriation of two million dollars for rural schools. While Texas stands tenth in state support of schools, it ranks as forty-fourth in local support. Shall this continue?

OUR RANK IN EDUCATION.

The Russell Sage Foundation in its recent investigation of all the states of the Union ranks Texas as thirty-ninth in education. Shall a state that is first in size, first in agricultural products, third in production of oil, and seventh in wealth be satisfied to remain thirty-ninth in education?

DANGER TO DEMOCRACY.

Texas is about ten per cent illiterate. Twenty-five per cent of our children do not advance beyond the fourth grade. The average is the sixth grade. That means that, in future, we shall have a sixth-grade citizenship. The only safeguard of the democratic institutions founded by our forefathers, the best protection against bolshevism, the wisest economy for the state, is education. Give the country boy and girl a fair chance! Work and vote for the Better Schools Amendment on November 2nd.

Why Not a Fighting Chance?

There is none of America's boasted "equality of opportunity" for the children of Texas today.

Two boys, let us say, are born into the world, equal mentally, physically, and morally.

One goes to school in a shanty, presided over by a poorly paid, poorly educated girl in her "teens" who has no many "grades" that real teaching is impossible. The boy is without the advantages of good books, manual training shops, experimental apparatus, physical examination, physical training, or the inspiration of a well-balanced, cultured teacher of high ideals.

The other boy attends a well-supported two or three-room country school, presided over by professional, experienced teachers. Later he is sent to the consolidated rural high school made possible by the forethought and progressiveness of the community's patrons and trustees. This school is equipped with a good library, shops, gymnasium and a plot for experimental farming. There is a physical director and students are examined so that any incipient eye, nose, throat or other bodily trouble is arrested before becoming chronic.

The two boys, born "free and equal," in neighboring communities reach the age of 24. One, possessing the assurance that is the hand-maiden of wholesome knowledge, has developed into a vigorous, contented, progressive, dependable farmer; an honor to his community, his state, and his country. The other is a shiftless, diseased, dissatisfied, shame-faced ne'er-do-well, a burden to his family and a menace to his community.

Whose is the blame?

Remember that the difference in support of schools rests with the local patrons, not with the state.

The state gives the same per capita to every child in Texas; but it favors the country child in that it makes a special appropriation of $2,000,000 for rural schools.

One of the school supervisors of the state department of education recently talked to a young girl on the train, who lives on a farm in the black land belt. She was a girl of about fourteen, whose square little body and straight-forward sincerity of eye indicated unusual physical and mental strength. She said she loved her farm home although the work of cooking, canning, washing and ironing, sewing and sometimes working in the field was heavy. She did not mind the work, but she wanted more than anything to go to school in order that she might be a teacher.

The family of her best friend had moved to town in order that the children might have good schools, but her father wanted to stay in the country. Then with a catch in her voice she asked, "Why can't we have good schools in the country?"

This question the state superintendent passes to the voters. Those who believe that the country children ought to have as good schools as the city children will vote for the Better Schools Amendment which is a local option measure permitting each school district to make such provision as it chooses for the support of its schools. Most cities now enjoy this privilege under the terms of their charter. The constitution limits the power of country districts.

Let the voters give these districts the power to have good schools in the country.

For Your Earnest Consideration.

School reports show that twice as much money is being spent in the cities for the education of negro children as is being spent in the country districts for the education of white children. Cities are not limited by the constitutional restriction on local taxation. On November 2nd the country districts will be given the same local self-government privileges if the Better Schools Amendment carries.

During the late war one of our boys, returning to camp from an afternoon off, was stopped by the sudden call of "Halt!" from a sentry. "Halt!" exclaimed the soldier. "Don't halt me, I'm a half hour late as it is." So when the mosquitoes cry "Halt!" to the Educational Amendment, we reply, "Great Heavens, men, our state is half a century late with this thing now."

R. E. L. Sherrard of Dallas made arrangements last summer to take a company of Boy Scouts to the harvest fields. The boys were frequently called to get up at an early hour and help with the lighter duties about the farm.

On the first Sunday in September Bobby Wilson, age 11, arrived at the farm. On Monday morning before daybreak he was awakened by one of the farm hands.

"What's the idea of getting up in the middle of the night?" said Bobby. "Hurry up!" said the other. "I'll show you how to milk cows." Bobby sat up with a puzzled expression on his face, gazed thoughtfully into the darkness, then asked: "Do you have to sneak up on them?"

Adult illiteracy is proportionately three times higher among native born children of native born parents than among the native born children of foreign born parents. This indicated the low level of country schools.

Raise the level by voting for the Better Schools Amendment.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Milam County,—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon Pearl Colbert by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Milam County, to be holden at the court house thereof in Cameron, on the 8th day of November, 1920, the same being the 2nd Monday in Nov., 1920 then and there to answer a petition filed in said court on the 2nd day of October, 1920, in a suit numbered on the docket of said court No. 8284, wherein Allie Colbert is plaintiff and Pearl Colbert is defendant, said petition alleging: Statutory grounds of three years' abandonment.

Herein fail not, but have before said court on the first day of the next term thereof, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

You Do More Work.

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

WHY SUFFER SO?

Why suffer from a bad back, from sharp, shooting twinges, headaches, dizziness and distressing urinary ills? Cameron people recommend Doan's stronger proof of merit?

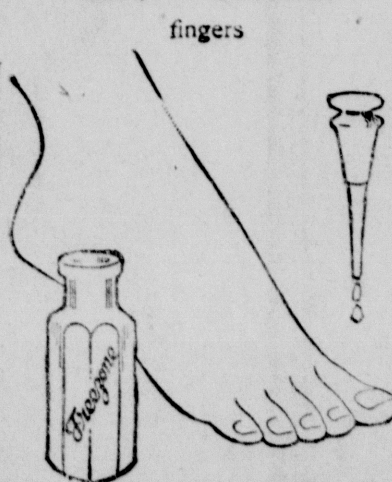

Ask your neighbor.

Melvin Weems, E. 2nd St., Cameron, says: "My kidneys had bothered me more or less for a long time. It seemed whenever I took a little cold or there was a sudden change there was a sediment in the secretions and they smarted and burned in the passage. My back got lame, and the muscles all through me were lame and sore. I had taken all kinds of medicines but didn't get any help at all. I called on the doctor here for advice and he told me to take Doan's Kidney Pills. I followed his advice and got a supply of Doan's and took them as directed. I am very proud to say Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and my kidneys have been strong and in good shape since then. I very gladly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills."

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

To remove bilious impurities in the system and be made internally clean and healthy, you need the fine tonic and laxative properties of Herbine. It acts quickly and thoroughly. Price 60c. Sold by Pace-Marshall Drug Company.

MINIMUM WAGE STATUTE UPHELD

COURT OF APPEALS AFFIRMS JUDGMENT OF HARRIS COUNTY COURT

Austin, Texas, Oct. 14.—The Texas minimum wage law, providing for an Industrial Welfare Commission to fix the minimum compensation for women and minors in various industries in the state of Texas, was upheld by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals today when the court affirmed judgment of the lower court in the case of J. Poye of Harris county, who was fined $100 for discharging Bessie Lee because she testified before the Industrial Welfare Commission.

Poye contended that the law was unconstitutional in that it attempts to confiscate property. This contention was not recognized. His contention that the law violates the obligations of a contract were unsupported, the court saying that contracts must comply with the law as well as express the will of individuals making them and that the appellant knew Bessie Lee might be called to testify before the commission when he made the employment contract.

"We have no doubt," the court said, "that the passage of such a law for the welfare and betterment of the condition of working men, women and children is a matter well within the province of the Legislature."

In sustaining lower courts in the conviction of Oscar H. Ahlberg of Milam county, who was given three years sentence for bigamy, the court recognized the common law marriage and held that the fact that Ahlberg had lived with a woman, presented her as his wife and acknowledged a child born to her as his, constituted marriage and his subsequent marriage to a second woman without divorcing the first constituted bigamy.

YOE HIGH SCHOOL NEARING COMPLETION

The new Yoe high school which has been under construction for some time is nearing completion and it is hoped by the contractors to be able to occupy the building by the first of January. The building will have a large auditorium, seating many people, and it will also have a modern up to date gymnasium, rooms for music, expression and domestic economy, will be in the first floor. Class rooms and the auditorium will be situated on the second floor and third floors.

The black boards are to be made of a slate with trays for chalk of hardwood will be under them. The floors are to be of hardwood and concrete. The entire building will be heated by steam and two radiators will be in each room, insuring genuine comfort for the occupants. When completed the building will be the pride of Cameron and Milam county.

J. E. Johnson & Co. of Waco, contractors for the building of the new Methodist church here, have announced that according to the best of their knowledge the work of tearing down the old church and beginning of the new will begin November 1st. The boards for the forms for concrete and other tools have arrived on the scene.

MILANO NEWS By Chas. Howes.

Milano, Texas, Oct. 12.—Mr. Joe Cook of Andalusia, Ala., is here visiting his brother and sister, Mr. A. J. Cook and Mrs. W. H. Dukes.

Mr. Lang Russell, who is camping on his land near Gause, is in town on account of the serious illness of his stepmother, Mrs. A. S. Russell.

Dr. Wilson of Star, Texas, one of the youngest Confederate Veterans living, both in years—only 73—and in appearance and vigorous manhood, was in town a few hours, calling on old friends. Dr. Wilson was returning from the reunion at Houston and stopped over to visit his son at Gause.

W. W. McCollum has been compelled to sell his business to John W. on account of Mrs. McCollum's bad health.

Dr. Liddell has been quite sick and he is now at the hospital at Waco.

Dr. A. T. Cook of Manor, one of Mrs. M. E. Cook's sons, had the misfortune to have his sanitarium burned about ten days ago. Loss $10,000, partly insured.

Mrs. G. R. Hurt and Mrs. C. M. Beard have both been quite ill.

Mrs. A. S. Russell, an old resident of Milano, a civil war pensioner and a Masonic widow, is dangerously ill with pneumonia.

Rev. Roeber of the Nazarene church and Rev. C. L. Shelby, pastor of the Baptist church, both filled their pulpits on the 10th.

Our townsman, Mr. J. H. Burnett, was interested in the Cameron fire to the extent of 52 bales. Mr. Anderson of Gause, who visits friends in Milano occasionally and who has a farm in the bottom did not lose anything himself but says his mother at Jones Prairie lost 130 bales.

Mr. Talley of the Turner Lumber Co. has recovered her health sufficiently to be back on the job.

Mr. Carmichael, Mr. E. C. Smith's efficient clerk is not on a vacation.

Mr. Tom J. Longino of San Antonio, an old Milano business man, has been with us some this week.

Miss Carmen Robinson has left for Cider Park in Travis county, where her school opens on the 18th.

Miss Ora McClellan will open her school the same day.

Miss Clyde Newton is attending the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Lorella Elan is teaching in her place at Thrall.

Mr. Burnet had two ricks of hay that would have baled out at least 500 bales, burned up this week. He thinks it was set afire, and not only lost the hay, but it was covered with $50 worth of plant sheets.

Grandpa Hildebrandt of Liberty, an old civil war veteran and also noted through a legal technicality, as Milano's only registered alien enemy, was in town this week.

Dr. Taylor, and Mr. Claud McGregor of Cameron were here this week.

The Cameron high school orchestra under the leadership of Mr. P. H. Medsker is making great headway considering the material at hand.

The high cost of gasoline has driven automobile manufacturers to almost desperation. They hope to cope with the situation by placing a fourth gear on automobiles to be used on level stretches and other gears for uphill work.

A Tonic Laxative

that will remove the bile from the Liver and cleanse the System THOROUGHLY without griping or disturbing the stomach is truly a Perfect Laxative.

LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN

is the name of a Reliable and Perfect Laxative which soon relieves Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Stomach Trouble, Gas and Piles caused by a Torpid Liver and Constipation. Always use a Reliable Laxative in the treatment of Colds, Grip and Influenza.

LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN is a Liquid Digestive Tonic Laxative excellent in its effect on the System, both as a tonic and as a Laxative. It is just as good for Children as for Adults. Pleasant to take. As Dead as the Dodo

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tone is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs but a few cents, and if it fails to give easy relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults.

Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tone instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.

Habitual Constipation Cured in 14 to 21 Days

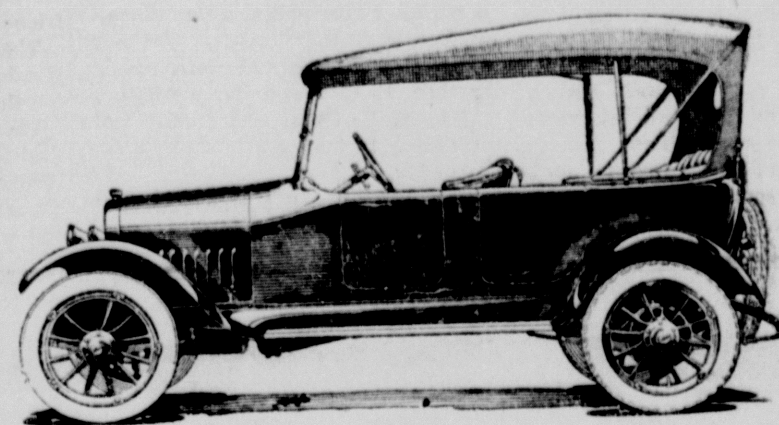

"LAX-FOS WITH PEPSIN" is a specially-prepared Syrup Tonic-Laxative for Habitual Constipation. It relieves promptly but should be taken regularly for 14 to 21 days to induce regular action. It Stimulates and Regulates. Very Pleasant to Take 50c per bottle.

Piles Cured in 5 to 14 Days

Druggists refund money if FAZO OINTMENT fails to cure itching, Band, Bleeding or Protruding Piles. It instantly relieves itching Piles, and you can get restful sleep after the first application. Price 50c.

OAKDALE NEWS
Mrs. S. Hause

Oakdale, Oct. 18th.—Our little community is looking up. Last week Mr. E. H. Ford had a house raising, had a good crowd to do the work, and others to do the cooking. Killed several chickens and lots of other good things to eat, then had enough left to do his family two days. Then last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Baldwin gave a birthday dinner for their two boys Ernest and Leonard, had a very nice crowd and an extra good dinner.

Lee Batey and wife were not there as they are in Bell county picking cotton, and visiting his sister, Mrs. Sterling Childress near Meeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Oneal and children spent the day with her brother John Arledge near Milano Sunday.

We are glad to see that it has begun to rain some, for several of the families have been hauling water for a good while, but we have not enough yet to help them much.

Mr. Thomas Batey has gone to Cameron to hold down a good job at Mr. Bate's gin, and his wife is staying with her father near Rice, Mr. Bill Day.

Hugh Wimberly has gone to Houston where he had secured a fine job. Mr. Highman reported that there had been a little wreck on the railroad near his house and that it would be dangerous for another train to pass without knowing it. I guess they got it fixed all right, for there was another train passed very soon after the message was sent to Milano.

Mrs. Frank Smith of Jacksonville, is with her grandmother, Mrs. Garner, at Preasent. Her husband thinks of coming to Milano and work for his brother, E. C. Smith, for a while.

Mr. A. R. Oneal and family were attending to business in Cameron on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Hause were in Cameron Wednesday and spent the day with his son, John Hause who works at the compress.

Mrs. Hightman is picking cotton for Eugene Hause. After getting through with their cotton picking, they start their children to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hensley and little son, Debs, were to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Angel at Ben Arnold Sunday.

Mr. Ernest Cook went last Wednesday to Fort Worth where he had secured a very pleasant job. He hopes to have his mother and sister with him some time soon.

Master Leonard Bethard came back home the other day to start to school. He had been off some time with his friends.

The Prospect school started last Monday with a very good attendance for the first day.

Mr. Will Addison and wife of Jones Prairie came to Mr. Frank Fasel last Wednesday, brought the children to see their grandparents, the Fasels, and while there he shipped his house hold goods.

Mrs. Lillie Carmichael is among those from Milano who is attending the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tally of Elgin are visiting their son in Milano this past week.

Mr. Frank Boggan came to Milano a few days ago from the Burkburnett oil country where he had been for several months.

Mr. F. I. Haynie and son of Belton were attending to business in Milano last week.

Mrs. Edna Scott returned home to Lott after spending a while with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hooker. Dr. G. B. Taylor stopped with us the other day to get a cool drink of water having been to Christian to do some kind of work.

Mr. Lester Newton, E. C. Smith, the druggist, Mr. E. F. Evard, and a few others of Milano attended the State Fair at Dallas last week.

Mr. J. H. Luce of Milano is in Marlin for his health. Dr. Liddel accom-

MRS. M. A. MAYES DIES IN CAMERON

AGED PIONEER WOMAN PASSES AWAY AT AGE OF 77 YEARS BURIED SUNDAY.

Mrs. Mollie A. Mayes, aged 77 years, and pioneer resident of Milam county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Sapp, in Cameron on Sunday at 1:25 p. m., after an illness of some time.

Mrs. Mayes was a pioneer of Milam county and a devout Christian woman and much of the history of Texas she has seen in the making. She was born in Ansonville, North Carolina, in 1843. She came to Texas with her parents when ten years of age. The family settled in Milam county on the Brazos River. This was in 1853 and since that time her life has blessed the community in which she has lived and her friends everywhere will deeply feel the loss of this sincere and sweet mother character.

She was a member of the Presbyterian church at Maysfield, where services were held as well as at the home in Cameron. Rev. H. R. McFadyen, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Cameron and Rev. Sansom pastor of the Maysfield church conducted the funeral services. Final services were held at the Little River church at Cemetery, where deceased was buried.

She is survived by four children as follows: Mrs. J. H. Sapp, Cameron; Mr. R. B. Mayes, Maysfield; Miss Minnie Mayes, Cameron; Mrs. W. A. Bozeman, Roscoe, Texas; all of whom were here to attend the funeral. Also a sister, Mrs. J. W. Fields of Brownwood; and a brother, B. H. Smith of Austin, who with his wife attended the funeral.

The Herald extends its sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Circle No. 1 met with Mrs. John Mangum with seven n attendance. Mrs. M. G. Cox conducted an interesting lesson on Foreign Missions, the topic being "Mountain of Vision."

Circle No. 2 met with Mrs. W. A. Beal with eleven present. Mrs. Geo. Thomas was leader and an interesting lesson was enjoyed, with "Survey of Missions" as the topic. At the close Mrs. Beal served cream and cake and the ladies enjoyed a social hour.

Circle No. 4 met with Mrs. Wm. Henderson with twelve in attendance. The lesson on the survey of missions was led in a profitable way by Mrs. Wm. Henderson.

AT THE PARSONAGE.

Mesdames Ira Key and R. L. Johnson entertained the ladies of the M. E. Missionary society last Monday afternoon.

The reception suite was as bright and gorgeous as the Indian summer sunsets we have been enjoying. The reception hall and parlor in golden glow, the dining room in pink green's wreath and Paul Terun rose, the dining table covered with a Battenberg cloth over pink.

There were thirty-four present with Mrs. Stacy, of Houston, as honor guest. Mrs. Joe Lindsey was leader and conducted the devotional exercises. Africa was the subject. Interesting stories were told by Mesdames W. H. Triggs, R. H. McIntosh, Howard Baskin, and A. J. Akin, relative to mission work in Africa. Mrs. C. D. Lay and Miss Louise Adams sang solos.

Mrs. Tom Denson read an interesting letter from the wife of their missionary, Mrs. Hardy, of Korea, and displayed a most beautiful Korean garment—a mandarin coat. It was a handsome green silk, lined with old rose, the most striking feature of it was the sleeves, lined in white, embroidered in butterfly design. When worn the sleeves are thrown back to display the lining.

The Koreans wear this garment as a coat, while Americans would use it as a negligee.

Mrs. Hardy sent this coat to be sold for missionary purposes. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mesdames Wharton, Howard Baskin, and Louise Adams, consisting of tongue salad and fruit salad, wafers, sandwiches, ice tea and individual lemon pies. During the serving little Margaret Key recited.

Before separating Mrs. J. H. Hefley, Jr., made mention to the ladies that a special personage was in their midst—that of Mrs. C. A. Dansen, of Knoxville, Tennessee, a former resident of Cameron and who organized the first missionary society in the Methodist church of Cameron.

Mrs. Dawson was asked to lead in a prayer for another absent member, Mrs. Forest Lay, of Itasca, who is suffering with an injured arm, which in all probability may have to be amputated.

Mrs. Plaster closed with a thanksgiving prayer.

HOME MISSION DAY

The ladies of the Presbyterian church met Monday. A prayer band had been organized and they met with Mrs. Mary Henderson, as leader.

After this the subject of home missions was taken up. The conditions in the West was the principal topic, led by Mrs. Henry McFadyen.

Mrs. Jim Watson read an interesting leaflet, and Mrs. Jeff Avara played a solo.

HERE FROM MEXICO TO ATTEND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Mrs. Maris Trevino and daughter, Carmine Trevino, and son, R. Carmine Trevino, and son, Rodolpho Cameron to spend the winter and to take advantage of the school system in the city.

The children of Mrs. Trevino are attending school. They are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stafford while in the city. The fact that these estimable people have been attracted to the Cameron schools speaks volumes for the advantages offered by the Cameron schools.

D. A. R.

Last Wednesday afternoon the D. A. R. met in regular monthly session with the regent, Mrs. B. C. Baskin. An outline of the year's work was read by Mrs. Dow Eplin, and a number of topics discussed to help humanity, the furtherance of patriotism, etc. It was also voted to donate five dollars each to the following causes: Memorial continental hall, Tomasee industrial scholarship, Denton Normal scholarship, and Phillipine scholarship. The ladies will add their forces to the Commercial Club in doing something for the soldiers on Armistice Day.

Mrs. Howard Baskin was hostess to the Priscilla Club last Thursday afternoon. There were a large number of guests and members assembled on this beautiful Indian summer afternoon to enjoy Mrs. Baskin's hospitality.

The home was like a beautiful sunset glow in yellow cosmos. Needle work was the main diversion, with pleasant conversation and bits of harmless gossip. Toward the close of the afternoon Mrs. Baskin was assisted in serving by her two little daughters, Clyde and Lena. Delicious tunc salad, pineapple salad, sandwiches, crackers and iced tea were served. Those present other than the club members were: Mesdames U. S. Hearrell, L. A. Cottle, Tiff Moore, J. C. Tucker, Ira Key, Stacy of Houston, and Claud Thomas.

SUNRISE PICNIC

Saturday morning the "Carrie Yoe Club" of the Cameron high school had an early morning breakfast on the beautiful lake of Mr. W. T. Hefley. Miss Moventhal had charge of the girls with Miss Amelia Williams as guest. A delicious breakfast was cooked, consisting of toast, eggs, bacon. Fruits also were in abundance.

After breakfast the girls had so many good things left that they visited our county poor farm and gave a treat to the dear old folks.

SIGMA PHI-KILCARE

At the home of her aunt, Mrs. Geo. A. Thomas, Miss Clara Thomas was hostess last Friday afternoon to these two clubs.

The home was decorated in red and pink roses, and ferns. Twenty five ladies assembled with their bits of fancy work and a busy hour spent. Mesdames George A. Thomas and Albert Triggs assisted Miss Clara in entertaining and serving. A delicious salad and ice course was served, consisting of Shrimp salad, apricot salad, crackers, olives, nut-bread and pineapple ice.

Those present other tahn club members were: Mesdames L. A. Cottle, Walter Thomas, Albert Triggs, Charles McDermitt, Bill Alex Bonds, Misses Lue Law, Kittie Cain, Willyne Hyde, Roberta Pace, Aetna Smith, Catherine and Helen Flynn.

SYMPHONY CLUB

A DEAF CAMERON KID

All the brightest and best things are not made up by professionals. You all know this boy. At the moving picture shows there are often first and second shows to accommodate the crowds.

Little John wanted to go to the show. Auntie said: "All right, John, but we must go to prayer meeting first, and then we will go to the second show."

Prayer meeting was rather long and John was so sleepy he had to be taken home, but he waked up enough to say: "Auntie, next time let's go to the show first and then to the second prayer meeting."

The Cam-Hi Weekly News

The following should be of interest to the people of Cameron. It is an extract from a letter Mr. Kidd has just received from the University of Texas:

"It develops that the average performance of all the new freshmen in the University last season from affiliated schools in Texas, is represented by the number 4.27, which means that the average freshman passed the equivalent of 4.27 courses with a grade of D.

The freshmen from your school averaged 5.92.

I hope this information will prove of some benefit to you.

Very cordially yours,

E. J. Matthews, Registrar.
CHAPEL NOTICE.

Regular chapel exercises will be held Tuesday and Thursday mornings in the Sunday hall from 8:45 to 9:00. A different teacher will be in charge each morning. Mr. Kidd had charge of the chapel October 19, and Miss Williams, October 21. Miss Bass will be in charge October 26, and Miss Work October 28. The public is invited.

ADDRESSES ASSEMBLY.

In his talk this morning to the Assembly Hall, Mr. Kidd gave out notice that is of interest to the parents as well as students of Cameron. It is as follows:

No excuse for being absent from recitation or school will be accepted, except in case of prolonged sickness. Three or more days will be considered prolonged. The teacher will use her judgment as to whether prolonged sickness is to be excused.

One point for each recitation missed is to be subtracted from the average grade for the quarter on that subject. The teacher is requested to strictly observe this from October 18 to the last day of school, and to subtract for lost time before putting the grade on record book.

The pupil keeping library, those who have an O. K. from the superintendent for absence from class, will receive no deduction for excused time.

GIRLS' CLUB.

The Girls' Club met last Thursday afternoon and enjoyed one of the most interesting programs of the season.

First on the program was the inaugural address given by the president, Miss Joe Smith. Miss Ollie Clinton made a talk on McSwiney, which was followed by a reading by Miss Mary Tyson.

The Club was favored with the beautiful duet "By the Waters of Minneoka," sung by Misses Louise Adams and Florence Butts, with Mr. Billie Clark playing the accompaniment on the violin.

A very interesting play in three acts was then given by some of the members of the club.

Last but not least, ice cream cones with favors painted by Miss Nymphodora Ford were passed to the club members.

CARRIE YOE GIRLS.

The Carrie Yoe girls met in regular session Thursday, October 13th. The program was opened by a poem read by Rosalie Baskin. After this Miss Loventhall made a talk on what she expects of each officer. The club then took up the question of a sunrise breakfast. It was voted upon and carried unanimously that we have the breakfast Saturday morning, October 16th at Hefley's Lake.

DISCIPLES OF SOCRATES.

On the evening of Monday, October 18th, the Disciples of Socrates held their fourth regular meeting. A program consisting mainly of discussions on parliamentary procedure was rendered and since some of the members on the program were absent from the meeting, the Disciples voted at the motion of Mr. Stewart Epperson that any member who should fail to come up with his part of the program three times, should be expelled from membership.

When this question had been settled, the Society turned its attention to the initiation of new members. At the motion of Mr. Robert Massengale it was decided to hold the ceremonies of initiation two weeks later. As there was some doubt as to who would be considered new members Mr. Williams suggested that all those who had gained fellowship after the name of the Society was adopted, would be considered new members, and subject to initiation. The suggestion was adopted and the meeting adjourned by common consent.

ENGLISH NOTES.

The Seniors are now on their guard against three misspelled words, since

D's are getting too plentiful.

Mr. Chaucer had a pleasant meeting with the Senior class, the "Canterbury Tales" was recently staged in the English room in the form of a two act drama. The class actors well represented the fourteenth century characters. A few visitors were present.

THE RESPONSIBLE STUDENT.

Do you know what it is to be responsible—to do your duty without regard for the other fellow? Or do you fail to do what you should, not thinking of the hardship on your neighbor? By thus failing to accept responsibility, you may harm the reputation of the school; but above all you will ruin your character, and that you can not afford.

Then make of yourself a responsible person. Do those things in school that are necessary to the upbuilding of that institution. When you are entrusted with matters, accept the full burden of them. Remember the school is a part of you, and if it is questioned, you are questioned. By failing your school, you fail yourself.

Do not think others will shoulder your cares. You are responsible for that mathematics and that honor system. Others can not think for you. You may be helped by class mates and teachers at times, but if you lay down on the job they will leave you alone. To be self-reliant is to be independent. Are you going to be self-supporting or a charity patient?

The laugh was on Mr. Hefley. Every year Mr. W. T. Hefley has many a duck dinner, the product of his own sharp-shooting on the lake back of his home. Last Saturday little Richard Hefley went to the attic and he took four big green decoys and went to the lake and put them out to be ready for the first norther when the ducks are southward bound. Early on Monday morning Mr. Hefley was walking about the lake and saw the duck. He knew nothing of Richard's visit to the attic. He hurriedly got his gun and fired several shots—shots too that if felt sure must have hit the mark yet the ducks did not move. He drew nearer and found he had hit the mark for the decoys were perforated.

VISIT TO MISS WOLF'S ROOM.

Self-activity and self-direction are at the foundation of education. Froebel's famous precept is "Come, let us live with the children." The visitor saw this kind of direction on this visit to the second grade room.

One class was reciting spelling under the direction of the teacher. The pupils were in the lead, and not the teacher. The teacher directed. The pupils in the other section were directing themselves. They would work quietly, and faithfully. Some were doing one thing, some another, but each child looking for his directions, read carefully then proceed to find the right book and bring the work as directed from bulletin board. All time you see, learning incidentally to read and direct. If the pupil found a word he did not understand, he would go to the dictionary prepared by the teacher and look up the word. Some of the pupils were doing written work as directed by bulletin board, others would be reading, etc. All this was done without the time of the teacher. Every pupil busy and interested. The children are partners in the business.

The great lesson I am anxious that we all get is that this is the beginning of right training. Further, that children are partners in the business of schools.

No suggestions. The room was well handled and according to the right line of development of the child.

Sincerely,
L. H. KIDD.

The begging friar made his appeal to the heart of every one present.

The red headed miller and the knight who was so deeply in love were subjects of much discussion.

The Seniors are beginning the development of the old English drama this week.

Incomplete sentences are fast going out of style with the upper classmen.

The Seniors who haven't become acquainted with Ben Hur are very unfortunate at present.

We can not say that the Senior class is doing all the work, because the Juniors are looking sleepy for having burned much midnight oil.

The ever popular American short story is being studied in the Junior class.

A SUNRISE BREAKFAST.

The Carrie Yoe Girls' Club enjoyed a sunrise breakfast at Mr. Hefley's Lake Saturday morning. About thirty five girls were present with lots of enthusiasm, and ready for a good time. Several loaves of bread, over a dozen eggs, bacon, and milk remained after all had eaten. This food was taken to the poor farm and to a needy family. Each girl went home feeling she had had a good time, and done some good also.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Mr. Hearrell addressed the student body this morning. He gave a very interesting address on the needs of the school. He also complimented the student body on its order and diligence.

Taylor defeated Cameron last Friday with a score of 33 to 0. However, Cameron Hi will show Taylor yet. We never say die.

Where is that yell leader for Cameron? The Cameron students have plenty of pep, but it needs to be directed. Let's have a school song and some yells.

JOKES.

Elmer Self: "Hello. Is this the weather bureau? How about a shower tonight?"

Central: "Don't ask me. If you need one, take it."

Senior to Freshman: "Did you take chloroform?"

Freshman: "No. What period does it come?"

Pauline Green: "I saw Sallie coming out of the bank this morning."

Olive Henderson: "Been in to put money there?"

Pauline Green: "No, she had been in to fill her fountain pen."

Miss Bass: "Porter, write a short theme on the subject of basketball." Porter handed in the next day: "Rain; no game."

SPEED.

Miss Work: "You're the slowest boy I have ever had. Aren't you quick at anything?"

MEETING IN ROCKDALE—

The first quarterly meeting of the Milam County Bankers Association was held in Rockdale Tuesday evening, there being present a representation from nearly all of the banks of the county. The business session was held at the Chamber of Commerce room in the city hall, where a program of interest to those present was had and organization of the Association completed. Among those on the program was Hon. S. M. N. Marrs of the State Educational Department, who spoke ten minutes on the educational amendment to be voted on November 2.

After the business session had been concluded the visitors were escorted in cars to Mineral Park where the local bankers had arranged a barbecue spread. Barbecued beef, pork and mutton was served, with the usual accompaniment of bread, pickles and coffee, all prepared under the watchful care of Mr. A. Longmire. It was one of the nicest spreads ever served in Rockdale, and the visitors were duly appreciative. A feature of the feast was music by the Rockdale band.

The next meeting of the Association will be held at Cameron on the second Tuesday in January.—Rockdale Reporter.

Columbus, Ga., Oct. 12, 1920.
Editor Cameron Herald.

Dear Sir:
Though we are strangers, there was a time—from December 1871 to February, 1872—when I was a citizen of your town: for a time I practiced law, though somewhat like necessity. I knew little or no law; I taught one term, the fall of 1871, school in your town. Doubtless there are some men and women living near you, who as boys and girls were my pupils. The local members of the legal profession then in practice there were: Smith, McGregor, Tarver, Garrett, Homan and Adams; possibly there may have been one or two younger men who were preparing to be admitted, but I kindly remember those whom I have named.

Cameron is a dear place to me; some of the best and dearest friends I have ever met in my life lived in Texas and most of them lived in Cameron and Milam county. I know that nearly all of them long since crossed the River, for they were my seniors, and I have passed my 70th mile post in the journey from the cradle to the grave; am sitting by that river waiting (sometimes anxiously) for old Charon to ferry me across.

I see from the papers that your city has recently had a $1,000,000 fire, and reading this item of news prompts the writing of this letter. When I lived at Cameron it had not attained to the dignity of a city; it could boast of only four or five hundred inhabitants.

I have frequently thought of visiting the places and scenes of long ago, but have been prevented from doing it; it would be sadly sweet—the boy (I was scarcely on the mar-

THOMASON MAY MAKE RACE FOR U. S. SENATE

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 21.—R. E. Thomason, who was defeated in the first primary for the Democratic nomination for governor of Texas, announced yesterday that he might be a candidate for the United States Senate in 1922. Thomason declared that many of his friends are urging him to make the race for the place of Senator Culberson, but that as yet he had not reached a decision.

The amazing extent to which rubber enters into the application of power on the farm was strikingly revealed by the Goodyear mechanical rubber goods exhibit at the National Tractor Show at Verdugo Woodlands, Los Angeles, last week, and also at the recent State Fair at Sacramento.

Klingtite belting for tractors, gasoline hose, steam hose, hose for spray rig, packing for gas engines, packing for cold water and steam, suction hose and automobile radiator connections are among the standard rubber products made by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company which were on exhibit at the big power farming exposition, and many power users familiar with the company's standards of manufacture as applied to tires and tire accessories took advantage of the opportunity to inspect the complete line of mechanical goods put out by the big tire company.

An exhibit of unique values at the State Fair was the power conservation exhibit of a large California electrical and mechanical engineering company, which demonstrated the correct use of rubber belting in operating pumps, cream separators, washing machines and other farm machinery by power.

The exhibit not only showed rubber belting used to transmit power to various farm labor saving devices, but furnished detailed information to farmers on lacing belts properly, figuring pulley speeds and sizes, arranging pulleys for the proper form of drive, lining up hangers for shafting, and the correct care of belts.

One of the oddities of the state fair was the freak performance of an Avery Yellow Fellow thresher, which made hamburger of all the scrap bricks and lumber that could be fed into it during the two weeks of the fair, thereby demonstrating the immense strength and enduring qualities of its "insides." A 150 foot, 2-inch 5 ply Klingtite endless farm belt was used to transmit power from an Avery tractor to the thresher.

I desire in this public manner to invite the attention of the people to my candidacy for the office of tax assessor for Milam County. I am the regular nominee of the American Party for such office in this county. I am 32 years of age, was born in Milam County, and have lived in this county all of my life with the exception of about three years. I have always been a Democrat and affiliated with the Democratic Party until the present year, but the policies pursued and the legislation enacted by that party in recent years has led me to the conclusion that it is no longer a party pledged to the best interest and welfare of the people, and I have, therefore, renounced my allegiance to the Democratic Party and given my allegiance to the American Party.

If the people of Milam County shall endorse my candidacy for the office to which I aspire, I pledge them in advance that I shall bring to the discharge of the duties of such office a fair, honest and intelligent intention and purpose to serve the people without fear or favor toward any, and I promise you in advance that all of the property in this County shall be assessed, and that it shall be fairly and efficiently done, and can be done without the aid or assistance of any block map of any other contrivance to be paid for out of the public funds.

Therefore, I have submitted my candidacy to the good people of Milam county among whom I have lived all my life, and shall be grateful to them for their endorsement and support in the coming general election.

Faithfully yours,

CLEVE McCALL.

(© 1920, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"There comes John down the street. Oh, dear! I wonder what is the matter with him lately. He is getting more silent and sober every day."

Mary's brown eyes watched wistfully as a big, blue-eyed, straight-shouldered young man approached the house.

"Spring again," she sighed. "I thought surely by this spring I would be nest-building. John is earning enough now and I am so tired of the long days in the office, when I am just aching to be planting a rosebush by my own door."

The bell rang and Mary hurried downstairs and opened the door. She looked so dainty and shining as she smiled up at him that bashful John Blake's heart almost choked him.

"He looks so kind and good," thought Mary, who had battled for her living since a child.

"She looks fit to be a princess," thought John, who felt nothing was quite good enough, himself included, to offer the exquisite girl before him.

"Shall we walk on the avenue?" asked John.

"Very well," quietly agreed Mary.

Suddenly John stopped before a large gray stone house, set in spacious lawns and surrounded by an iron fence.

"There a house good enough for anyone," he said, soberly, "but it would take years to get money enough for a house like that," and he sighed. "Do you like it, Mary?" he asked anxiously.

She looked up at John, eager to please him, and bring back the contented smile to his eyes. Instead of smiling in return, he stared at her gloomily and said: "I knew you would like it, and it is just the kind of a house you ought to have."

Surprised at the dejection of his tone, Mary looked at him earnestly and noted the troubled eyes and worried lines on his forehead. A sudden thought came to her, and she replied thoughtfully:

"Yes, it is splendid, but what would a little thing like me be doing in a big mansion like that? Sure, I'd be lost in it, and it's not my idea of a home. I'd rather have a little gray cottage at the edge of the woods than this pile of prosperity on Rich Man's avenue," and she laughed gaily.

John shook his head doubtfully, and before he could speak she continued:

A pink color flushed her cheeks, and her eyes were bright with happy sparkles.

From the old street they sauntered past little white cottages and big gardens, past green fields and woody spaces until they saw the moon smiling over the river in the distance.

"Oh, here is the old Dean place, and it's for sale," exclaimed Mary in apparent surprise. "Do you know, I think that is a great bargain for some lucky person?"

"I don't know," said John, doubtfully, yet looking with interest at the little gray house with its big piazza, its many windows and tiny orchard in the rear.

"See how it nestles into the ground," smiled Mary. "Isn't it a dear little house?"

"It's quite old, and needs repairing," said John pessimistically, but his eyes eagerly took in the cozy look of the place and his intent face showed he sensed its possibilities.

"Oh, yes, of course," agreed Mary, practically, "but a handy man with a little spare time would easily repair it. I can just see it with ruffled curtains at the windows and flower beds along the walk, with a hammock swinging on the piazza and a big chair near by. It would be profitable, too, for there's plenty of fruit and a nice place for hens. Well, I suppose some lucky couple will buy it," she ended with a sigh as she turned away and studied the moon.

John's face was alight as he stood staring at the little gray house, and his eyes were bright and eager. He squared his shoulders and drew Mary up to the steps as he said quickly: "Have you seen the rooms? Is it livable inside?"

"Yes, I went over it with my cousin a while ago," said Mary, indifferently, after a glance at his face. "It needs only some paper and paint, and the rooms are small and sunny, and do not need much furniture. It faces the river, doesn't it?" she said, dreamily. "How pretty it must look on a summer night when the moon is shining and the water all gold and silver and the roses in bloom and the place like a little gray nest of a home."

"Oh, Mary, Mary, do you really think so?" asked John as he gripped her hands. "I love you so, dear, but I wanted to offer you more only it seemed so long to wait. I can't stand it now, dear, any longer. Since you made such a home picture of this place, could you love me and be happy here, Mary?"

"Yes, John," answered Mary as she exchanged a wise look with the moon, and with a happy sigh of relief snuggled down into the safe haven of John's broad shoulder.

BRADBERRY HEADS L. S. PIERCE STORE

YOUNG ROBERTSON CO. BUSINESS MAN NOW WITH CAMERON BUSINESS FIRM.

C. W. Bradbury, young business man of Navasota, has taken charge of the Louis S. Pierce dry goods store in Cameron. Mr. Bradbury succeeds J. F. Braun as manager of the Cameron business.

Mr. Bradbury is a native of Robertson county, and during all of his active business career has been engaged in the dry goods business. Mr. Bradbury has been with the Louis S. Pierce stores for more than a year holding a responsible position.

Mr. Bradbury has resided in Robertson county all of his life and recently became a resident of Navasota. He declares Cameron is the best business town in Central Texas and that it has many decided advantages over other cities and that he is glad to become a citizen of Cameron.

Mr. Bradbury has the best wishes of his friends to succeed here and is welcomed as a factor in the business life of the city.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost pound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

THIEVES STEAL FAN USED BY M. D. FOR PATIENTS IN OFFICE

Thieves are indiscriminate in their unholy occupation. So thinks Dr. G. B. Taylor, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist in Cameron.

Recently Dr. Taylor was called to Crissman to attend a patient and on his return discovered that thieves had entered his office and made away with a large electric fan used for the comfort of sick people who visit the doctor's office for consultation. The doctor thinks the worst sort of thief is one who would take an electric fan used for the comfort of patients. And who will deny that the Doctor is right about it?

Auditorium Theatre

Our Opening Week was most gratifying to the management. Our patronage was far beyond our expectations.

We appreciate this all the more because we were not really ready to do our best work, and our patrons were necessarily more or less inconvenienced.

We are placing our seats permanently, with more aisles, so there will not be so much inconvenience in getting in and out.

We are also improving our musical programs, and have everything working very smoothly now.

Also "The Big Happiness," with Wm. Farnum Thursday is a great picture.

The actual Value of the Little Studebaker Six

Has never been so clearly recognized as it is right now

A market such as this always brings in sharp relief values that are really sound.

It shows which cars are over-priced and which cars are worth every dollar asked for them.

It makes plain just how low priced the Studebaker Six is in comparison with those cars which even approximate it in cost. The soundness of Studebaker policies has been demonstrated.

We have on hand some new Studebaker Little Six Cars—and will be glad to demonstrate these to you.

Buy a season ticket for $4.00—16 days and nights—every day and every night big features and any of them worth the price of an entire season ticket.

Afternoon, 2:30, Bohemian entertainment in Coliseum and address by a noted speaker.

Don't fail to visit the War Path

the first week, and remember that all shows on the War Path will be entirely new and different the second week.

Night, 8:00, Second night Grand Opera, presenting "Lucia di Lammermoor." Bear in mind that the world-famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company, with its one hundred world-famed celebrities, will present a different opera each night up to and including Saturday night, and two matinees this week.

Thursday, November 4th, morning, 9:30, Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum. Live stock will be judged on this day. See the large exhibits of live stock from all parts of the country—the Poultry Show, Rabbit Show, etc. Government Agricultural Exhibits, County Exhibits, West Texas Exhibits, East Texas Exhibits, North Texas Exhibits, South Texas Exhibits, etc.

Afternoon, 2:30, World-famous San Carlo Opera Company presents the opera "Faust."

Night, 8:00, Third night of Grand Opera, presenting "Aida." The Texas Cotton Palace Coliseum seats 10,000 people and people from all parts of the state have already signified their intention of bringing their families to witness various operas as scheduled on this program by the San Carlo Grand Opera Company of New York. Reserve your seats now.

Friday, November 5th, morning, 9:30, Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum. Live stock will be judged on this day. Don't fail to see the Live Stock, Agricultural Exhibits, Poultry Show, etc. See the big Farm Machinery Exhibits and the many Mercantile Exhibits in the Main Building. See the exhibit of Overall Manufacturing from start to finish. Visit the Women's Departments. Every feature new and different—a complete change and an educational feature that eclipses anything of the character ever presented in Texas.

Night, 8:00, Presentation of Grand Opera, "Madam Butterfly." Every presentation is different; the operas were selected by the votes of people from all parts of Texas, voting for seven operas from a selection of twenty.

Saturday, November 6th, Traveling Men's Day, Girls' Canning Club Day, Deaf Mutes' Day, West Texas Chamber of Commerce Day, A. & M. Day, football game.

Morning, 9:30, Examination of babies in the Better Babies Conference, Coliseum.

10:30, Traveling Men's parade on downtown streets.

11:00, A. & M. Cadet Corps parade on downtown streets. Live stock will be judged on this day. See the Automobile Exhibits—one entire building devoted to the Auto and Truck show.

Afternoon, 2:30, Football game between A. & M. College and Baylor University. The greatest game scheduled in the Southwest this year.

2:30, Grand Opera Matinee presenting "Tales of Hoffmann." Every school child in Texas should have the opportunity of witnessing Grand Opera, and the Texas Cotton Palace management have arranged this Saturday Matinee of the famous San Carlo Grand Opera Company for this purpose. Go and take the children.

Night, 8:00, Grand Opera, the farewell presentation, "Il Trovatore." The Texas Cotton Palace Exposition is the first in America to stage Grand Opera, bringing the world-famed San Carlo Grand Opera Company with its one hundred world-famed artists direct from New York City to Waco for the purpose of this presentation. Grand Opera is educational, entertaining and highly attractive. Thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of the finest and most costly scenery has been transported to Waco for this brilliant presentation, and the immense stage in the great Coliseum makes possible a presentation of Grand Opera that is not eclipsed even in the world-famous Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Sunday, November 7th, afternoon, 2:00, Auto races, world-famed speed demons in high-powered racing cars competing for the largest money purses in the history of the Exposition.

Night, 8:30, Band concert in the Coliseum—McDaniel and Harris Band.

All Coliseum attractions during the second week are free.

Monday, November 8th, Rotary Club Day. Featuring Special Children's Entertainment and at night the pageant "The Glowing Cross."

Morning, Visit the Women's Department of the Texas Cotton Palace. Rich and rare exhibits that will interest everyone. Every feature from beginning to end is entirely different from that of the Women's Department of former years—many educational features that will delight every member of the family. The Women's Department represents the work of months on the part of the Women's Committee, and not a detail has been overlooked that could be added to make this the greatest achievement in the history of this department of the Exposition.

All War Path shows are new for this second week.

Afternoon, 2:30, Grand Baby Show in Coliseum and Mother Goose's Court Reception—the delight of the little folks.

Band Concert—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00, Fireworks, "Hawaiian Nights," and Ballet Dancing in front of the Grand Stand.

8:00, A feature night Coliseum attraction, an entertainment on a most elaborate scale, presenting a pageant called "The Glowing Cross." No extra charge for this Coliseum feature. Informal dancing.

Tuesday, November 9th, Queen's Day and Night—The formal presentation of the King and Queen of the 1920 Texas Cotton Palace.

Who will be the Queen? No one will know until her presentation at the coronation ceremonies on this night. The Queen's Ball and Coronation Ceremonies this year are to be the most gorgeous of any event ever held anywhere. At the request and invitation of Gov. W. P. Hobby of Texas, the various Governors of the different states of the Union have designated young ladies from their respective states as Princesses to the Queen of the Texas Cotton Palace, and these Princesses are to be present in person with their maids. This is a great compliment paid to the State of Texas by the other states, and especially a compliment to the Texas Cotton Palace Exposition, for it makes the Queen's Ball and Coronation Ceremonies an event of nationwide importance. In addition to the Princesses from the visiting states, there will be a Princess from the District of Columbia and a Princess from Texas and Duchesses from throughout the State of Texas. No extra charge will be made for this great Coliseum attraction.

Afternoon, 2:30, Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00, "Hawaiian Nights," Fireworks and Ballet Dancing in front of Grand Stand.

8:00, Coronation Ceremonies, presentation of the Court of the Texas Cotton Palace, visiting Princesses, Duchesses and Court features, followed by the brilliant ball in honor of the Queen and participated in by people from all parts of the United States. No extra charge will be made for this Coliseum feature.

Wednesday, November 10th, afternoon, 2:30, Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band. See the War Path shows.

Night, 8:00, Fireworks and Ballet Dancing before the Grand Stand.

8:00, Shriner's Night. Special features by Karem Shrine, followed by Shrine Ball. No extra charge will be made for this Coliseum feature.

Thursday, November 11th, Society Ball Day, Armistice Day, American Legion Day.

Don't fail to inspect the Automobile Exhibits—Pleasure Cars and Trucks. One entire building devoted to Auto Display. See the Farm Machinery Exhibits, visit the War Path and see the new shows. Visit the United States Agricultural Exhibit; see the State of Texas Agricultural Exhibit by A. & M. College. Visit the Women's Departments, see the many mercantile exhibits. The Texas Cotton Palace is one of the greatest educational events in the South, and with the educational features are combined high-class amusements and entertainment features that make it the most unique exposition in this country.

Afternoon, 2:30, Band concert in Coliseum—McDaniel & Harris Band.

See the Textile Exhibits—Cotton converted from the raw product into the finished fabric—Hides converted into shoes, etc.

Night, 8:00, Society Ball, the great social event of Texas, and this year many of the Princesses and Duchesses to the Queen's Ball will remain for this great society event. The committee in charge have planned for many entertaining features and a brilliant event that will rival any society feature and decorative effect ever presented in the great Lone Star State. No extra charge to witness this Coliseum feature.

8:00, Fireworks before the Grand Stand. Special Armistice Day Fireworks Display. "Hawaiian Nights" and Ballet Dancing.

Friday, November 12th, Women's Day, All McLennan County Day.

This is set aside as Women's Day. You'll find the many exhibits in the Women's Departments especially worthy of your inspection. Never have the exhibits in this department equaled the displays of 1920. They show clearly the immense amount of work and the painstaking effort that has been put forth by the Women's Committees of the Texas Cotton Palace to achieve this remarkable success.

Afternoon, 2:30, Special Coliseum program, participated in by communities from all parts of the county followed by concert by McDaniel & Harris Band.

Night, 8:00, The Women's Day program will close with one of the most entertaining features of the entire Exposition, a presentation entitled "The Crop?" No extra charge for this Coliseum attraction.

Fireworks and Ballet Dancing in front of the Grand Stand.

Informal dancing in Coliseum.
